MURDERED WIFE'S NEPHEW IS FOUND IN MOUNT HOLLY

Tells of Quarrel Aunt Had With Dobson Morning Crime Was Committed

RUNNEMEDE HIGHLANDS MAN SEEN IN CAMDEN

The flight of George Dobson from his bungalow at Runnemede Highlands, N. J., following the murder of his wife Thursday morning, has been traced as far as the Camden terminal of the Pennsylvania Railroad through the location of one of three children Dobson took with him.

Nine-year-old John McKeown, a nephew, who was being reared by the woman beaten and choked to death, has been found at the home of his grandfather, Edward Prince, Water street, Mount Holly.

From his story of the flight of George Dobson, County Prosecutor Wolverton believes Mrs. Dobson was slain in bed while the nephew, his seven-year-old sister, Barbara, and Dobson's son, Raymond, were asleep in an adjoining room.

John McKeown told the police he was awakened early Thursday morning by the harsh voice of Dobson, who quarreled with Mrs. Dobson. The nephew of the slain woman did not see her at all Thursday morning, he said.

Took Trolley For Camden

After the children had risen and dressed, Dobson hurried them from the bungalow at 9:30 o'clock. He took all three across the fields and through the woods to a place, where he boarded a trolley car for Camden.

At the Camden terminal of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Dobson told the children and his wife, Barbara, to go to Clayton that day to see about a house.

The nephew said Dobson asked him if he would like to go to Clayton alone or go to the home of his grandfather at Mount Holly. He asked his wife's niece, Barbara, the same question.

The nephew said he wished to go to the grandfather's home, while Barbara said she would remain with Dobson. The man then bought a ticket for his nephew and placed him on a train for Mount Holly.

Several Officials at the Camden Terminal Saw a Man Tallying with Dobson's Description

They also saw a woman believed to have been Raymond Dobson, and a little girl in a pink dress, as described in Mrs. Dobson's will.

BODY OF SHACKLED ATHLETE IN RIVER

B. J. Daugherty, Former Philadelphian, Killed—Companion Also Believed Slain

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Dynamiting on the Desplaines River, Maywood, a Chicago suburb, was in progress today in an effort to recover the body of Carl Ausmus, companion of Bernard J. Daugherty, automobile salesman and athlete, whose shackled and mangled body was found in the river yesterday. Ausmus has disappeared and is believed to have suffered a fate similar to that of Daugherty.

Detectives expressed the belief today that Daugherty and Ausmus had been lured to the basement of a house in Maywood, where they had been killed, and the bodies mangled together with handcuffs weighted with stones and tossed into the river. Detectives believe that the handcuffs broke, allowing Daugherty's body to be carried to shallow water.

Harvey W. Church, a twenty-year-old railroad brakeman, was being brought back to Chicago today by a special train. He was arrested yesterday, when he made the trip in the automobile which Daugherty had been trying to sell him. Mrs. Church was not arrested.

Daugherty, a former football star of Harvard, and a resident of St. Paul, came here a short time ago from Philadelphia as salesman for the Packard Motor Car Company. Daugherty was picked by Walter Camp in 1901 and 1902 as the best end on the All-American football team, and also was well known as an amateur distance runner.

Church, according to officials of the Packard Company, bought a car which he said was for his father, Daugherty's late neighbor, a former professional baseball player, and was about twenty-eight years old at the time. Daugherty came here from Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Gorman was preparing this morning to greet the President, accompanied by her son, Thomas P. Gorman, a clerk in the office of the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

The President is expected to arrive in Atlantic City about 7 o'clock tonight.

SECRETARY HOOVER ALONG

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Harding will leave here at 1 o'clock (2 o'clock Philadelphia time) by auto for Atlantic City. He will spend two or three days at the New Jersey shore resort, which he was unable to visit on Labor Day because the presidential yacht Mayflower was prevented by a storm from docking.

After his visit at Atlantic City the President plans to pick up the Mayflower somewhere along the coast and cruise for a few more days, returning to Washington the latter part of next week.

Guests invited by the President and Mrs. Harding for the week-end included the Secretary of Commerce and State, Hoover, the Under Secretary of State and Mrs. Fletcher, George Van Fleet, publisher of the President's newspaper at Marion, O., and Mrs. Van Fleet.

The President plans to play golf at Atlantic City and enjoy the resort's pleasures in other respects. He also will probably see Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, with whom he was unable to visit when the Mayflower was kept off the coast last week by heavy weather.

