

THE WEATHER
Fair tonight and Sunday, increasing cloudiness, probably followed by showers; little change in temperature.

TEMPERATURE AT EACH HOUR
8	9	10	11	12	1	2	3	4	5
62	64	67	68	70	73	74

PROTESTANT CHURCHMEN OPEN FIRE ON KU KLUX KLAN AS U. S. PROBES START WORK

Dr. Wilbur Crafts Calls on Members of Religious Body to Steer Clear of Secret Organization Catering to Bigotry and Race Hatred

FEDERAL INVESTIGATORS DECLINE ALL "AID" FROM "EMPEROR" SIMMONS IN INQUIRIES

Postal Authorities Aroused by Editorial in Georgia Newspaper Run by Mrs. Tyler, One of "Big Three"—Intimidation of Dry Agents by White Robes Is Charged

A MOVEMENT to have all Protestants withdraw from the Ku Klux Klan and a heavy cross-fire on the Klan from investigating branches of the Government herald the complete collapse of the secret order.

The Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, Inc., a Protestant body, with headquarters at Washington, appeals to all Protestants to quit the Klan.

Membership in the "Invisible Empire" was restricted by its organizers to native-born white Protestants. Many ministers believe thousands have been lured into the order by misrepresentation of its real aims and purposes.

The Klan was assailed yesterday by clerical and lay delegates to the general council of the Alliance of Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian system. The council is meeting in Pittsburgh.

The Department of Justice has decided to ignore "Emperor" Simmons' offer of "assistance" in the investigation now engaging numerous Federal agents.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes is the latest Government official to train his batteries on the Klan. Special agents are checking up reports that enforcement officers have been intimidated by Klansmen.

The postoffice inspector in charge at Atlanta, Ga., is preparing to invoke the law as a result of a scurrilous editorial in the Searchlight, the semi-official organ of the Klan.

Meanwhile, "Emperor" Simmons is making hurried and mystic passes over the dollars of Ku Klux dupes and is turning the cash into magnificent homes, electric fountains, artificial lakes, marble statues and costly motorcars.

How Donations Are Split
The "donations" which flow into the office of the Klan are, in the ordinary routine, "split" as follows:

Pocketing $4, the Klansman who signs the candidate on the dotted line forwards the remaining $6 to his King Klansman, who keeps $1 and forwards $5 to his Grand Goblin. The Grand Goblin, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, who resigned as head of the former Ku Klux, retained fifty cents, so that every "donation" of $4.50 goes to the "imperial" treasury.

But if a higher ranking salesman obligates a new member the division is different. A King Klansman thus selling directly keeps $5 of the fee, a Grand Goblin keeps $5.50, while if Emperor Sigmond himself leans over the counter and personally "Klans" a customer the $10 reaches the imperial pocket.

Klansman Is "Kale Collector"
Disregarding the Imperial Wizard's own sales, which necessarily form but a small part of the volume of business done, each new Klansman means $4.50 added to the Ku Klux bank roll. Conservatively estimating the Klan's own claims as to total membership and making the present number 500,000, the Ku Klux sales campaign has so far brought in managers a gross profit of $2,250,000.

To this income must be added receipts from other sources which are mentioned later in this article. Altogether, reorganizing, incorporating, Ku Kluxing with patriotic trimmings has proved a paying undertaking, as there is plenty of evidence to show.

On September 7, Imperial Klansman Clark, speaking by actions of "Emperor" Simmons, declared to newspaper interviewers in Atlanta that Paul S. Eldridge, "Supreme" Ku Klux attorney, was engaged in associating himself "approximately 200 of the most prominent lawyers in the country," and that the list was aggregating $10,000,000 would be brought against newspapers and individuals attacking the Klan.

Considering what the aggregate receipts of 200 of the most prominent lawyers in the United States would amount to, and the aggregate receipts of the Ku Klux Klan as plaintiff would have to put up to protect defendants in $10,000,000 worth of possibly unsuccessful libel damage suits, both Emperor and underling were, therefore, talking in millions when they made the above statement, unless they were merely talking.

