By the Associated Press New York, Sept. 20 .- Urbain Ledoux, whose attempt to sell the services blocked by the police, today distributed mest tickets to forty hungry followers and announced he would march to Bry.

Ledoux claimed he had dispersed large numbers of unemployed, fearing an outbreak of violence, as an after-within seventy-two hours.

Color of questions of accomplished facts and also of questions affecting particular Powers. At length more moderate views prevailed and insistence upon these points was of occurrences yesterday. He said he did not want the law violated and that he would continue to carry on his work among the hungry and homeless in a legal way. He declared that by feed-ing the jobless, he believed he was keeping the jobiess, he believed he was keeping them from becoming violent.

Fear that further clashes with the police would result in bloodshed and possible loss of life. Ledoux said, prompted him to call off plans for any further assemblage of the unemployed army.

"I do not want trouble." said Ledoux. "I am trying to avoid it. I knew the temper of the men. I have talked with them. I have seen the police and I knew their temper. I knew there would be a terrific clash and some one would be killed."

Several hundred of the unemployed men and thousands of curious specta-ters were on hand at Bryant Park at 11 o'clock last night, the hour orig-inally set for the auction. Police re-many set for the auction. Police re-serves struggled with the crowd for more than an hour, wielding night sticks on recalcitrant heads before they were able to restore anything resembling order.

Then a column of the unemployed broke through the police lines and pa-raded to Central Park, where another crowd was attracted by impromptu

MARCH OF IDLE

They Seize Injured Man

Atlantic City, Sept. 20.—Aroused by the ringing of a burglar alarm, bakers in the Hotel Chelsea left their bread and rolls and chased a pair of burglars who had broken into the steward's department and were rifling the cash box and store shortly after last midnight.

The intruders fled, but in leaping from a high window to the cement walk below, John Frazier, aged thirty, missed his footing and was unable to rise before pursuing bakers had tackled him. The man was taken to the hospital and is now held in the city jail. The excaping burglar made away with the centents of the cash drawer and several boxes of fine cigars.

No other Daily paper in the world in a city of this magnitude has such a complete coverage.

Yet this hable achievement represents only a normal growth with the City's growth over a pend of forty-five years.

You cannot fully cover the Chicago market without The Chicago Daily News. And until you have won The Chicago Market proper, which is the three million population of Chicago itself, you cannot win the greater so-called Chicago Territory—which is the sixteen million population in the five surrounding states. This great territorial wheel revolves about Chicago as the Hub.
