CAN'T FIND $365,000 CHANDLER BONDS

Liberty Issues Supposed to Have Been in Safe Missing, Reber Says

BOOKKEEPING IS BLAMED

At least $365,000 in Liberty bonds that should have been in the safe of Chandler Brothers & Co. at the time of their failure, July 25, are missing, according to J. Howard Reber, attorney for the receivers.

Had Bookkeeping Blamed

Members of the firm have blamed the disappearance of these bonds upon poor bookkeeping. Mr. Reber is quite ready to admit this may be correct. In fact, he said today it might develop after all that the bonds never really existed, but had been entered upon the books in error, without any foundation in fact.

Began Own Investigation

"On July 25 last came the failure. The receivers then took hold of the books and started at the very beginning of the Liberty bond campaign. It was a question whether there had been bonds actually issued, or whether they had been given to banks as collateral for loans, by the firm, and had never been returned.

Underwood & Underwood HAROLD F. McCORMICK News that he and Mrs. McCormick were living under different roofs in Illinois came as a shock to society of the East and West.

and it will be modeled after the famous Hagenberg Gardens in Germany. At the Drake Hotel, Mr. Krenn said that no definite plans could be made until he had surveyed the location. "There is not much building now in Europe," said Mr. Krenn. "So I have come here and will remain perhaps a year. Mrs. McCormick promised that I would meet persons with whom it is possible I may make some arrangements. Who knows? I expect to develop the garden plans, but I may extend my activities to other things."

The bearded Dr. Hartmann, Mrs. McCormick's mentor in synthetic psychology, started back for Switzerland yesterday. Mrs. McCormick motored from the McCormick home at 1400 Lake Shore Drive, where she has been living since her return, Mr. McCormick being at Lake Forest, picked up the physician at the Drake Hotel and saw him aboard the Twentieth Century Limited.

Special Presentation of Hurlingham Club Overcoats

All the windows on one side of our store have been given over to a display of this wonderful Overcoat exclusively made and exclusively sold in Philadelphia by our store.

$30 and $35

They are patterned after the latest English overcoat now being worn by English gentlemen.

We predict that they will be the most popular overcoat created by our store since we introduced our famous Shawl-Collar overcoat some seasons ago.

And the prices are exceptional—when you consider the wonderful quality of the cloths—striking herringbones, beautiful novelties, handsome plaid backs in virtually every color of the rainbow—you will agree with us that there is not to be found anything comparable with them in the way of an overcoat.