Talks Only in Big Figures
Earlier in the summer "Emperor" Simmons treated large sums of money with equal ease in talking with a correspondent who interviewed him in Atlanta.

"Simmons," the correspondent reported, "looks little like his printed picture. Instead of being quiet and self-contained, with a meek attitude toward his subjects, he is six feet two inches tall, weighs about 200 pounds, and is thick-skinned and aggressive. His face is full of smiles, and he is always affable to his producer of his own thing, his hairy crop of rich Auburn hair."

"No Negro blood in red hair," he said.

Continued on Page Four, Column Two

"Emperor's" War Chest Is Just Like Kaiser's

Remember reading about the big "war chest" of gold Kaiser Wilhelm stored away in a castle for emergencies in the days when he was a Kaiser?

Well, "Emperor" William, of the Ku Klux Klan, has a "war chest" too. It contains about $10,000,000 in gold and is being kept for a rainy day.

Members of the House believe they will be able to get a congressional investigation started early next month.

MISS HANAN SINKS FAST, MYSTERIOUS 'TRUTH' IN SHOOTING

Rich Girl, Victim of Former Chum's Bullets, Near Death From Peritonitis

NOTE LEFT BY SUICIDE HINTS AT HIDDEN MOTIVE

New York, Sept. 24.—Miss Mildred E. Hanan, daughter of the late Alfred P. Hanan, now manufacturer, who was shot early yesterday by Mrs. Grace Laws, her former chum, was reported by surgeons today to be sinking rapidly. Peritonitis was said to have set in as a result of one of the three wounds inflicted as she was leaving the apartment of a friend in Brooklyn with John S. Borland. After shooting Miss Hanan, Mrs. Laws committed suicide.

The motive, or motives, back of the shooting remained somewhat clouded in mystery. The theory of jealousy because of Borland's attentions to Miss Hanan, advanced by the police, was repudiated by Borland, by Miss Hanan and by Mrs. Laws' sister, Mrs. M. E. Dittmar, in San Francisco. They expressed the belief that she had been temporarily deranged by use of drugs and liquor.

Hint of Mysterious "Truth"
Mrs. Laws blamed "high life" and liquor, which she said, was "driving her crazy" in a letter to Miss Billie Williams, a friend, which was found in her handbag. But the letter hinted at a "truth" back of these causes.

Miss Hanan admitted she had quarreled recently with Mrs. Laws, though she did not give the cause of the quarrel. She said the quarrel had resulted in Mrs. Laws leaving the Hanan apartment, and where she had lived.

At Dorsey's restaurant, before whose home the shooting occurred, told of a dinner with Mrs. Laws the evening preceding the tragedy, at which Mrs. Laws declared "every time I had anything sweet in life it had been taken away from me." Then she cried: "I have been a fiend, a fiend."

Mr. Gottschalk said Mrs. Laws denied, however, that she was in love with Borland, or jealous of his attentions to Miss Hanan.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

Drugs Fleure In Case
The police say that it was a combination of drink, jealousy, remorse and possibly drugs that impelled the shooting.

Mrs. Laws' mental state was fairly well established by investigations made by the Brooklyn authorities. For one thing, Mrs. Laws, it is pointed out, is miserably over the fact that she had quarreled with a few weeks ago with Miss Hanan, with whom she long had been on most affectionate terms.

No legal action is possible in the matter. As it stands, presuming Miss Hanan lives, it is a case of felonious assault, with a charge of murder if Miss Hanan dies it is a case of murder with the murderer dead. There will be no special inquiry, as the Kings County grand jury, according to Assistant District Attorney Wilson, are satisfied they have the case.

