Nancy Wynne Tells of the Benedict Tea at Devon Yesterday—She Speaks of the Card Party Held Today at Green Hill Farms—Other Bits of News

WHAT with a trip out to Devon yesterday and one thing and another, I'm kind of sort of tired, but, bless your heart, I'll be over it before afternoon and off to something else. The Benedict affair yesterday was very lovely. Alice looked sweet. She has wonderful color, and such lovely hazel eyes and a straight, clear expression. She wore a pale blue satin frock, made on simple lines without trimming, and held a bouquet of delphinium and scarlet gerberas. Mrs. Benedict's gown was of gray crepe, trimmed with gray lace and squirrel fur.

Did you hear that Eleanor Longstreth Sharp has another baby? You know she had gone out to Honolulu to join her husband, who is stationed there, about a month ago, taking her little boy with her. I have not heard whether he has a sister or brother yet. I only know there is a new baby and it was born several days ago. Eleanor is very happily married. I have never been to Hawaii, but I have heard that it is a beautiful place to live in. The climate is so perfect and the bathing great. You know Eleanor is the daughter of Mr. Charles Longstreth and a sister of Edward Longstreth. She came out about five years ago, and married at the end of her season. Her husband is in the navy, and she has to travel round quite a bit to be near him. She sees so much that is interesting in the various places she has been, and she certainly looks as if she liked it. When I last saw her I was struck with how well she looked and how happy she seemed.

Did I tell you that the Lincoln Day Nursery is to have a large card party and sale of gifts and other articles this afternoon out at the Green Hill Farms, in Overbrook. I understand it is necessary to raise some funds to keep things going till the Federal Reserve Bank can give out the allotment, and the women interested in the nursery are taking this means of augmenting their budget. The committee in charge of the party includes Mrs. W. C. Clark, Mrs. Benjamin Bullock, Mrs. Charles Hannard, Miss Helen R. Biddle and Miss Mildred Lee.

WE ARE having enough weddings this week, it seems to me, and next week, too. Every one seems to choose October! And, after all, it is a beautiful month for marrying. It's the month of Columbus, and it's the month of the wedding trip. Not too warm, nor too cold, and the country looks so beautiful with the changing leaves. We have South's annual wedding tomorrow and Hannah Wright's on Saturday, and Bob Frazier is to be married on Saturday, too. To Francesca Moffat in New York. Next week will give the wedding luncheon in New York, on Tuesday, and Betty Strabing and Bill Caneer are to be married that day in Chestnut Hill, and there are several other important weddings in the month. It keeps us busy, and it certainly attacks the pocketbook, does it not?

SMALL brother was discussing going to heaven the other day. He thought he'd like to have an airplane of his own, and that an expedition there would not be bad, but on auntie's explanation that the clouds might interfere with his piloting machine, he decided to climb up, placing one ladder upon another, taking with him his best clothes. Little sister, who is two years older and more learned in the ways of heaven, finally interrupted his dreams by remarking: "But, Brad, when you go to heaven you're a soul, you aren't a boy." "Soul" or not," said brother, "I know I'll want clothes on me."
