

KANSAS MINERS DEFY UNION HEAD

Lewis' Order Suspending District Ignored by Acting Officials

DECIDE ON PROGRAM TODAY

By the Associated Press
Pittsburg, Kan., Oct. 14.—Two sets of union officials are functioning in the Kansas oil fields as a result of an order by John L. Lewis, president of the International union, suspending members of the Alexander M. Howat administration and creating a provisional organization to take charge of district affairs. Interest in the situation has centered about a mass meeting of miners at Franklin at which it was understood a permanent program will be determined.

The suspended officials so far have declined to permit George Peck, local member of the International board, and Thomas Harvey, designated by President Lewis as acting president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the district, to take charge.

John Fleming, acting president since the committee of President Howat and August Dorchy, union vice president, to fail at Columbus for six months for violating the original section of the industrial court law, stated that no action in the matter would be taken pending the outcome of the mass meeting at Franklin.

Montgomery Peck and Harvey established in headquarters at the hotel, are preparing letters to be sent to each local union, calling upon all miners now on voluntary strike over the court's decision to join Howat and Dorchy, to return to work immediately. Each letter contained a copy of President Lewis' suspension order. Acting President Peck said:

Virtually all of the 12,000 miners in the district returned, but according to Mr. Peck several hundred of them returned to work yesterday, indicating he asserted a break in the ranks of those who have been supporting the policies of Howat.

Acting President Peck last night announced that he had prepared a letter to be sent to each local union in the district ordering the miners to return to work immediately. He said 700 miners returned to work yesterday.

Saginaw, Mich., Oct. 14.—By A. P. "As long as any man in my State believes in downing law and order, the law is there and we will use them." Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, said last night, in commenting on a similar statement by Alexander Howat, imprisoned head of the Kansas Miners' Union, who yesterday was suspended from office.

The Industrial Court Law, which Howat is challenging, is now before the Supreme Court. The Governor said: "When any man refuses to place faith in the result of the highest court in the land, or even to await its decision, he is ungodly."

Governor Allen indicated he expected the situation in Kansas to improve with Howat's suspension.

ASKS HARDING TO PROPOSE 50 P. C. CUT IN ARMAMENTS

Mrs. Fried Says He Gives Synonyms Instead of Definitions

New York, Oct. 14.—By A. P.—And in a case concerning the proposed reduction of armaments, Mrs. Fried today said she was not satisfied with the definitions of armaments given by President Harding.

"I asked you what you meant by reasonable limitation. You say you mean 'something practical.' That is exactly the same thing you said before in other words. Synonyms are not definitions."

"I permit you to ask me whether you consider a reduction of the world's armaments to be one-half reasonable or profitable? If every one of the nations at the conference agrees to reduce its armaments one-half, their relative strength would remain as great as before. That is clear, I hope."

"Then why not suggest one-half reduction? When that has been done the women of the world will furnish you further suggestions as to what is reasonable and profitable."

Mrs. Fried, aged twenty-three, lives in Pittsburgh. She has been serving as a speaker for the Citizens' Disarmament Committee.

BOLSHEVIK GUARDS PINCHED BY HUNGER

Growl at Government for Giving Women Preference Over Soldiers

FAMINE BENEFIT IS DULL

Reval, Oct. 14.—While on a train en route to Tiflis some soldiers included the correspondent into their company to have a glass of wine. He passed around cigarettes and tea, platters, which necessitated political discussion. Two of the six men after drinking considerable wine, became manifestly in the grips of communism, and, despite the efforts of the other four, forced the correspondent to commit himself in favor of the "fourth road of man."

The most feared institution in Russia is the hotel, which, independent of all other departments, works like a thief in the night, arresting and executing so quickly that the disappearance of its victims is the only sign of its activities. The Cheka quarters are carefully guarded, and a special ticket is necessary for admittance. At Tiflis the correspondent had an appointment with the president of the organization here, and while waiting for him in the entrance, passed cigarettes to the guards, which broke the ice.

A German noted as interpreter. Before the guards had finished packing the quality of the cigarettes they had secured all the information they wanted regarding both of the visitors. A woman employee passed out of the building with a loaf of bread under her arm. One of the soldiers noticed it and said the Government had no business giving bread to women when the soldiers goaded it.

The soldiers are getting disaffected with the Government, which they say feeds every one but them. These men were supposedly selected and trusted by the guards.

600 UNDER INDICTMENT IN WEST VA. COAL FIELDS

Charges Against Men Range From "Gun Toting" to Murder

Logan, W. Va., Oct. 14.—(By A. P.)—Logan-Boone County disturbance defendants today continued their testimony in support of an application for admittance to bail following postponement of their trials the day before until the January term of Circuit Court. When Judge Robert Hand this morning awarded the bench it was announced that the hearing would be concluded probably by noon.

The regular Grand Jury has added a number of indictments to those returned several weeks ago by a special Grand Jury, and the total now exceeds 600. The charges range from murder to gun "toting."

Most of the defendants heard so far have testified they were unwilling participants, but the prosecution has sought, through questioning, to show that they made no effort to shirk the tasks assigned to them by men whose names they gave as "Blanton, Thompson and Gillich." Dana Miles, of Laurel City, testified that he was one of the men who guarded Magistrate W. F. Mitchell, after the latter was captured during the disturbances. When Mitchell and several others made prisoner with him were taken to Laurel City, Miles told the Court that "It looked as though they were going to be killed."

"Colored men crowded around them and poked guns in their faces," he said.

Believe Fire Incendiary
Chester, Pa., Oct. 14.—Damage estimated at $1000 resulted early yesterday from a supposed incendiary blaze at the home of Ernest Medley, 217 Edwards street. Two before Medley has discovered the kitchen of his home afire. He attributes the blaze to an enemy. Medley, awakened by smoke, single-handed, fought the blaze until the arrival of the firemen.

Why You Should Buy Your French Kid Gloves Now

The proposed Fordney Tariff Bill provides that the import duty on French Kid Gloves shall be greatly increased.

Our present low prices will prevail until the adoption of the proposed increased tariff.

With the demand for a more extensive glove wardrobe required by the variety of the sleeve fashions, the prospect of a tariff increase should suggest to every woman, the wisdom of providing now for future requirements.

Our Fielder glove described at the right, is 4.50

The proposed Fordney Bill will advance the price to 5.50

The Vogue of Black & White

The Centemeri Fielder style presents a French Kidskin glove as lovely as it is versatile in adaptability to the new sleeve fashions. It may be worn appropriately with the flaring sleeve of the frock and wrap, or over the tight sleeve of the tailored made. In heavier or black seen tranchant, with contrasting white gore and crochet embroidery, or in white with black and amber with deep brown, the Centemeri Fielder is exquisitely beautiful—and especially desirable in every woman's glove wardrobe this season.
