

Two Vagrancy Fines Didn't Stop This Buddy; He's Here

It took more than two fines for vagrancy and several rough contacts with the roughest shoes of hard-hearted freight brakemen to keep one of the Fifth Division buddies away from the reunion which starts here today.

This hardened veteran of the Vag was broken when he heard about the reunion, and what he could get together was only enough to have a good time here. If he paid his fare from Johnston, Pa., there would be nothing left on his arrival here.

So he took to the freights. Two vagrancy fines discouraged him to the extent that he decided to walk instead of making himself an unwanted guest of the railroads—but he's here.

Developments yesterday led to a general belief at the Capitol that the committee would not have entirely smooth sailing, but Chairman Penrose still is hopeful that the measure can be completed by the time Congress reconvenes, one week from next Wednesday. It is his desire to cut down discussion and get to action.

As was the case in the House, the principal points of disagreement are retroactive repeal of the excess profits tax and a reduction of the income surtaxes. Although still holding that majority, sentiment is drifting toward retroactive repeal of the profits tax. Republican leaders are not so optimistic on this point as they were a day or two ago.

Democrats in the committee will present a solid front against these two proposals, according to Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking minority member, and they are counting on support from the Republicans. If they lose their fight in the committee they will carry it to the Senate floor.

Besides passing the six changes in the House bill, the committee expects to have before it a number of other tax policies, including the sales tax plan of Senator Smoot, of Utah, and the suggested retroactive repeal of the profits tax. New York, on 2.75 per cent beer and alcoholic liquors diverted to beverage purposes.

17 Dead in Flood at San Antonio

Continued from Page One. Will be put into operation. Two thousand people are believed to have been rescued. The identified dead are: Mrs. Vassinder, initials and residence unknown; Mrs. Emma Gorin, 414 Furnish avenue; Gorin baby, seventeen months old; Phil Wright, commissioner fire and police; and a woman whose name is not known. The water in the flooded districts today, stated he believed the loss of life to be "very high."

Police and firemen attempted to warn residents in the Mexican section of the city and succeeded in getting hundreds of them to safety. Many others were cut off before they could get out and the police estimated the loss of life in this district would be large.

Before waters began to recede today an area estimated at two miles wide and six miles long, including the larger part of the business district of San Antonio, had been swept in the worst flood in the last thirty years. Among the buildings damaged are some of the finest in the city. The Republic Hotel, the Hotel and St. Mary's streets at one time had water standing almost to the mezzanine floor, fifteen feet high. The St. Anthony Hotel, on Travis street, also suffered as well as several smaller hotels in the downtown district.

The Alamo, "the Cradle of Texas Liberty," escaped damage by waters, due to its elevation.

Danger Believed Over. The weather is still cloudy and further rain is not unlikely. It is believed that there is further danger. Unconfirmed reports of loss of life in the valley of the San Antonio River south of this city are coming in. An unprecedented rainfall which began at midnight Wednesday and continued throughout Thursday and Friday night, has resulted in a record of eight inches of rain for this period. Early last night there was a heavy rainfall in the valley of the Olmos Creek north of the city.

All Traffic Stopped. Water from the creek rushed into the San Antonio River and joined the surface water which was pouring into the river from the heavy rain throughout the day in the city proper. The river went out of its banks within a few hours, and broke across Breckinridge Park into River street. The roads and electric light plants are located along the banks of the river, and they were put out of business quickly.

Street car traffic was stopped and hundreds of people were unable to reach their homes. Many of them spent the night wandering about the business district.

Wreckage Strews River Banks. Both banks of the San Antonio River are strewn with the wreckage of houses. A number of them are being blown away. Throughout the night the east and west sides of the city were cut off from each other and it was only at daylight that the waters subsided sufficiently to permit crossing by one bridge in the northern part.

The greatest property damage thus far reported in the San Antonio region has been along the Alazan Creek, where the number of dwellings washed from their foundations has not yet been ascertained.

