

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES
Janet's Burglar
By DADDY

Jack and Janet hear a burglar in the house. When they try to catch him he catches them. Janet gives him one of Mr. Pieman's magic cookies and when the burglar nibbles upon it he becomes as tiny as a doll.

CHAPTER III
Mr. Burglar's Punching Bag

THE burglar who had come to rob the home of Jack and Janet was surprised and scared. He was Mr. Pieman, given to him by Janet, had made him as small as a doll. Janet took off the marks on her mouth and he was large. Then she freed him from the bands which held him. "I'm going to give that burglar a thrashing," blustered Janet, as soon as she was taken from his mouth. "You wouldn't thrash any one so much smaller than you, would you, Jack?" "I hadn't thought about the change in the burglar's size," he said. "I'll not thrash him. I'll just turn him over to the police to be put in jail."

"But he is my burglar," insisted Janet. "I caught him, and I don't want him put in jail. I want to make him good." Janet picked up the tiny burglar and began to stroke him as one would a kitten. But the burglar didn't seem to be petted. He was still bad, even though he was so small. He struggled like a caught rat and he tried to get like a caught rat and he tried to get like a caught rat. She dropped him in a hurry. Then she picked him up again. This time by one leg, and held him upside down. Then he couldn't bite her. "Will you be good?" Janet asked him. "I'll let you go if you stop sinking me." The burglar wagged his head. "Whether it was because Janet was shaking him or because he meant to say 'yes' to her question, she couldn't tell, but she took it as meaning 'yes' and let him down.

"Now what will you do with him?" asked Jack. Janet thought of the matter over. Then she remembered how Judge Sense had helped to cure the badness of Bobby Bully, the boy who had smashed the dolls. "I'll take him to Judge Sense," she said. "He will judge Mr. Burglar."

That seemed a good idea to Jack, so he and Janet tied a string around Mr. Burglar under the arms and, seizing him by the string, they carried him to the wall of the Mysterious Garden. Jack tapped on the wall and the secret door opened. Jack and Janet were much too large to creep through the secret door, but they nibbled on one of Mr. Pieman's cookies and that made them small enough to go through the door.

But being made small right then was a mistake for they were now smaller than Mr. Burglar. He went through the door ahead of them, but no sooner and the door swung shut behind them than he turned upon them.

"Now I have you!" he said. "I'll teach you children to play tricks on a big burglar."

He started after them, and he might have handled them roughly if Bobby Bouncer, Jack's rubber ball, who happened to be visiting in the garden, had not rolled between him and Jack and Janet.

"Get out of my way so I can thrash these children!" roared the burglar. He aimed a mighty blow at Bobby Bouncer's nose, sending Bobby rattling back against the wall. Bobby Bouncer being a rubber ball, didn't stay against the wall—he smartly bounced back and hit Mr. Burglar square in the face, knocking him head over heels.

Mr. Burglar jumped that on the ground, and Jack, Janet and Bobby Bouncer promptly sat upon him.

(In the next chapter Mr. Burglar meets a new kind of policeman, and is taken before Judge Sense.

Read Your Character
By Digby Phillips

The Sublime Bump
Have you ever known people who revel in events and facts that are startling, stupendous, terrible or sublime? You probably have, for such people are quite numerous. And in all of them you will find, if you take the trouble to look for it, more than the usual development of a certain section of the skull. You can locate the exact spot in this way. Look at the side of the person's head. Mentally draw a line upward from the ear, slanting forward just at a slight angle, so that it is not quite perpendicular. On this line, about halfway from the ear to the top of the head is situated the bump of sublimity. Persons whose skulls are well developed in this section are appealed to very readily by anything that is extremely unusual, particularly by things which are tremendous in size, force or import.

If they're artists they will paint storms at sea, or battle scenes, towering cliffs. If they're writers they will have unusual facility and leaning toward writing of such subjects. They make excellent newspapermen, for what is generally called the "nose for news" is in reality principally the bump of sublimity.

They are the people who never get done wondering at the tremendous size of the sun as compared with the earth, and find joy in contemplating the fact that swift as light it takes it three and a half years to reach the earth from certain stars. They are more than usually impressed with the grandeur of the Grand Canyon, and hold their breaths in awe upon surveying the city from its tallest building. They find breathing a heavy snowstorm invigorating and great fun, instead of merely an annoyance and a discomfort. As fishermen they're the fellows who catch those awfully big ones you hear about but never see, and as baseball fans their interest centers in the home runs that go over the fence rather than in the intricacies of when to bunt or seek a base on balls.

Tomorrow—Blond vs. Brunette Domes

Decorative Glass
Amber, Purple, Blue, Turquoise

Wright Tyndale & van Roden
1212 Chestnut Street

Design of bedroom interior approved by Good Housekeeping's Department of Furnishings and Decorations. The Barcalo twin shown is number 2150, finished in rich mahogany, walnut or oak.

