Nancy Wynne Tells of the Engagement of Miss Anne Spencer to Mr. Lewis Edward Shaw, of Boston. A Daughter Born to the Snowden Saquels

WELL, I have an awfully nice engagement to announce today, and I am sure you will join me in wishing the young couple the best. The engagement of Miss Anne Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edward Shaw, of Boston, and Mr. Lewis Edward Shaw, of Boston, was announced today.

Did you know that the Snowden Samuels have a little daughter? She was born on Wednesday, August 11, and is named Mary Buchanan. Her mother is Mrs. Frank Samuel, who is Miss Mary Buchanan Snowden, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snowden, who was Mrs. John Conner's first husband.

I SAW Mrs. Sidney Martin in town recently, looking very girlish in a dark blue velvet frock that had a tiny white dot in the pattern. The frock touched the gown, and the fascinatingly long buttons running down the back of the bodice, and the effect was quite smart.

TALKING of fashions, did you notice out at the tennis yesterday there was scarcely a straw hat to be seen on the men? Well you see the day before, Thursday, September 16, is the day when the "straw hat" gets all wrapped up in tissue paper by the wife and is put away until the following year. Then it is brought out for the first Saturday in May when the Penn team plays Princeton's baseball team.

FATHER and mother had labored indeed to teach Elsie how to speak correctly. For several years she had a nurse whose English was murderous to say the least, and it had suddenly dawned on her parents that Elsie was picking up her words and manner rather than theirs.