Some business was to be transacted by the President during his trip. He hoped to complete plans for the coming conference on unemployment with Secretary Hoover, who has the conference immediately in charge.

The automobile trip to Atlantic City was decided upon, it was said, to make sure of reaching Atlantic City and also because Mrs. Harding is not regarded as a good sailor in heavy seas. No stops on the motor trip to Atlantic City were planned.

ATLANTIC CITY, SEPT. 10.—MISS MARGARET GORMAN, "MISS WASHINGTON," CROWNED NATIONAL BEAUTY QUEEN HERE AT THE CLOSE OF THE TWO-DAY PAGEANT, WILL SEE PRESIDENT HARDING ON THE OCCASION OF HIS LATTER VISIT HERE TODAY AND TOMORROW.

Miss Gorman was preparing this morning to greet the President, accompanied by her son, Thomas P. Gorman, a clerk in the office of the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

The President is expected to arrive in Atlantic City about 7 o'clock tonight.

"BUYS" AUTOS BY DOZEN AND SPEEDS INTO TROUBLE

Liberal Purchaser of Cars Finally Parks in Central Station

Free auto rides, large and fancy dinners and the general life of a man-about-town at the expense of others landed John Martin, Spruce near Twelfth street, in front of Magistrate Renshaw in the Central Station this morning—but it was good while it lasted.

Martin's happy career was brought to an end by James Martin, advertising manager of the Stanley Company of America, who said Martin had a loud car. He had been annoyed for the last few days by dozens of motorcar concerns asking him why he did not come up and sign the final papers on the dozens and dozens of high-priced cars he was buying for his company. As James Martin, for himself or the Stanley Company, had no idea of buying cars, the calls, to speak mildly, were irritating. So he got on the job and discovered John.

John had been using James' name in vain, even had cards printed, and was buying autos by the dozen. At least he was leading auto salesmen to think that he was going to buy them in quantity and they were responsible for the wiring and dining room furnished. Just to complicate matters he had passed a bad check on one concern, as initial payment for a car in the sum of $500, and had charged up a small taxi bill of $8 in the name of James.

Magistrate Renshaw was sufficiently interested in John's "white light" career to hold him in $1000 bail for further hearing September 15 in order that other details of his gay life might be looked into.

TROLLEY KILLS CHILD

Eighteen-Month-Old Boy Loses Life in Front of Home

While running after his sister, William Peone, eighteen months old, ran directly in front of a trolley on Monday afternoon at 53 car in front of home, 1310 South Thirteenth street, this morning and was killed.

The child was pinned under the car. His sister, Catherine, five years old, shrieked frantically as neighbors made an effort to extricate the boy.

The crew of a trolley repair wagon removed the child from under the car. The little victim was rushed to St. Agnes' Hospital, Broad and Mifflin streets, where he died soon after being admitted.

German Coins Even Fall Below Penny for Time

New York, Sept. 10.—(By A. P.) German marks sold for less than a cent apiece in the foreign exchange market here today.

After opening at 0.93 cent they advanced to one cent flat, which figure represented an overnight decline of 0.0225 cents.

STRAW HATS ARE DOOMED

Colder Weather on Way, Forecast Says

Washington, Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—Summer was on the wane today. Weather Bureau officials said so and forecast their statement with formal forecasts of "frost," "colder," "much cooler" and "cooler" for the northern portion of the country.

Temperatures which ranged around freezing or below early today in Montana and Wyoming are expected to fall tomorrow in the Middle West States, and before the new week gets far under way there will be a change for the cooler. The decline in temperature will not be so decided east of the Mississippi, but Bureau officials said it ought to be enough to bring about the end of the straw hat.

Weather Bureau officials said there will be little likelihood that the heavy rains which brought flood conditions today to San Antonio and other Texas points, would be experienced elsewhere.

18 Shirtwaist Workers in Court

Fifteen men and girls, said to be shirtwaist sympathizers, came in today for their first hearing in Magistrate Renshaw in the Central Station this morning. The charges were all similar to those which come up in the court every morning in an effort to keep the city free of disorderly conduct, in violation of the law.

Some of the prisoners were held, some held for court and others discharged with a warning.

ZENZO SHIMIDZU WINS TWO SETS IN TITLE TENNIS

Japanese Star Holds Big Lead on Marshall Allen in Opening Match

FEW SPECTATORS ON HAND FOR SECOND DAY START

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL
Special Editor Evening Public Ledger

Zenzo Shimidzu, the little Japanese player who gave Tilden such a thrilling match in the challenge round of the Davis Cup, started the second day's play in the national lawn tennis championships on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club, Manheim, at noon today against Marshall Allen, the youthful star from Seattle.

