The Best and Most Desirable Kinds of Furniture at One-Third to One-Half Below Regular Prices

A Father's Love in Some Respects Outshines All but the mother's.

He is a busy father, much absent, hard pressed with laborious work and unending cares, but never forgets the true son, for whom he would at any time give up his life.

The softness, gentleness and sweetness of mother is ever a full alabaster box, but the boy remembers that his father's strong, steady arm always seemed to him as mighty as that of Samson in his first years.

It Is a Pleasure to Offer Such Women's Coats as These at $32.50 and $37.50

The $37.50 coats were tailored in our own workrooms. They have all the careful workmanship and fine finishing of custom-made clothing.

Their material is a soft, thick, double-faced all-wool jersey in heather mixtures—bluish grays, brownish greens, greenish browns and purplish browns.

They are three-quarter length, loose fitting, with raglan sleeves, convertible collars, large pockets, belt, good satin lining to the waist, and a general "swagger" air that makes them admirable sports or street coats. More conservative is the $32.50 coat—a full-length model of wool velour, interlined and lined throughout with satin, and finished with a large fur collar of dyed cone. The pinch-tucked back and button trimming are very effective. In Malay or tortoise brown, navy blue or black. A quality we have not been able to offer for some years for $32.50.

The Beautiful Gowns That Had Their Inspiration in Paris

(though not all of them are Paris made)

are shown yet tomorrow in the Salons of Dress

"I saw nothing lovelier in Paris," a recently returned American tells us.

No. For these gowns are as beautiful as any that Paris contained this Autumn.

They are as wearable as they are beautiful, too—something that cannot be said of all exhibition gowns.

They are distinctive and elegant modes for afternoon, calling, reception, dinner and evening wear. And such is their artistic charm and originality that a wardrobe embellished with any one of them will be singularly and uniquely enriched.

Tomorrow evening the exhibition ends and the lovely toilettes retire to their glass cases, or to the homes of their new and fortunate possessors.
