

UNEMPLOYED LIST GROWING SMALLER

Fewer Persons Registered at State Bureaus Than Month Ago

OUTLOOK MUCH BRIGHTER

By the Associated Press.
Harrisburg, Oct. 6.—Fewer persons are registered for jobs at six of the ten branches of the State Bureau of Employment than a month ago and most of the offices have found an earlier situation, except in a few cases, according to a summary of supplemental conditions made from reports of branch offices by R. J. Peters, director of the State Bureau.

In reporting to F. B. Connelley, Commissioner of Labor, Mr. Peters mentions the actual growth of men in railroad shops, many in converting and other supply lines, the relief afforded by the starting of various public works and some building operations. The mining situation, however, is not reported as so favorable as that of the steel and other manufacturing and some operations, because of the number of unemployed in the Pittsburgh district.

On the whole, says Mr. Peters, things are improving, although in the two large cities there are still many unemployed whose number may be increased by suspension of certain seasonal occupations. One of the interesting facts found was that in many sections farmers have been keeping men at work even after harvesting. The professional and skilled workers registered for work at many of the branch offices is still large.

Approximately 287,000 persons have registered with the bureau, estimated to be about 127,000 men, the same as a month ago, out of work but about 100 fewer women. In the Pittsburgh district, however, the unemployed are given as 92,800, an increase of more than 4,000 in a month. Altoona, which reported 18,500 idle on September 1, has 16,810 idle now. Erie has about the same, at 14,500, while Harrisburg shows 12,885 against 13,435 a month ago. Johnstown also shows an improvement with 12,040 against 13,800 a month ago. McKeesport's 5975 has been cut to 4740, and Scranton shows 14,000 idle against 16,000 last month. Williamsport and New Kensington are almost stationary.

OPEN UNITARIAN CAMPAIGN TO CONVINCING COLLEGE MEN

Church Leaders Deny Modern Religion Conflicts With Science

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 6.—(City A. P.)—The first step in a campaign by the Unitarian Church to carry religion to students in leading colleges and universities of the country was taken today by the General Conference of the Church. The conference, being held in Detroit, was moved here for the day.

According to Church leaders, an effort will be made "to prove to university students throughout the United States and Canada that there is nothing in modern religion that cannot be accepted in the light of modern science."

"The responsibility of the Church in its work among university students is to set the Christian vision of a spiritual democracy before them as a worthy, while-entirely," Prof. Henry F. Cope, of Chicago, general secretary of the church's Education Society, told the delegates.

"Much of the current church work in college centers is worthless because it proceeds on the assumption that the needs of students and the home folks are identical. The home folks are living in the past and in the present, while the students are looking to the future. We must reach them through their studies, their social life and their athletic endeavors."

M'CORMICKS' RIFT BLAMED ON HOBBY

Wife's Devotion to Psycho Plans Given as Cause of Separation

DENY RUMORS OF WALSKA

New York, Oct. 6.—Friends of Harold F. McCormick yesterday replied to what they term the "whispering campaign" of innuendo emanating from certain local and financial quarters. These innuendoes have been marked since the troubles of Alexander Smith Cochran and his temperamental wife, Mine Ganna Walska, flared into public notice. They have been given renewed circulation since Mr. McCormick's announcement of his separation from Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

An authoritative explanation of the rift between Mr. and Mrs. McCormick in the Walska-Cochran feud was given here today.

In the first place, the multi-millionaire president of the International Harvester Company and his wife, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, have not been "spiritual" rapport for some time.

Spiritual Attention

This spiritual "attention" has not been marked until the last twelve months, when Mrs. McCormick from without a forceful, original character with the "nervous complex" always in the ascendant embarked upon new and daring experiments in synthetic psychology.

These experiments included a gradual breaking away, a "progression," in the words of Mrs. McCormick, of the teachings of Dr. Carl Jung, noted psycho-analyst, in whose retreat near Zurich, Switzerland, Mrs. McCormick found harbor eight and a half years ago, at the beginning of her period of "voluntary exile" from America.

Although Mr. McCormick is himself sympathetic with the teachings of Dr. Jung, he considered Mrs. McCormick's plans to "advance" Jung's teachings and to establish a psychological school of her own, bizarre. Nevertheless, during her recent meeting in Europe, Mr. McCormick found his wife more determined than ever to proceed along her own lines of mental development.

He found that she had changed in

ADVISES RED CROSS AGAINST DISARMING

Gen. Lejeune, Marine Corps Chief, Urges Efficient Army and Navy

HOPES FOR LASTING PEACE

By the Associated Press.
Columbus, O., Oct. 6.—Maintenance of an efficient army and navy as against total disarmament was urged by Major General John A. Lejeune, commander of the United States Marine Corps, and Robert G. Woodside, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, in addresses at the convention of the American Red Cross last night.

Hope for everlasting peace, however, was voiced by both these military men, who asserted no one hates war as much as those who have been through it.

"Service to humanity—service to those who serve. It not only helps those who are served, but lifts us up. That is the basis of the Red Cross."

Such is the conception of the program of the organization as summed up by John Barton Payne, newly appointed chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, in his first appearance in the active leadership of the organization. National Commander John G. Emer, of the American Legion, said the American people owe 100 per cent obligation to the service men.

Extension of the benefits of vocational training to widows and children of those who died in the service, and inducement of corporations to give employment to former service men in preference to "foreigners," was urged by Mr. Woodside. He also favored adjusted compensation for all service men and aid to the disabled.

Reunions of overseas and home base workers will feature today's sessions. Operations abroad will be outlined by Dr. A. Ross Hill, vice chairman in charge of foreign operations, at the afternoon session. Charles R. Crane, former Ambassador to China, will tell of the value of Red Cross service to suffering foreign peoples.

OPPOSE HIGHER TAX RATES

Boroughs Adjacent to London Demand Equalization of Levy in City

London, Oct. 6.—(By A. P.)—Resolutions opposing the levy of any local rates, except those to meet local needs and the requirements of the Poor Law, were adopted by the Council of the Borough of Stoney, a section of London, last night.

These resolutions are identical with those recently adopted by the Borough Councils of Bethnal Green and Leyton, other London suburbs. The borough councillors of Poplar were placed in a minority recently for opposing with approval their refusal to comply with an order from the City Council to raise tax rates.

Other speakers include Mrs. August Belmont, member of the Central Committee; Dr. William A. Evans, former president of the American Health Association; Dr. James W. Robertson, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Canadian Red Cross; Major General Meritt W. Ireland, Surgeon General U. S. A.; Rear Admiral Stitts, Surgeon General, U. S. N.; Hugh S. Cumming, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service; Major Julia Stinson, superintendent of the Army Nurse Corps and dean of the Army School of Nursing; and Mrs. Tomah H. Highler, superintendent of the Navy Nurse Corps.

Animal Killed and Philadelphia Motorist Injured
Mahanoy City, Pa., Oct. 6.—Horace Gottschall, of Philadelphia, making a sharp turn on the State highway at Lost Creek, near here today, to avoid running down a valuable Alredale, overturned his car and suffered concussion of the brain. Gottschall's scalp and face were cut and an ear was almost severed. He was attended by a local physician and sent to his home. The dog was ground to death in the spokes. The City Directors does not contain the name of Horace Gottschall.
