

"NEW HAVEN IS LEADING." That's what Miss Ellen Perino was saying when the photographer snapped her at Havre de Grace.

RACING AT HAVRE DE GRACE. Three of the horses in a claiming steeplechase event are shown as they go over the jump on the Maryland track. James A. Sheridan, the last horse in the etching, won the race. The other horses are Reddest (right) and New Haven. Barret was the winning rider. At the right we show a winner in a two-year-old race. The lone horse is Dovesroost, owned by Miss A. Solomon and ridden by Rowan.

WHAT'S HE TELLING THE BRITISH LAD? Charlie Chaplin is perched on an iron railing with an admirer. Wonder if the youngster wants to know anything about pie throwing?

MIGHTY CLOSE BATTLE—WE'LL SAY. It is true that the Penn Charter football eleven finished a game with the Lansdowne High School, yesterday afternoon, with the score 7-6 in the city boys' favor, but oh, how they had to fight! At the left is Wilcox, the Lansdowne captain. The other lad is the proud leader of the conquering eleven. The Lansdowne girls rooted hard for their team.

BETWEEN THE CHUKKERS. J. C. Cowdin, of the Rockaway polo team, putting on a heavy coat, as the game is halted.

MISS DELPHINE HEYL. This Washington debutante is proud of her real Teddy bear pet. She calls it "Honey".

NEW KIND OF SCOOTER. The Berlin people call this vehicle a scootomobile. No standing necessary, as they have provided a seat for the driver.

P. G. SMITH (captain) and J. L. Galbraith, of the Northeast High School tennis team. They will take part in the interscholastic league matches.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS. The little gentleman is doing his very best to assist the London "Bobby" to win what was supposed to be a one-man-tug-of-war.

JOHN R. WIGGINS talks on cost of building in an Editorial Page interview.

MRS. L. MAXFIELD, widow of Commander Maxfield, commander of ZR-2.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

HARRY HORNER (left), 2214 South Hicks street, and Harry Knopp, 3806 North Marshall street, casing in books, in the factory of the J. B. Lippincott Co., publishers, 227 South Sixth street. Horner places the leaves and cover in the casing machine.

STAR HOCKEY PLAYERS. Miss Elizabeth Wiener (left) and Mrs. Richard Nalle, members of the All-Philadelphia girls' team, now planning to play British women.

JOHN W. HOFFERBERT, 3417 North Marshall street. Route: Thirtieth to Broad, Arch to Race.

MAIL

AN EXPERT SHOT. Corporal Rodney W. Shaver, of the State Police, stationed at Ambler. He was busy figuring out his score in his revolver tests, when the photographer met him.

AN EXPERT SHOT. Corporal Rodney W. Shaver, of the State Police, stationed at Ambler. He was busy figuring out his score in his revolver tests, when the photographer met him.