So Many New Things and So Much That Is Lower in Price

Slackerism During the War Became Odious

especially in America. Any sort of inefficiency is a form of slackerism. A schoolboy and a college mate should remember this. His teacher will not like to use the word odious, but she writes it down somewhere that so and so is a slacker.

To "loaf" on any job or avoid any plain duty is slackerism. A father or mother too busy to train a son or daughter in honor, honesty and straightforwardness is likely to regret it as a serious mistake.

[Signed] JOhn Mauanate October 8, 1921.

Many of the Prettiest New Hats Display Lace

It is a ripple of the Spanish wave, of course-this use of lace on Winter millinery. And a very softening and becoming fashion it is, too, and one that women almost universally like.

Another fancy of the year is for rich-colored French flowers of velvet and silk.

Both these millinery tendencies will be shown on the new hats in the Gray Salons Monday. Some copy French originals. Others were designed here. All are beautiful and effective. They are priced $15, $18, $20 and up to $30. (Second Floor) in the new tasseled cords and chains, and it is well that it does, for these ornaments are often the accent which makes the dress, especially when the latter is severe in line.

The cords are of black silk and the chains silver plated. with imitation pearl beads: the tassels are of pearl beads finished with little imitation jade beads or with rhinestone mountings. Prices are $6.50 to $21. (Main Floor)

Real Irish Laces From Ireland

Fine though the Irish lace is which is made in China, that which comes from the Emerald Isle has a quality of its own which appeals to the lovers of this loveliest of handwork.

Women's Afternoon, Calling and Reception Gowns of Velvet

Few of these will meet their duplicates, for they are nearly all one-of-a-kind costumes.

Each is of soft, supple chiffon velvet-burgundy wine velvet, black velvet with a glint of coral and jet; ruby velvet that shimmers like a jewel at every motion; fuchsia velvet with collar and girdle of chinchilla fur; black velvet with ermine garniture; mahogany velvet with long tight sleeves; coppery red gold velvet with tiny shoulder sleeves; black velvet with wide Chinese sleeves of red-and-gold velvet brocade; sapphire velvet with heavy ropes or pointed steel beads-these and many more.

Each is lovely, not only in color and material, but in the fashion of the gown.

Prices begin with a checked velvet street or calling gown at $65 and go up to $265. (First Floor)

A Girdle for Every Gown So It Would Seem

That is the only way we can account for the marvelous number of jet and beaded girdles that women are buying these days. And we are bringing in new shipments as fast as we can.

The black jet girdles are especially fashionable, and there are numerous styles, some with large cabochons connected by beads or jet. Bright cherry red with black is another favorite, but a woman can find almost any color she wants.

In fact, the Dress-Trimming Store has never had such a large collection of these girdles and it is quite certain there is none to equal it elsewhere. From $1.75 to $25. (Main Floor)

Men's Fine Sports Shirts of English Flannel

The material in these shirts is wonderfully soft and fine and they come in about a dozen different designs

They have attached soft collars and wristband cuffs. Price, $7.50.

A New Vagabond Book

is "Working North From Patagonia," by Harry A. Franck. Price, $5. The enormous continent of South America is traversed by Mr. Franck from its extreme south to its northeast corner-from Argentina to Brazil. He sees the Rio de la Plata and the "turbid Amazon;" the pampas and the "Paris of the South." Buenos Aires; the upstanding, propressive little republic of Uruguay; Rio and great Brazil.

This is an important and a fascinating addition to Mr. Franck's remarkable group of travel books. They are always welcomed, always popular, but the growing appreciation of the importance to us of understanding South America makes this one even more than usually timely and acceptable.

Small Grand Planos for Apartments

It is only recently that people have learned that they can get a small grand piano which will take up no more room than an upright piano.

Heretofore those who had small rooms in their homes, or who lived in apartments, had no idea they could spare the space for a grand piano.

Many people prefer a grand piano to any other style, and it is undoubtedly a much handsomer piece of furniture. The newer types of these smaller grand pianos have all the richness of tone that larger instruments have and all the power any one wants outside of a concert hall.

The Wanamaker Store has small grand planog in the following famous makes:

Will Be Shown Monday

There are "tunic" blouses almost as long as a dress. and with the addition of a silk slip they form a complete costume. They are lovely affairs with old gold or black jet beads and girdles; some have scalloped edges, others beaded fringe.

There are the new over-blouses with different colored sleeves or sleeves of a different material. Some of these are in the most brilliant colorings. There are fascinating bracelet blouses, blouses with "bateau" necks, black lace blouses with perhaps a touch of iridescent beaded trimming.

With all the variety, however, every woman will remark the fact that each and every one gives the very desirable new long lines. The cleverness with which they achieve this is worth a visit alone.