Which room is the heart of a home?

WHEN you have been away, and you thought of your own home, what room came before your eyes? Wasn't it your bedroom—with its pretty furniture, its walls hung with friendly pictures, and a comfortable bed—your own bed?

Always a bedroom symbolizes the home. It is its very heart. There you find the quiet, contentment, and rest that makes "home sweet home."

And so this room should be more pleasant, more beautiful than any other. Here should be harmony. Each piece of furniture should be more than useful—it should have an artistic reason for being.

If you feel that a bedroom needs a bedstead exquisite in design and satisfying in comfort—you might ask your dealer to show you some of the latest Barcalo Beds. They come in styles that harmonize with any scheme of decoration.

Barcalo Beds are built of sturdy steel—built not to creak—built to last for more than a generation.

They are an economy—not only because they are low in price—but chiefly because they will never go out of style. Rich simplicity has been created by the world's master designers for every Barcalo Bed.

Equipped with Barcalo springs and mattress—they are the everything of comfort and contentment.

BARCALO BEDS

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK
By Lee Pape

IT PAYS TO WAIT

Scene, a baby sleeping by itself. First kidnapper. There's one now. Quick! 2nd kidnapper. It is a boy or a girl? First kidnapper. Why do you care? We want you attend to business! You're a heck of a kidnapper. All right, wait, you all ways getting mad about?

Act 2. Scene, kidnappers cave, 10 years later. First kidnapper. Hay, wait, you say, we take that baby back without waiting for the ransom? Last night I dreamed the mother was worrying (fear and always in getting tired of hearing it) all the time. 2nd kidnapper. Aw, well, you've stood it this long, you wait to be used to it now. First kidnapper. Aw, you've always got some sense to everything, you have. Wait, the one asking you a question? 2nd kidnapper. Wait, you always half to get mad for?

Act 3. Scene, the same, 15 years later. First kidnapper. I don't care what you say, I'm going to take that baby back soon and get something else to do besides listen to it cry all day long, and always just think how its mother must feel by this time. And don't give me any argument about it either. 2nd kidnapper. You ain't mad agen are you?

Act 4. Scene, the baby's house, one year later. The baby's mother. Hark was that a look at the door? The baby's father. If it wasn't it was a pretty good of a imitation. The baby's mother. All go and look, make it the baby, who can tell? Well, can it if it ain't? Oh, joy, it pays to wait.

The end.

Things You'll Love to Make

Dolly's Tricotee Dress

No doubt you have silk stockings of various colors that have outworn their usefulness. Cut out the good portions of one and make DOLLY'S TRICOTEE DRESS from it. Cut straight down the stocking. Measure the length of dolly. For the neck, cut out the neck. Cut out the neck. Cut out the neck. Face the open sleeves. Stitch around the bottom edges. Hem the skirt, and dolly has a smart TRICOTE DRESS. FLOMA.

WANAMAKER'S

Important Repricing of Good Shoes for All the Family

WANAMAKER'S DOWN STAIRS STORE

School Shoes for Girls and Boys
Shoes for Men and Young Men
Pumps, Oxfords and High Shoes for Women
—Many Marked at Savings of a Third to a Half

A thoroughly helpful sale of shoes of sound, dependable quality at real savings. Every pair of shoes in this sale is from our own stock. Every pair can be depended upon for correct style, good service and all-around satisfaction. Sizes for everybody, though in some styles sizes may be somewhat broken.

Women's Shoes

$3.75 for tan Oxford ties and tan pumps with one strap. These have low, medium or Cuban heels, and all have welted soles. Exactly the type of street shoes that women wear all winter long with spats or wool stockings.

$5.25 pair for tan or black laced high shoes with welted soles and low, medium or Cuban heels.

$5.25 pair for black kidskin or calfskin Oxford ties.

Children's Shoes

$1 for little children's button shoes of tan or black leather. Sizes 2 to 3 1/2.

$2 for girls' black laced school shoes. Sizes 8 1/2 to 2.

$2 for girls' tan Oxfords, sizes 8 1/2 to 2.

$3.25 for girls' tan laced school shoes, sizes 8 1/2 to 2. (Chestnut)

Men's Shoes
(Gallery, Market)

$3.75 pair for men's high shoes or Oxfords of black or dark tan leather. English lasts or with wide toes.

Boys' Shoes
(Gallery, Market)

$2.90 for boys' black or tan leather school shoes, built for hard wear. Sizes 9 to 13 1/2 for small boys; sizes 1 to 5 1/2 for larger boys.

$3.75 for boys' black or tan leather shoes, English or wide-toe lasts, sizes 1 to 5 1/2. (Gallery, Market)

Duvelty and Velvet Combine in These Charming Hats

A hat may have a crown and upper brim of russet duvelty and a facing of dark blue velvet, thus qualifying for both becomingness and smartness. Duvelty is being tucked, too, and what feathers are being used are very sure of themselves.

