PALMER IN LINE FOR RING GLORY

South Philadelphia Italian Seeks Welterweight Recognition Under Pete Moran's Wing

21 YEARS OLD IN JANUARY

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

With the inauguration of the 1921-1922 boxing season here tomorrow night there looms on the local horizon a welterweight contender of the Italian persuasion who threatens to step into the ring as a logical contender for Jack Britton's diadem. He is Anthony Joseph Palmieri, who has undertaken the hitting handle of Jack Palmer.

Palmer has been boxing for two years. There is room for some improvement in Jack's style of battle, and he needs more experience. The South Philadelphia Italian under the management of Pete Moran has had a total of forty bouts, 25 and has had a total of forty bouts, 25 per cent of which Jack has won by knockouts.

The Italian has been winning so consistently that Moran says it has become a hard matter to get opponents for his charge. "Palmer doesn't bar any," says Pete, "and before the season is over I feel sure that he will have placed himself in line for a championship battle with Britton."

Among his opponents have been Jimmy Sullivan, three times; Arthur Stiggall, upstate welterweight crack, twice; Frankie McManus, Joe Stacey, Jack Keller, Al Brown, Billy Rolfe, Ben Taylor, of England; "West, Phil, Ben Taylor, of England; "O'Toole, and Jimmy Gibbons. Palmer has returned a winner in most of these matches.

Palmer will reach his majority on the 27th day of next January, having been born in 1901. He started as a lightweight two years ago at the Germantown Club, here, appearing in a semi-final bout on his first debut against Tommy McCann. Palmer always has shown a tendency to be a clever, and of late has been developing a punch.

According to Moran, K. O. Loughlin and Steve Lizzo both have turned down offers to meet Palmer. "These are two matches that I want," says Palmer, "and then I will be ready to go along and take on the best of the 145-pounders in America."

When Lew Tendler, local lightweight star, was training for his scheduled bout with Champion Henry Leonard, Palmer was the Philadelphia southpaw's chief sparring partner. For ten days Palmer and Tendler whanged each other all around the open-air gymnasium at Delanco, N. J.

"Palmer looked like a comer. He is clever, he is game and he is developing a punch. It is a matter of only a short time before he will be up there on top battling with the world's best welterweights."

Harding Autographs Ball for Rogers Hornsby Day

St. Louis, Sept. 16.—A baseball autographed by President Harding will officially open the game between the Pittsburgh National League team and the St. Louis Cardinals here on Friday, September 30, when a "Rogers Hornsby Day" will be observed. The baseball will later be presented to Hornsby.

The ball has been autographed by the President, according to a letter received here from George B. Christian, Jr., secretary to the President, and is now en route to the committee in charge.

IVINS AND HOHLFELD TO MEET FOR TITLE

Industrial Teams Play First Game of Important Series Tomorrow Afternoon

SHANAHAN A WINNER

THERE will be no three-cornered series for the championship of the Industrial Baseball League. Ivins, cakemakers and the Hohlfeld towel-makers are the teams that have wended their way into the finals and, according to Gabriel Mallon, who directs the interests of Ivins on the ball field, the series will be a short one, confined to two games, which means that Ivins will win.

Anyhow, the first game will be played tomorrow afternoon at Broad street and Allegheny avenue. As it is the home park of both clubs, they start on an even basis in one respect at least. Hohlfeld won the first series without the loss of a single game, and Ivins came through with the pennant in the second and third series, and now they play for the championship. The play-off for the winning club will receive solid gold baseballs and to the losers go ones of silver.

Ivins last evening eliminated Thornton-Fuller. The score was 14 to 4. The game was started in daylight, was about midway at twilight and completed as a moonlight contest. Ivins' batters were on a rampage and scored thirteen runs in the first four innings. As Friday is a busy day, Mallon, according to his own statement, told his players to get out as fast as they could in the final innings or the game would never be finished. Ted Cohen was on the hill for Thornton-Fuller, and his offerings were easy. He was soon chased from the hill and went to shortstop, while Waite, an infielder, assumed the pitching burden and was somewhat of an improvement. The whole Ivins team had a "night on." Jake Heever was pitching his best and the batters were hitting. Johnny Downs, Kaufman, Flood and McDermott hit well, with Flood and Faye copying the laurels with homers. Faye led with four safeties.

KILBANE AND FRUSH IN TIP-TOP SHAPE

Air of Confidence Reigns in Rival Camps Over Outcome of Title Bout

FAIR WEATHER PREDICTED

Cleveland, O., Sept. 16.—The day before the twelve-round bout for the world featherweight championship of the world between Johnny Kilbane, titleholder, and Danny Frush, of Baltimore, challenger, found an air of confidence at both training camps over the outcome.

The principals worked out in private. But statements from their managers were to the effect that the boys would enter the ring tomorrow afternoon in tiptop condition.

Andy Chaney, featherweight, who won the Tex Rickard elimination tournament at Madison Square Garden last winter by defeating Charley Beecher, Sammy Sieger and Tommy Noble, has sent word that he will be at the ring-side to challenge the winner. Seat reservations also have been made for three champions, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight; Benny Leonard, lightweight, and Jack Britton, welterweight.

Inquiries for seat reservations continue to pour in from out-of-town boxing fans and sporting writers. Special motor parties have been arranged by a score of cities.

Fair weather is predicted for tomorrow afternoon by Weather Forecaster Emery, who declared he sees no storms in sight to interfere with the bout.

Frankie Daly, the Staten Island banterweight, who was to have met Jack Wolfe, of Cleveland, in the ten-round semi-final, will not be able to participate because of injuries received in an automobile accident. Johnny O'Leary, of Bridgeport, Conn., has been substituted. The judges and alternate referee will be chosen today.