TORNADOES CARRY DEATH IN THEIR PATH. Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—Two men were killed at West Sioux Falls and many small farm buildings were destroyed in a tornado which struck just outside the Sioux Falls city limits early last night. The towns of Ollis, Hartford and East Sioux Falls are reported having had telephonic and telegraph communication demoralized.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—Eight persons were injured, one seriously, as the result of a terrific downpour of rain and the tornado at South Austin and Cremona yesterday. Most of the injured were from Cremona road vicinity.

6000 Buddies Throng Hotel, Recounting Experiences in Trenches of France

Six thousand "buddies" of the Fifth Division are flocking into the city in anticipation of the divisional reunion, which opens this afternoon and continues until Monday night. The three-day celebration, which commemorates the battle of St. Mihiel, got well under way last night, following the arrival of Major General Hanson E. Ely, former commander of the division in France. He was given a dinner at the Ritz-Carlton by Judge Philip J. McCook, of the New York delegation, at which twenty-one were present.

While registration was under way this morning in divisional headquarters in the Bellevue-Stratford and in the three railway stations, Major General Ely made a flying trip to League Island to confer with Commander L. M. Nutton.

The formal business session opens this afternoon in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford, and will be presided over by the chief business of the day is the election of a successor to General Ely, who has announced his retirement. He has been president of the division since the spring of 1910, while the Fifth Division was part of the army of occupation located at Luxembourg. This is the first meeting in this country.

Possible Presidents. Those mentioned as possible candidates for the presidency are Lieutenant Colonel Herbert Parsons, former assistant chief of divisional headquarters in France; Lieutenant Colonel Jacob Peabody, former division inspector, and Major Philip J. McCook.

At the close of the business session the buddies will mobilize in the form of military units and meet the men they fought beside in France. While this is in progress a tea for the visiting "buddies," the wives, other members of the families and the soldier boys who accompanied them, will be given at the Emergency Aid, 221 South Eighteenth street, by Mrs. Harold H. Warburton and Mrs. J. Willis McGee.

The veterans will spend tomorrow in Atlantic City, making the trip in a special train which leaves Chestnut street for the Boarding Railway at 7:30 A. M. daylight saving time. They will be welcomed by Mayor Bader, a citizens' committee, a post of the American Legion and a band.

This city has unfurled its flags in honor of the buddies, and the downtown business section is bright with color. Automobile stickers shaped like a diamond, the division emblem, and bearing the words "Hop in," are being distributed to motorists to place on their shields. This sign gives a foot-sore "buddy" the privilege of a lift.

The registration bureau in the Bellevue-Stratford today was a deluge of questions and inquiries. Arrivals come every five minutes from Texas, Ohio, Rhode Island and Illinois.

Well, Major, you can't give me K. P. duty and a spruce young business man to his former employer. Major Higgins, in charge of registration, was assailed with questions. "Is this commander of the Sixth here?" His name was Jones. I wanna see him.

"Who's here from the 21st?" "Is a fellow named Smith, of Texas, come yet?" "A fellow who had served on the other side dropped in to get a whiff of army days," even though he was "just a pill roller," as he explained apologetically.

While thousands of women were registered this morning, it was anticipated that the men, freed for the afternoon, would be able to register this afternoon and evening. The allied forces are driving to reach a total of half a million qualified voters. Approximately 200,000 have been registered so far. A half million registration, as predicted Mr. Hunter, of the Voters League, will mean certain victory for the independent ticket.

Women Are Active. Under the leadership of Mrs. Altemus, flying squadrons of women are engaged in rounding up the women and getting them out to register. Automobiles and telephone calls are being used.

Rarely has there been such activity on the last registration day. In every division in the city, door knockers and "selling" the idea of registration. Then when the women got to the registration booths they bought poll tax receipts for the day and did not pay a tax within the last two years.

In many wards, trucks gaily decorated, carrying a blazing appeal to register, toured the streets. And in many sections of the city, scores of young women stood on the corners holding banners calling on all to register.

The Republican women invaded the department stores, making personal appeal to every girl and woman employed there out to register. Through the co-operation of the store managements, a request that every woman register was transmitted through the aisle managers to all the workers in every part of the big stores.

Get Out Store Workers. In several of the stores besides, coming young women walked up and down bearing banners notifying the women to register.