Brown and all-black hats of duvelty show only the simple trimming of wide crepe ribbon, but distinguished lines lift them well out of the commonplace.

The first of the Winter scarlets are appearing and, amid the brown, yellow and russet tones, stand out strikingly. Very bright blues keep them company.

Excellent Choosing Around $10
(Market)

A Third Less for Babies' Hand-Made Dresses
$1.65 to $3.50

Little Porto Rican dresses and slips, made of softest nainsooks and batistes, are sewn and embroidered by hand. There are some beautiful little frocks among them, with wee tucks, featherstitching, French knots, scalloping and fine embroidery. Long and short dresses and slips are for babies of 6 months to 2 years. (Central)

Women's New Strap-Wrist Gloves Arrive

$3.50 for strap-wrist gloves of brown, tan, black or gray kidskin, full pique sewn, with Paris-point stitching on the backs. $1.75 a pair for 2-class gloves of French glace lambskin, in tan, brown, gray and white. (Central)

Men's Suits Made to Measure of All-Wool Materials as Low as $30

This new service will be welcomed by men who want suits made to measure of dependable fabrics, with the fit guaranteed, and who do not wish to expend a great deal of money.

We will take your measure at once and the suit will be made quickly.

There is excellent selection among Fall and Winter materials that are all wool—the only kind of clothing Wanamaker's will have anything to do with.

You may get a suit for $30, $35 or up to $50, according to the material you choose.

In the Gallery Store for Men—a few steps down from Market Street. (Gallery, Market)

Crepe de Chine Tunic Blouses
$5.90

Wonderfully convenient affairs—a vote of thanks should go to their originator! A tunic blouse will transform an old skirt into a smart new frock or it can be worn over a tailored silk petticoat. The model sketched is in navy blue or black, edged with novelty silk braid.

French Voile Blouses
Special at $1.25

Imagine a dainty white blouse of French voile for $1.25! These are trimmed with tucking and laces and are about half price. (Market)

Interesting Autumn Skirts, $4.75 to $13.50

Plaids—delightful plaids!—begin as low as $5.75 and go, very gradually for there are many of them, up to $13.50. That includes the handsome prunellas with all sorts of plaids, checks and stripes, disclosed in walking, under the plain-color upper side of box plaids.

Neat, well-tailored dark serge skirts are $4.75 to $6.75, with a especially good value in a box-pleated serge at $5.75. (Market)

Certain Blue Serge Dresses at $7.50, $8.75 and $10 Are Special

Nearly every busy woman needs one or two practical serge dresses for general wear. Such dresses must be simple, comfortable and, preferably, inexpensive.

These dresses fill the requirements perfectly. There are fully twenty-five different styles—coat dresses, straight-line dresses, some trimmed with braid, some embroidered with wool, silk or beads.

At $15, $16.75 and $20 Here are frocks of tricotine, Canton crepe, chambray and crepe de chine, as well as many blue serges.

Some show wee ruffles of narrow ribbon. Some are trimmed with silk striped knitted jersey. One of the crepe de chine dresses has long, flowing sleeves. Another is combined with Georgette crepe.

Sample Dresses—Specially Priced

Just one or two of a kind and all emphasizing the newest fashions. They are of heavy Canton crepe and crepe de chine with short or long sleeves, some trimmed with steel beads or silk tassels. A few of fine Duport tulle or crepe meteor. Mostly in navy blue and black. $8.75 $20 (Market)

Center Aisle Opportunities

100 Velvet Hats, Beautifully Young, at $3 and $3.85

Gay little hats to make one look her best every morning. Becoming colors in silky velvet. Pretty shapes with and without brims. Trimmed with jade-colored "earrings," silver tinsel, beads, silk-stitched velvet flowers, quaint little bows, and so on.

600 Corsets Are $2

A really pretty model of pink mercerized brocade, topless and with wide elastic and a neat finish of silk braid.

The flexible boning, the free hip space and the extra-strong garters, make this a comfortable corset for all occasions.

Just Arrived—Filet Net 35c and 45c

Lovely new curtain material to be used alone or with overdraperies. The large mesh lets in plenty of sunshine.

Plain or with woven-in figures in white, ivory and ecru. 36 inches wide.

East Aisle Opportunities

Wooden Bead Girdles 50c to $1.50

The newest "wrinkle" for the newest Fall fashions. Worn with blouses, sweaters, slip-on frocks and even coats, these girdles of many plain colors and combinations are most attractive.

Women's Silk Gloves, 50c

Heavy silk ones, lined with tulle. White, with black or white stitching, sizes 6 and 6 1/2. Black with black or white stitching, all sizes.