The Greatest Furniture Clearing of the Year Is Now

What Does It Mean That "He Is a Man of Straw"? friend is asking.

We passed the question along, and the answer was invariably.

"One who did not amount to much." Another said a person of no consequence.

Still another says a man of straw is one that is accepted as bail, as a matter of form. the is known to be worthless.

There are men all around us that count m larger the longer we know them.

[Signed] NOTM eptember 28, 1921.

So Many Handsome Coats Are Choosing Beaver Fur

One reason is that the warm brown shades, russet, ntine red and Sorrento blue, are very much in favor and one of these beaver is lovely.

These coats are made of Bolivia cloths and silk duvetyn. have enormous collars and deep cuffs of the fur, wide ings all the way to the hem, flying panels and sometimes are back capes trimmed with beaver.

A certain new cost has side banels made of several straps the material with wide pieces of the beaver at the

The prices start at $150 and mount to $375. (First Floor)

The Hanging Lantern Bag Is the Very Newest

It is one of the newcst and most attractive shapes in goldplated mesh bags. The top is square, with a mirror in the inside and the four corners of the mesh come together into a point with a tassel, exactly like hanging lantern.

Other new mesh bags have eval tops, and there are still others with flat frames and chain or strap handles. have the fashionable green-gold finish, and the prices range from $11 to $59. (Main Floor)

MOST Beautiful Black Beaded Handbags

we've ever had have just arrived from France, right at the time with the new vogue for black. They are beautifully made, as French bags are, and show many from Renee. It is garnitured with moleskin fur and encircled with a braided girdle of bluish silver cloth.

Copied from Rolande is a delightful afternoon gown of malay crepe de chine with panels formed of many wee brown moire ribbon bows.

Vionnet's idea in evening gowns is a soft tangerine Canton crepe with tiny quillings of velvet ribbon in the same color.

Shoulder straps of amethysts catch up a lovely gown of fuschia purple velvet and lace, copied from Miller Soeurs.

But so one might go on painting pictures in words of these very picturesque gowns, inspired, all of them, by Paris. The entire collection is lovely in line, color and material. They will be on exhibition yet tomorrow and Friday.

Good Selections in the China and Glassware Sale

It will be a good sale to the last moment, backed with splendid selections of dinner sets from all the great pottery districts of the world-French, English, American, Jaranese,

If you want a dinner set at any price, from $16.50 to 5400, and want it at a good, sound saving, now is the time to choose it.

If you want a piece of real cut glass, or a piece of light-cut glassware at half price, the assortment is still large and fine.

The cut glass selections are notably rich at savings of one-fourth to one-half

There is no shortage of goods. The sale will satisfy every reasonab'e need.

(Fourth Floor)

Housewares for Less for Two Days More

The September Housewares Sale ends with September and September is a short month. So any woman who likes to save good money on things she must buy some time in any event, will take advantage of these two remaining days.

Going On Here

Much might be said as to what this great after-clearing means to people who need some new furniture at prices that make it particularly worth having.

The one thing they will want to know is just what goods it offers them.

The answer is-about 5000 pieces and some hundreds of suits of Wanamaker furniture for all rooms at one-third to one-half less than regular prices.

The 5000 pieces are mostly individual or odd pieces and small groups of things, while the variety in suits goes from one or two to more than a dozen of a kind.

In the main this clearing is the inevitable upshot of the re-classification of stocks after the greatest August Furniture Sale on record.

The odd pieces and groups discovered in that process and now offered at such low markings are enough to make this a noteworthy sale in itself.

But, in addition, it includes several new shipments, some that came late for August selling, others secured in the meantime, and all of these have been put in for good measure at wonderfully low prices. Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Floors

Music and the Three "R's"

P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, says:

"After the beginnings of reading, writing, withmetic and geometry, music bus greater practical value than any other subject taught in the schools?"

This is a remarkable statement, coming as it does from the head of our educational system.
