

GIRL ASKS MERCY FOR HER ASSAILANT

Cecelia Pinkosh, Little Man-yunk Cripple, Kicked by Drunken Man

WISH MAY BE GRANTED

Her little blonde head missing the top of the Magistrate's desk by six inches, Cecelia Pinkosh, a fifteen-year-old cripple, of 152 East street, Man-yunk, pleaded earnestly for clemency this morning for a twenty-five-year-old man who brutally knocked her down and kicked her last evening.

Cecelia, with two companions, Rosanna Ratti, fifteen years old, 160 East street, and Anna Stockome, fifteen years old, 136 East street, was near East and Cresson streets on her way home from work. The girls saw John Kubit, 141 East street, arguing with a woman. Kubit was drunk. It is alleged, and his actions amused the girls who laughed at him. They ran and he immediately gave chase.

Unable to drag her little body along as fast as her companions could flee, Cecelia was caught after a few steps. Kubit knocked her down and kicked her in the hip, it was charged. Patrolman Cavenagh arrested Kubit and he was arraigned before Magistrate Price in the Twenty-second street and Hunting Park avenue police station this morning. The little girls, all small for their age, appeared daintily dressed in one-piece frocks to testify against him. Cecelia told her story and was corroborated by the others. Kubit said: "That's right, Judge: I was drunk and kicked her."

Magistrate Price frowned severely and was about to sentence him when a voice sounded from behind his big desk. He had to lean over to see Cecelia as she said:

"Please don't send him to jail. If he'll pay our wages that we lost by coming here, because we promised the policeman we would, we would not want to see him punished."

Although he could not help smiling, Magistrate Price said:

"No, little girl: it was a brutal assault, and being drunk don't excuse it. I'll have to send him to jail."

"Please give him another chance: I'm sure he won't do it again." As Cecelia said this she smiled and the prisoner flushed and hung his head shamefully.

Finally Magistrate Price gave in and said that he would hold Kubit in $400 bail for a further hearing Saturday, when the girls could attend without losing their pay. He told them to bring their parents with them and if they were of the same mind he would give Kubit "another chance."

Here's something to whet your appetite!

Week of September 26 the Gimbel Fashion Review will be given—with living models—at the Stanley Theatre.

For Saturday

This Is a Very Remarkable Offer for Autumn, 1921

For production costs of clothing have not been brought down to normal, to say nothing of old-time values. But, as values go—judged by good clothes, even ready-made—this is great—

Men's Suits Made to Measure for $35

It is about half price for equal made-to-order clothes in any usual way; beats ready-made. "How can Gimbels give the dollars' worth they claim?" We don't make the clothes—but we deal with a big organization of merchant tailors. The concern has to keep its men busy—or lose all the good ones. The public doesn't care, and don't buy clothes till they feel like it.

The concern is in to lose thousands at the front end of every season—so they lessen loss by getting this extra Gimbel business, at reduced price.

There Are 137 Styles of Fabrics to Choose From —or were when this was written—some will run low each day now. You probably realize that "merchant tailoring" varies in excellence—the concern we deal with has distinct grades. Their best is chosen for this occasion—and that applies to linings, everything—to the "make and trim" as the tailors call it.

This Offer Ends Wednesday, September 21st

—that's as late as unprofitable business should be accepted by the concern. We trust our customers will make the most of the opportunity—very many are ordering two suits; some three and four.

Women's Suits—You'd Never, Never Guess the Prices to be $39.75, $59, $69—or Even $89!

And that's just why Gimbel Suits are famous—because we're always working on "how much better can we possibly make them than their price will buy elsewhere!"

Reproductions of famous French models included at every price—not "reproduced" by the cheapening process of leaving one or two essentials out! But reproduced by master-tailors—line for line; color for color; texture for texture!

Between $59 and $89

The new moussynes. The new pannelaines. The new Erminnies. The fashionable velvynes. And wonderful duvet delaines.

Choose whatever length coat suits your particular personality—and choose from nutria, squirrel, mole, wolf, beaver and Australian opossum—in the fur-trimmed styles.

Or the Right Suit to Wear With Your Furs