In one of the department stores permission was granted the speakers to go to the lunchroom at noon and address the women workers while they eat.

Mrs. Warburton sent word to all the women of the city who would register today that they are not obliged to disclose their ages to the registers. Mrs. Warburton asserted that the Vag registrars were embarrassing women applicants for registration by insisting that they tell how old they were before being registered.

Couple Married on Third Attempt

Miss Anna Frank becomes George Hallowell's bride after series of delays. The wedding ceremony was performed at the Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Sixth and Callowhill streets, last evening.

Miss Frank, who lived at 1417 North Fifty-ninth street, originally planned the wedding for last Wednesday. She had been led to believe that Hallowell, a sailor on the United States steamship Arkansas, would be allowed shore leave at that time. Through some error, later complicated by a wireless message that failed to arrive, the prospective bridegroom did not appear after the church and was accompanied there by the minister stood ready to pronounce the words that would unite them for life. At that time it was announced that the wedding would take place next day, but the Arkansas developed boiler trouble and failed to arrive until yesterday.

The naval authorities were almost as interested as the bride and groom. Hallowell was washed over the side almost as soon as the Arkansas slowed down.

Brouzed by the long voyage, and flushed with anticipation of his forthcoming marriage, Hallowell greeted his intended bride at her home yesterday morning, and the marriage was solemnized last evening.

Tastefully attired in white crepe de chine, the bride wore a bouquet. Miss Frank was escorted by her father. She was attended by her matron of honor, Mrs. Gertrude Butler, Hallowell, in civilian attire, was accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Butler as best man.

Hallowell has secured a month's leave of absence, and immediately after the reception the bridal couple went to Atlantic City, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Edmonds to Head Coalition Forces. Continued from Page One. Making a drive against such leaders as "Jimmy" Carey, of the Fifth Ward, who is listed among the assets of the Combine.

Independent leaders will urge Senator Penrose furthermore to try to bring back "Tom" Cunningham to his old allegiance.

Vare leaders, realizing the fact that another registration is being made today and that Senator Penrose and Judge Brown are definitely lined up with the Administration, have planned to hold a seashore conference tomorrow. The board of strategy of the "Charlie" Hall, "Ed" Vare and Harry A. Mackey, is preparing ammunition which is hoped to use in the final days of the campaign.

Independent leaders said that the seashore trip of the are men would "make their ammunition all wet, and of no avail."

Work Hard for Enrollment. Encouraged by the union of all anti-Vare forces and the greater prospects for a brilliant victory in the primaries, thousands of men and women citizens are working hard to place on their shields.

Everywhere there was a realization that today provided the last chance to register for the primary, and that the man or woman who is not registered cannot vote.

Peculiarly this was woman's day. Women began to register in large numbers about 10 o'clock when the men had gone to work.

"Women are on trial today," said Mr. White. "For years they fought for the ballot; now it is distinctly up to them to get it."

While thousands of women were registered this morning, it was anticipated that the men, freed for the afternoon, would be able to register this afternoon and evening.

Women Are Active. Under the leadership of Mrs. Altemus, flying squadrons of women are engaged in rounding up the women and getting them out to register. Automobiles and telephone calls are being used.

Rarely has there been such activity on the last registration day. In every division in the city, door knockers and "selling" the idea of registration. Then when the women got to the registration booths they bought poll tax receipts for the day and did not pay a tax within the last two years.

In many wards, trucks gaily decorated, carrying a blazing appeal to register, toured the streets. And in many sections of the city, scores of young women stood on the corners holding banners calling on all to register.

To Comb Vare Wards for "Phantom" Voters

E. L. D. Roach, secretary of the Committee of Seventy, announced today the organization will have 250 men at work beginning next Tuesday to check the registration lists for phantom and false voters. This investigation will be made in twenty of the combine wards.

These pictures show odds and ends of cosmetic containers which no young woman who gave her looks a thought all day failed to keep on her dressing table, 2000 years ago. They include an alabaster rouge pot, a perfume jar and a contraption for painting the eyebrows. They are part of the Eckley B. Cox collection in the University Museum.