PRINCIPALS IN NEW YORK TRAGEDY

MISS MILDRED HANAN Who was shot by Mrs. Grace Laws, yesterday as she emerged from a Brooklyn apartment house, where she had been visiting a friend in company with John S. Borland, a friend of both the women involved.

MRS. GRACE LAWS

TEMPLARS' OUTING COLORFUL SCENE

Thousands of City Folk Gather at Belmont Plateau to See Knights Drill

FAVORED BY SUNNY SKIES

A bright sun and a warm breeze took thousands of Saturday holiday-makers to Fairmount Park this afternoon to see or stand around the sides of the huge natural amphitheatre at Belmont Plateau, Fairmount Park, as they watched the State Knights Templar in their twenty-first annual field day exercises.

The city opened wide its arms to the Knights today, giving them hearty welcome as they arrived in all the splendor of black uniform and white plumes, from every part of Pennsylvania.

The hotel lobbies and the streets in the central section of the city gave ample testimony of the presence of many thousands of plumed Knights for the celebration. Long before noon they began streaming toward Fairmount Park by trolley car and automobile.

They were present in full force, with many times their own number of spectators watching them, by 2 o'clock this afternoon in Fairmount Park, when the exercises began.

Make Impressive Sight
It was an impressive sight as the knights forded in their long black lines, white plumes, and the sunlight flashing on sword and silver dagger. Their hands were in attendance also, and many of the high officers of the order were there to review the knights as they marched past.

The crack drill organizations of the order attracted particular attention as they were recognized by the crowd, although they were not scheduled to perform their evolutions until later in the afternoon.

The eleven commanderies of the division will enter drill corps in the competitive drills scheduled for 4 o'clock. Alfred E. Lister, of Scranton, grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania, accompanied by members of his staff representing sections of Pennsylvania, was in attendance to review the division.

Five of the twenty-four Templar bands will give concerts from 5 until 8 o'clock. They will also be an elaborate display of fireworks.

Paul S. Stranburger, of Germantown, Pennsylvania, division commander, and Hayes H. Duncan, of No. 4 acted as adjutant general of the division.

The commanderies taking part in today's fête with their commanders are Philadelphia No. 2, William T. Warner, commander; St. John's No. 4, Warren T. Walker, commander; Germantown No. 8, Robert F. Clayton, commander; Mary No. 9, Harry K. Palmer, commander; St. Alban No. 17, William J. Leeds, commander; Corinthian No. 73, William Braun, Jr., commander; Kensington No. 54, Isaac Bearly, commander; Chester No. 66, of Chester; Byron J. Pickering, of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania No. 70, George W. A. Stewart, commander; Germantown No. 82, Andrew Loffbrey, commander; Albany No. 88, of West Chester; Albert H. Perigo, commander.

NAMES TOO MUCH ALIKE
Guarantee Trust Company Protects Title by Injunction

The Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company, 316 Chestnut street, obtained an injunction from Judge Finletter today forbidding further use of the name "Guarantee Finance Trust Company" by a corporation doing business next door.

The Guarantee Trust was created by an Act of Assembly in 1871. The other concern was established recently. Judge Finletter said, "It appears that fraudulent intent on the part of the defendants need not be proven, if, as a matter of fact, the name of defendants is calculated to deceive."

FOUND SLASHED IN Y. M. C. A.
William O. Frank Believed to Have Attempted Suicide—He May Die

William O. Frank, thirty-five years old, who lived at the Y. M. C. A., 1019 West Lehigh avenue, was found there at 4:30 o'clock this morning in a pool of blood on the fourth floor corridor, his wrists and throat cut.

The man is believed to have attempted suicide, though for what reason the police do not know. He had lost a great quantity of blood and was unconscious, but still lived. He was hurried to the Samaritan Hospital, where the surgeons fear he may have Joseph Morrissey, night watchman at the Y. M. C. A., found Frank.

STEAL OLD-COIN COLLECTION
Thieves Broke into the House of Joseph E. Hounsworth, Jr., at 2042 North Newkirk street, today, and took $1,500 valuable old coin collection and $11 in other money.