Allen, who played under the fire from Shimidzu's racket in the first set, but lost, 6-3. Shimidzu's placements were too much for the Westerner in the second set, and the Japanese won a love set.

The Pacific coast boy played great tennis in the third set, and carried the game right to the Oriental representative. The games switched first from one to the other, and were all even when they started the fifthth game.

The 12 o'clock whistles were blowing in near-by factories when Zenzo Shimidzu, of Japan, wearing his funny little hat, toddled out on the court to battle with Marshall Allen, of Seattle. Allen is one of the best junior players on the coast, but that meant nothing today. He was expected to lose.

Crowd Slow in Arriving

As is always the case, the crowd was slow in making an appearance. When the opening match began, not more than two hundred spectators were in the stands. Tennis fans do not allow their favorite sport to interfere with their luncheon.

The slim audience was treated to some rare tennis in court No. 1 when Shimidzu started to work on his youthful opponent. The little Jap kept banging the ball over the net to back court, seldom ran forward and played to Allen's back hand. The volanter found it difficult to keep the ball out of the net or inside the lines, and lost the first two games. He won the third, but Shimidzu took the fourth, making the score 3 to 1.

The fifth game was hotly contested and went to deuce three times. Both volleyed well, and the spectators were astounded at the wonderful defensive game put up by the little athlete from Nippon. He rushed all over the court, made almost impossible returns, piced the ball past him.

Once the youngster made a return from the back court. The ball hit the top of the net and fell on the other side. The volunteer found it difficult to count as a certain point, but Shimidzu sprang, reached the ball and made a beautiful placement shot for the game point.

Allen Rallies

Shimidzu ran Allen all over the court and soon had the score 5 to 1. The Pacific Coast star pulled himself together in the seventh game and won after the Jap had carried the score 6 to 2. He also took the eighth on Shimidzu's serve, 4 points to 1. Shimidzu grew a trifle careless and netted many of his returns.

Allen played better in the next game and scored the first three points on his opponent's errors. Two were in the net and the other of bounds. Then the youngster netted three and knocked Allen out of bounds, giving the Jap the advantage. After a volley Allen walloped another to the net and Shimidzu won the first set, 6-2.

Shimidzu quickly won the first three games in the second set, but did his best work in the second. In this Allen had him all over, but the youngster won the set 4 to 2. He also captured the next two on brilliant placements and took the final game, 4 points to 1, winning a love set.

Third Set Thriller

Allen was in better form in the third set and won the first game. Shimidzu evened it up, but the youngster won the next two, giving him the lead, with three games to one. The advantage was short-lived, however, as Shimidzu annexed the next pair, squaring the score.

TUSTIN IN BREAK WITH DR. FURBUSH

Dispute Over Care of Mental Cases May Cause Changes in Cabinet

MAYOR WILL INTERFERE

An open controversy has broken out between Director Tustin of the Department of Public Welfare, and Director Furbush of the Department of Public Health, that may result in some changes in the Mayor's Cabinet. The row was made public by a statement written yesterday by the Mayor and issued by him today.

The Mayor's statement said that "an acute situation" had arisen between the two departments that the Mayor might be called on to decide speedily. He added that "upward of two hundred feeble-minded, idiotic and epileptic public charges were suffering through this difference of opinion."

The trouble between the two departments is no secret to the people who know what is going on in City Hall. It dates back to the time of the inauguration of the new city charter. Before that time the Department of Public Health had charge of the city hospitals, the Home for the Indigent at Holmesburg and the Byberry Farms. The new charter gave the Director of Public Health charge of the Home for the Indigent and also the House of Correction, which formerly was under the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Welfare.

According to Director Tustin an agreement was entered into between the two departments that only the physically and mentally well would be cared for in the Home for the Indigent. He says that this institution is primarily for those who, through age, poverty or some similar reason, become public charges. He alleges that the Department of Public Health has not lived up to this agreement and has "piled 212 feeble-minded, idiotic and epileptic patients upon us."

"While I was away sick," Director Tustin said, "ninetv-seven insane women were sent to the Home for the Indigent. These are forced by circumstances to associate with about 400 sane women. They do not twenty-two sane men, who must live with a large group of sane men. We have no provision to take care of these patients. We have only one doctor and a very few nurses. The sane patients make so much trouble that it is impossible to bathe them in the showers in the basement and they have to be bathed in their quarters."