Edmonds to Head Coalition Forces. Continued from Page One. Making a drive against such leaders as "Jimmy" Carey, of the Fifth Ward, who is listed among the assets of the Combine.

Independent leaders will urge Senator Penrose furthermore to try to bring back "Tom" Cunningham to his old allegiance.

Vare leaders, realizing the fact that another registration is being made today and that Senator Penrose and Judge Brown are definitely lined up with the Administration, have planned to hold a seashore conference tomorrow. The board of strategy of the "Charlie" Hall, "Ed" Vare and Harry A. Mackey, is preparing ammunition which is hoped to use in the final days of the campaign.

Independent leaders said that the seashore trip of the are men would "make their ammunition all wet, and of no avail."

Work Hard for Enrollment. Encouraged by the union of all anti-Vare forces and the greater prospects for a brilliant victory in the primaries, thousands of men and women citizens are working hard to place on their shields.

Everywhere there was a realization that today provided the last chance to register for the primary, and that the man or woman who is not registered cannot vote.

Peculiarly this was woman's day. Women began to register in large numbers about 10 o'clock when the men had gone to work.

"Women are on trial today," said Mr. White. "For years they fought for the ballot; now it is distinctly up to them to get it."

While thousands of women were registered this morning, it was anticipated that the men, freed for the afternoon, would be able to register this afternoon and evening.

Women Are Active. Under the leadership of Mrs. Altemus, flying squadrons of women are engaged in rounding up the women and getting them out to register. Automobiles and telephone calls are being used.

Rarely has there been such activity on the last registration day. In every division in the city, door knockers and "selling" the idea of registration. Then when the women got to the registration booths they bought poll tax receipts for the day and did not pay a tax within the last two years.

In many wards, trucks gaily decorated, carrying a blazing appeal to register, toured the streets. And in many sections of the city, scores of young women stood on the corners holding banners calling on all to register.

The Republican women invaded the department stores, making personal appeal to every girl and woman employed there out to register. Through the co-operation of the store managements, a request that every woman register was transmitted through the aisle managers to all the workers in every part of the big stores.

Get Out Store Workers. In several of the stores besides, coming young women walked up and down bearing banners notifying the women to register.

In one of the department stores permission was granted the speakers to go to the lunchroom at noon and address the women workers while they eat.

Mrs. Warburton sent word to all the women of the city who would register today that they are not obliged to disclose their ages to the registers. Mrs. Warburton asserted that the Vag registrars were embarrassing women applicants for registration by insisting that they tell how old they were before being registered.

League Delegates Hope Jurist Will Accept Seat in International Court

By the Associated Press. Geneva, Sept. 10.—Ellhu Root, the American jurist, will receive the unanimous vote of the South American delegates to the League of Nations Assembly when the election of judges for the permanent International Court of Justice is held Wednesday next.

Many of them also favor Mr. Root as chief justice of the court. They expressed confidence that Mr. Root will accept when he sees the unanimity of the demand that he serve, and plans for his election are being forwarded on this theory.

Dispatches from Washington telling of Mr. Root conferring with President Harding are interpreted in League circles to mean that Mr. Root will withdraw his objections to election to the court if President Harding approves. The delegates to the assembly hope they will receive definite indications that Mr. Root will accept before the election is held.

Says Election Is Assured. A. F. Reintrop, head of the Colombian delegation, made the assertion today that all the South American countries would vote for Mr. Root.

"I believe, and I believe, all the other South American countries want Mr. Root in the international court," said Senator Reintrop. "His election is assured."

Discussion of work done by the Council of the League last year was resumed by the Assembly today. There was evident a desire on the part of the delegates present to finish the debate before Monday so the work might be cleared for the election of judges Wednesday.

Six delegates, including A. J. Balfour, of Great Britain; Viscount Ishii, of Japan, and V. K. Wellington Koo, of China, were to speak today.

Speech by Austrian Delegate. Former enemy states made their first appearance in the debates of the present assembly when Count Albert Mensdorff-Pouilly-Dietrichstein, the Austrian delegate, took the floor this morning to speak on the work of the Council of the League.