P. R. T. CUTS PAY OF 10,000 WORKERS ONE CENT AN HOUR

Reduction Affecting 4000 Car-men and Many Others, Effective Oct. 1, Accepted

WAR WAGE BENEFICIARIES BEAR BRUNT OF REVISION

A pay reduction of one cent an hour, affecting 10,000 employees of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, was announced today, to become effective October 1, a week from today.

The reduction will apply to all workers paid by the hour, including 4000 motormen and conductors.

Clerical and supervisory employees who work for a monthly salary will not be included in the reduction, for the reason that they did not share to the same degree with the others in wartime advances.

Accepted by Men
The wage reduction has been accepted by the men. It was agreed upon at a meeting of the General Committee of the Co-operative Welfare Association of Men and Management of the company several days ago.

The amount of the reduction was fixed by the rules of the Four City Average Plan, which resulted in the most in greatly increasing the wages paid the P. R. T. Company employees.

One Cent an Hour Less Here
The four cities which enter into the computation of this average are Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo. It was a recent reduction in Buffalo which is reflected as a formal statement issued by the P. R. T. Men and Management Committee explains, in the one-cent an hour reduction here.

This is the second reduction accepted by the men in the last five months. The first was ordered last May, and by it the wages of the conductors and motormen were reduced from 72½ cents an hour to 65 cents an hour. The latest reduction will bring the rate for these workers down to 64 cents an hour. Though coming to a considerable amount in the aggregate, the reduction will not seriously inconvenience the men, as for those working a ten-hour and a six-day week it would mean only 90 cents less weekly.

The men accepted this second reduction, as they did the first, in a friendly spirit, their leaders endorsing the idea that it was necessary and in accord with the trend of the times.

Company's Reasons for Reductions
The company's reasons for the reduction are explained in full in the following statement:

"This Buffalo wage adjustment was in general five cents per hour for all hourly rate occupations. Under the Four-City Average, a reduction of five cents per hour in one city would represent a reduction of one and one-quarter cents applied to Philadelphia, but as we have not observed the fraction of one-quarter cent per hour in our rates of pay, the reduction in Philadelphia on account of a five-cent

Continued on Page Two, Column Two

SPAN REPORTS NEW SUCCESSES IN MOROCCO

MADRID, Sept. 24.—Spanish forces engaged against Moorish tribesmen southwest of Melilla began a new advance yesterday, it is officially announced here. Columns debouched from Zoco el Arba and Nador, and gained considerable ground. There was a rumor in the Bourse that Seluan had been recaptured from the Moroccans.

NEW DIRECTOR OF NAVAL INTELLIGENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Captain Luke Monahan has been detailed as director of naval intelligence, relieving Rear Admiral Andrew Long, who was recently assigned as chief of Staff of the Atlantic Fleet. Captain Monahan was detached as commander of the U. S. S. Nevada of the Atlantic Fleet to assume his new assignment.

ANOTHER CUT IN BUILDING TRADE WAGES

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—An agreement on wage adjustments, the second in Pittsburgh building trades within a week, has been reached by representatives of Sheet Metal Contractors' Association and Sheet Metal Workers Local No. 12. The new rate is $1 an hour for an eight-hour day, or a cut of $1 a day from the rate which existed prior to June 1. The carpenters earlier this week accepted the same wage scale as the metal workers.

SHIP BURNED ENROUTE TO PORTO RICO

MOBILE, ALA., Sept. 24.—While in the Crooked Island Passage enroute from Gulfport to Porto Rico, the American schooner Joan A. Beckmann was burned, according to information received in Mobile today. The Beckmann, 367 tons, piloted by Captain Cook, sailed from Gulfport a few days ago with a cargo of lumber.

