"It does not seem likely that it will be practical to bring an ex-service man of temporary experience into the conference because of the very limited number in the delegation, and the further fact that the larger military and naval information necessary to justify prudent action will necessarily come from time to naval and military problems." After commenting on the Secretary Hughes as head of the deleganbers, Mr. Harding said :

"Because the matter is wholly patriotic and national in scope, I should be very much dissatisfied if I could not have outstanding representation of the present minority in Congress."