Count Mensdorff pictured the economic and financial situation of Austria and reviewed the work done by the Council toward restoration of the country. He said that measures should now be applied at the earliest possible moment so that Austria might be able to work out her own salvation.

M. Spalalkovich, the Jugo-Slav delegate, made a brief statement and criticized the action of the Assembly last year in admitting Albania to the League.

"Albania is not a State," he declared. "It never had frontiers and can no more be considered a country now than it could last year."

The chairman of the Assembly endeavored, by invoking the time limit, to put an end to the discussion, but a painful impression on the Assembly.

Rebutted by Balfour. Arthur J. Balfour, the British representative, relieved the tension resulting from Spalalkovich's speech by correcting what he said were mistaken deductions. Albania, he said, had the right to appear before the Council of the League to the Assembly for a settlement of the entire dispute between Albania, Greece and Jugo-slavia, and the question would come up in its regular order.

Mr. Balfour replied to the criticisms of the Council, recently voiced by Hjalmar Branting, of Sweden, and Henri La Fontaine, of Belgium.

"It is most unfortunate," he said, "that any member of the League should have been so misled. The Council is full of untruths, motives and the League of partiality; but when it comes from Mr. Branting it causes particular pain."

regret immensely the absence of important countries from the League. How can the countries in the League adopt a scheme of disarmament when they cannot know whether it will be followed by the countries which are not members of the League.

Disarmament and Mandates. He said he regretted the lack of results with regard to disarmament, but reminded the delegates that they were now living in a world where peace and order reigned to an extent as to permit of a prompt solution.

"When we are no longer in the midst of wars and rumors of wars," Mr. Balfour declared, "it will then be a simple matter."

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

MAJOR PHILIP J. MCCOOK Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, who is mentioned as a possible successor to Major General Hanson E. Ely as national head of the Society of the Fifth Division

Acceptance of Parley Condition Might Be Recognition of British Authority

By the Associated Press. London, Sept. 10.—Prime Minister Lloyd George's invitation to Eamon de Valera and his colleagues to confer on a basis for a settlement of the Anglo-Irish controversy must await action by the British Parliament. That body will meet on Wednesday, at which time it is expected the Prime Minister's latest note to Dublin will be submitted, and a decision will be reached on the question of rejection of the invitation to accept of the invitation.

It was understood when the Republic Parliament adjourned at Dublin recently that it had conferred plenary powers on De Valera and his colleagues. The note from Lloyd George, however, is asserted to have brought a factor into the situation which made it necessary for the Parliament to meet and widen the scope of the mandate it gave its leaders.

The members of the Parliament, it is pointed out, took the oath of allegiance to the British Government and pledged themselves not to "voluntary support to any pretense of a government of the Republic of Ireland hostile or inimical thereto."

This it would appear the condition precedent, that there could be no separation of Ireland from the British Empire, which was laid down by Lloyd George, would, in effect, call upon De Valera and members of his ministry, creatures of the Parliament, to recognize the British Government, and the Dail Eireann if they accepted his invitation. It would also seem that they must be especially empowered to meet the Prime Minister on the basis laid down in his latest note.

Announcement that the Dail Eireann had been called to meet next Wednesday was variously construed here, but there were not wanting those who believed Irish chieftains would find a way to attend the conference. It was reported that, on Thursday night, the date of the meeting, tentatively fixed for September 20 by the Prime Minister, might be postponed a week so that the Dail Eireann and its leaders would not be inconvenienced by the short period intervening.

Dublin, Sept. 10.—(By A. P.)—A tunnel requiring many weeks to construct, and which would be effected by the escape of some fifty interned Sinn Feiners from the Curragh internment camp in County Kildare, was reported today. The camp is surrounded by several rows of barbed wire entanglements and is heavily guarded by soldiers.

The prisoners built the tunnel under the barbed wire, and some of the flooring of their huts for protection. The most difficult part was to elude the guard. This was done by creating a diversion Thursday evening. Numerous prisoners gave songs and recitations which received great applause both from other interned men, and it is said, from the guards. While this was proceeding between forty and fifty men slipped out of the tunnel and have not been seen since.