HELLED IN TRIPLE STABBING

Two Men in Hospital After Brawl in Saloon

John J. Eschally, fifty-two years old, 1347 Walnut street, was held in $500 bail for a further hearing next Sunday by Magistrate Price today for a triple stab wound in his forehead last night.

Eschally's alleged victims were Charles Heine, 2117 Bellevue street, Robert Hoffman, 2102 Westmoreland street, and Richard Carr, 2116 Westmoreland street.

Two of the men are in the Samaritan Hospital, Heine with a stab wound near his head and another in his back, and Hoffman with cuts in his ribs and back. Carr, stabbed in the arm, was treated and sent home.

The fight occurred in a saloon at Twenty-first and Malvern streets.

BUTTON IN CHILD'S NOSE

Surgeons Work Nearly an Hour in Removing Obstruction

John Sarazynski, three years old, of 1224 Sheridan street, Camden, was taken to the Homopapic Hospital this morning with a button in his nose.

The surgeons worked for an hour before they could dislodge it.

Jury Strike Leader

MRS. EDWARD A. YARNALL, Mrs. Yarnall, of Swarthmore, is the leader of six women and five men on the Delaware County Grand Jury who have struck because they say the other jurors refused to vote indictments of Chester gamblers despite sufficiency of evidence.

ROBBER BINDS AND GAGS MAN, BUT GETS NO LOOT

Locked Safe Fails Armed Bandit in Passyunk Avenue Place

J. B. Minker, an employe in Woodward's food store, Passyunk avenue and Wharton street, was held up and gagged at 10 o'clock this morning by a bandit who fled when he discovered the owner of the place had not arrived to open the safe.

Minker escaped from his bonds in time to see the robber walking down Passyunk avenue. He raised a cry and about thirty persons joined in a chase, but the bandit escaped.

"This fellow walked in," Minker said, "showed me a gun and asked for everything I had. Then he pulled a rope from his pocket and bound my hands and made me walk to the back of the store. I told him the safe was locked. He made me walk down the cellar stairs and walked out after gagging me."

Names the Men
Although the evidence was such that true bills should have been returned, Mrs. Yarnall said today, "The same nine men voted consistently against them."

She said the men who had taken this action were William H. Bradley, Andrew Burns, Herman Dickerson, Benjamin Evans, Benjamin Halldeman, Robert Lee, Benjamin Keen, Edward McGinnis and August Rothfus.

"There was a regular blot against the return of true bills," Mrs. Yarnall continued. "I really believe there was, the men were so absolutely consistent in their action. The District Attorney advised us there was no need of considering other cases until the court has decided what action should be taken."

"I have been asked by Elsie Moore, the foreman, to be the spokesman for our part in this striking, and I would like to tell the court everything that took place. It is simply outrageous."

Mrs. Yarnall was asked whether she believed friendship existed between some members of the jury and the gamblers.

Has Her Own Opinion
"I have my personal opinion, but I don't want to state it just now," she said. "So have the other members of the jury who are with me. It is simply a matter of drawing obvious conclusions."

"We have four more cases of gambling to be brought before the jury for return of true bills. We don't want to know the names of the gamblers, we don't want to talk of those things which come to their attention. The women here said conditions within the body are such that they are forced to speak."

NAB 3 AS BANDITS; 2 ESCAPE

Oakmont Police Run Down Men After Gun Fight

Police Chief Lounie, of Oakmont, and two of his men captured three supposed automobile bandits early this morning. Two other bandits escaped after a five-minute chase punctuated by revolver shots on both sides.

The bandits were surprised trying to break into the Penn Hotel at Bryn Mawr. The three arrested gave their names as Tony Hagan, Anton Wolf and Joe Brown, all of Bethlehem.

SHOULDERS TO OPEN WEEK

Fair Weather With Normal Temperature to Follow

Washington, Sept. 24.—(By A. P.) Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

North and Middle Atlantic States: showers at beginning of week and again in middle of week, with otherwise fair to normal temperatures.