GRISWOLD GIFTS WORTH $1,000,000

Estate Composed of Houses, Land, Bonds, Stocks and Wonderful Jewels

ONLY $85,000 REMAINING

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger. Atlantic City, Oct. 6.—An estate worth $500,000 in 1915 and twice that amount two years later, was turned over on deed of trust to Mrs. Mary Driscoll by Mrs. Gerry Griswold in 1915, according to the testimony of John H. Cross, Baltimore, real estate expert, and for years in charge of Mrs. Griswold's estate there.

The estate was composed of hundreds of houses and apartments, in Baltimore, ground rents from wide and valuable lands underlying other valuable buildings, stocks and bonds and wonderful jewels garnered from all over the world.

Testimony was given before a packed courtroom here this morning in the suit which Countess Anna St. Clair DuContin, wife of an Indian nobleman, and daughter of Mrs. Griswold, is bringing in the effort to wrest from the wife of the former Atlantic City butcher all or a share of a generous $85,000 residue of the estate left after the death of the former social belle here a few months ago.

Figures Called Conservative. Declaring his belief that his figures were within a few thousands of dollars either way in valuation of the former estate of Mrs. Griswold, Cross stated that although the value of the property for the Driscoll family interests would allow his judgment to be shaken, he told the collection of rents and interest money, which brought Mrs. Griswold an income which averaged at between $20,000 and $30,000 in the old days of low rents, and declared that, in the judgment of any expert, the increase when rents and other real estate values are taken into account.

2 SISTERS, 5 MEN ARE ACCUSED OF PRIMARY FRAUD

Misses Alice and Amy Smith, 625 North 20th Street, Aided in Conspiracy, Is Charge

WARRANTS ARE SERVED IN FIFTEENTH WARD CASE

Election frauds at the recent primary were alleged against two women and five men in the Fifteenth Ward by the Committee of Seventy today which obtained warrants for all said to be involved.

Alice Smith and Amy Smith, her sister, 625 North Twentieth street, are the women named, the first members of their sex in Philadelphia's history to be formally accused in an alleged election conspiracy case.

The others for whom warrants were issued by Magistrate Renshaw are: John J. McMillin, 1928 North street, a probation officer in the Municipal Court; C. Paul, 529 North Nineteenth street; John J. O'Brien, 534 North Nineteenth street; Thomas Whalen, 1936 Mount Vernon street, and Walter Brunner, 1910 Fairmount avenue.

Said to Have Marked Ballots. McMillin, according to E. L. D. Riegel, secretary of the Committee of Seventy, is accused of taking from twelve to twenty-four Democratic ballots into the back room of the polling place, a saloon at 265 North Twentieth street. He is said to have marked the ballots for candidates running for Judge of election and other election officers.

Charges Made. Mr. Riegel, secretary, said the defendants are charged with aiding and abetting a conspiracy to prevent a free and fair election, unlawfully having access to the ballot boxes, tampering with the ballots, and tampering with the count of the ballots.

Le Roy C. Kinsey, 218 South Fourth street, North Wales, a former secretary, disappeared from home September 15, shortly before the date set for his marriage to a Lassalle girl, and his family fear he may have been murdered. The news of his disappearance was made public only today, after private detectives had traced vainly for three weeks to get some idea of his whereabouts in Philadelphia and the police of other cities vainly.

Worked in This City. Kinsey worked in Philadelphia for a time. He was employed by Lipshutz & Co., wholesale grocers, North Delaware street, but had been with them since August, 1918. He was discharged by the company, and was employed by all grocers in the neighborhood of North Wales. It was a party when he was discharged, but he did not go to work the next morning, and after a few weeks he gave up his job and was never seen again.

MAJOR TO ENFORCE PENALTY ON U. G. I. IF DELAY KEEPS UP

Urges Council to Settle Problem at Once or City Will Collect $500 Daily Fines

$40,500 NOW DUE FOR LOW STANDARD BEING SUPPLIED

Quick action by Council on the gas question or the collection by the city of the daily fines accruing against the United Gas Improvement Company, now a total of $40,500, were the alternatives placed sharply before Council this afternoon by Mayor Moore.

The gas company, which operates the city-owned gas works under the 1897 lease, is subject to a fine of $500 a day for any failure to comply with the lease terms regarding the tests, quality or candlepower of its gas. The lease calls for gas of a 22 candlepower standard, whereas the company for more than a year has been supplying 530 British thermal unit gas.

This ordinance was vetoed by the Mayor July 28, 1921, which veto was permitted by the Council to stand. The Mayor then notified the United Gas Improvement Company of the penalty clause, since it was not tendering to the city the twenty-two candlepower standard provided for in the contract.

The City Solicitor also was directed to give consideration to any action which might be necessary to protect the city against the company's default, but no legal action has been taken because of the further consideration of the gas question by Council.

The $500 a day penalty, however, has been running until it now amounts to the aggregate of $40,500. There is no doubt that the city is entitled to this amount, which is still pending, service, but not in accordance with the terms of the contract, if Council desires to grant the temporary relief of the penalty.

Other matters before Council this afternoon are the repeal of the ordinance locating a municipal incineration plant on the Thirty-eighth ward, whether or not all the election officers will receive an extra $5 for their work on the primary and the negative report of the Finance Committee on the Administration's $150,000 loan.

It is expected the incinerating plant proposal will be passed expeditiously, but the Finance Committee report, which is the active promoter of the bill, which throws a job into the city street cleaning plan.

The additional compensation for election officers has been suggested because of the extraordinary labor and length of time required for the counting of the primary and the negative report of the Finance Committee on the Administration's $150,000 loan.

G. O. P. SENATORS TRY TO AGREE ON SALES TAX PLAN

Modification of Smoot Proposal Discussed as Basis for Compromise

HARDING WOULD ACCEPT ARRANGEMENT, IS BELIEF

By CLINTON W. GILBERT. Staff Correspondent Evening Public Ledger. Copyright 1921, by Public Ledger Company. Washington, Oct. 6.—Senator Lodge had a long conference with President Harding today. It was indicated that the Republicans in the Senate were now trying to reach an agreement upon the Smoot manufacturer's sales tax.

Apparently the President is agreeable to this tax as a compromise measure if enough Republicans can be gotten together in its support to give it a chance of acceptance by the Senate. What the President essentially has done is to divide the Republican ranks which imperils any tax legislation during this session.

If the Republican leaders can unite anything approaching a majority for a program the President will use all his influence to line up enough other Republicans to put the measure through.

Harding Holds Back. The President is being strongly urged to go personally to the Senate and urge a tax program on it. But he has been holding off until a measure of union among the various groups in the upper house is in sight. He has been unwilling to appear there in behalf of some plan which will be subsequently defeated.

One objection which the farm States have to the Smoot plan is that it does not make it sufficiently clear what are manufactured products for purposes of taxation. The agricultural bloc is afraid that it will fall on some farm products, for example, sugar, coffee, and other goods, which are not manufactured in this country.