Special Cable Dispatch, Copyright, 1910. Belfast, Sept. 10.—An incident occurred in the history of Belfast's religious and political life yesterday in the signing of a truce by the Protestants and Catholics in the North Queen street area, where last week's bitter rioting originated. The truce was signed by a Protestant clergyman and a Catholic priest with their respective followers held a conference in the police barracks in the district. There they passed resolutions and agreed to refrain from further outbreaks. The peace move was taken up heartily by the persons present, and they carried a copy of the truce to the district for signature. Similar agreements have been reached in several other areas.

Iowa Heads Midshipmen Regiment. Annapolis, Sept. 10.—Midshipman Jerome L. Dinston, of the regiment of midshipmen at the opening of the Naval Academy for the regular term in October. His appointment, along with that of several other midshipmen and ranking officers of the four battalions, was announced today.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. IN THE MOST BEAUTIFUL SECTION HOTEL EDISON

Michigan Ave. Close to Beach. SPECIAL ROOMS AND WINTER RATES. ALL ROOMS $1 or $2 daily. Large private bath, electric lights, elevator service to street level, convenient to all amusements, and attentive given in comfort and service.

EDUCATIONAL. SPRING GARDEN INSTITUTE. Broad and National Sts., Philadelphia. Day and Night Courses. Art, Electricity, Mechanics and Auto. Opens September 12.

NARBERTH, FOR SALE. New house, red laundry brick, near completed, built by owner for home. Four large rooms, first floor, including under-the-stairs fully equipped kitchen, large bedrooms, tile bath with built-in tub, shower, electric lights, central heating. All windows and doors weather-stripped. Complete with window shades. $11,000.00. See Mrs. W. B. B. at 208 E. BIRCH AVE., NARBERTH.

RENT-WEST PHILADELPHIA. 60th St. Terminal station—8-room house, porch, hot water heat, electricity, central heating. $100.00. Call Stevenson, 106 Coplay road.

NOTICE. All automobilists, regardless of whether they are connected with any automobile club, who have been fined for any alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle Act during the past five months by D. M. Yerkes, Justice of the Peace of Millbourne, Delaware County, Penna., are requested to furnish the date, charge and the amount of the fine and the costs to J. MAXWELL SMITH, Executive Secretary. Keystone Automobile Club, Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTICE. All automobilists, regardless of whether they are connected with any automobile club, who have been fined for any alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle Act during the past five months by D. M. Yerkes, Justice of the Peace of Millbourne, Delaware County, Penna., are requested to furnish the date, charge and the amount of the fine and the costs to J. MAXWELL SMITH, Executive Secretary. Keystone Automobile Club, Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTICE. All automobilists, regardless of whether they are connected with any automobile club, who have been fined for any alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle Act during the past five months by D. M. Yerkes, Justice of the Peace of Millbourne, Delaware County, Penna., are requested to furnish the date, charge and the amount of the fine and the costs to J. MAXWELL SMITH, Executive Secretary. Keystone Automobile Club, Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTICE. All automobilists, regardless of whether they are connected with any automobile club, who have been fined for any alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle Act during the past five months by D. M. Yerkes, Justice of the Peace of Millbourne, Delaware County, Penna., are requested to furnish the date, charge and the amount of the fine and the costs to J. MAXWELL SMITH, Executive Secretary. Keystone Automobile Club, Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTICE. All automobilists, regardless of whether they are connected with any automobile club, who have been fined for any alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle Act during the past five months by D. M. Yerkes, Justice of the Peace of Millbourne, Delaware County, Penna., are requested to furnish the date, charge and the amount of the fine and the costs to J. MAXWELL SMITH, Executive Secretary. Keystone Automobile Club, Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTICE. All automobilists, regardless of whether they are connected with any automobile club, who have been fined for any alleged violations of the Motor Vehicle Act during the past five months by D. M. Yerkes, Justice of the Peace of Millbourne, Delaware County, Penna., are requested to furnish the date, charge and the amount of the fine and the costs to J. MAXWELL SMITH, Executive Secretary. Keystone Automobile Club, Hotel Adelphi, Philadelphia, Pa.