Stop Seeing Him

Stop Seeing Him Dear Cynthia-We are two girls of eighteen and very dara to each other. We are both very attractive and by mishap have fallen in love with the same man. He takes both of us out at different times and when we com-pare notes he tells each of us the same thing and kisses us good-night. Do you think he is in love with either of us? How can we forget him quickly? We have tried most every remedy. TRY TO GUESS.

What to Do

He evidently cares for neither one, but is having a good time at your ex-pense. Better stop the friendship.
