MISSED TRAINS LAID TO "L" TURNBACK

Railroad Men Say P. R. T. System Causes Inconvenience to Travelers

JERSEYITES IN PROTEST

Letters of complaint from trade organizations of South Jersey were part of the evidence offered before the Public Service Commission today in the hearing on the "turnback" system in operation on the Market Street Elevated beyond the Sixty-ninth street terminal.

W. A. Searle, of the Camden Chamber of Commerce, testified of what he termed the "distress of the traveling public" coming from New Jersey and using the elevated line. He said through the operation of the "turnback" system riders are compelled to wait unduly long in the morning and often missed trains in the evening because 50 per cent of the "L" trains stopped at Second street.

Testimony also was offered by the Philadelphia and Reading Railway to show the inconvenience to their passengers.

E. D. Osterhout, assistant passenger agent, said many of the passengers were subjected to unnecessary inconvenience through having to wait at Second street when one of the trains was switched back. He also remarked that no trains stopped at the Chestnut street ferry house but at Market street. Passengers coming from the Reading ferries are compelled to walk a full city block to get on, he said.

The complaints of people at seashore resorts were put before Commissioner Clement through Thomas G. Sheen, president of the Ventnor Board of Trade, and S. P. Leeds, president of the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce.

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY OPENS

At Least 8000 Expected in First Classes Tomorrow

Temple University opened for matriculation at 8 o'clock this morning. Classes start tomorrow. Last year the registration was 7200 and it is expected that it will be between 8000 and 9000 this year. More city school teachers are enrolled than ever before, due to the fact that they can get more pay with a Temple degree than with a normal school diploma.

The medical and dental courses have more registrants than ever before. Seven hundred former service men, being sent through by the Government, are enrolled. The advanced classes start October 3.

Dr. M. F. D'Elisou, associate physical and hygiene director, returned to take up his work at the University after spending three and one-half years in France teaching at Sorbonne University.

HEARING ROOM RENOVATED

Central Police Station Has New Floor and Decorations

The Central Police Station, Room 625, City Hall, was opened at 10 o'clock this morning after a complete renovation. It has been closed a month during which time hearings have been held in the Municipal Court Room, 650 City Hall.

The Municipal Court is a hot, stuffy, poorly ventilated room and many people have fainted there during the last month. Room 625 has a new floor and the walls have been painted and some of the furniture changed. A special effort will be made to keep shyster lawyers and their runners out of the room.

The old benches for their use have been removed and small tables substituted which will be devoted to the use of newspapermen and reputable lawyers exclusively.

No "Wasters" in Nu-Dura-Tin.
NO METHOD of rolling steel for tin plates will produce all perfect sheets. The imperfect ones, called "wasters," must be taken out by watchful inspectors. Such sheets may be used in manufacturing, but never for roofing.
And only the perfect sheets are stamped "NU-DURA-TIN." No "waster," however slight its defect may be, ever goes out bearing that name.
The best roofers prefer NU-DURA-TIN, for it protects the roofer as well as the owner. They like to have it specified, for its standard quality insures fairness to all competitors, with a good job and a satisfied customer.
Any roofer can give you a roof of NU-DURA-TIN and paint it any color.

The Pudding Pan's Diary
SATURDAY

I WOKE and found that the prunes I stewed last night had been served. At seven-ten by the kitchen clock I went to the oven with some breakfast food to cook. Then I was given six eggs which, after warming up to room temperature, I poached with a little less than one-half the amount of heat ordinarily used. You see, I heat up evenly all over, hold the heat a long time and, therefore, I save a lot of fuel.

After breakfast I made a delicious rice pudding for luncheon. The children love the kind I make. And, then it became a question of whether I would make soup, or heat up a can of beans. The soup won.

Later in the afternoon I was given the delightful job of molding fruit gelatine. That being turned out onto a dish and placed in the ice box, I was sent to the oven to make a chicken pie.

Tonight I'm in the refrigerator keeping some food cold. Because of the thickness of the aluminum from which I am made, I absorb cold as well as I absorb heat. And, being made of hard, cold-rolled metal, I resist the action of strong food acids. I do not absorb odors or flavors, and I am safe and sanitary.

Tomorrow is Sunday. I always start Sunday upside down—inverted over a dish of griddle cakes to keep them hot. I love that job, too.
