

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK
By Lee Pape

I was mad at my sister Gladdis on account of her having told pop to look how dirty my hands was while we was eating supper, and pop sent me up to wash them and when I came down again the mash potatoes was all gone, spoiling my hole supper on account of me only having had 2 helpings before I was sent up, and after supper Gladdis went to the movies with Mr. Perkins and I went up in her room to look for revenge, thinking G. I know, I'll take the stopper out of this bottle of perfume and hide it and the smell will all leak out of the bottle and Gladdis won't be able to find the stopper.

And I started to pull the stopper out, and the more I pulled the more it stayed in. Being a glass stopper with a sharp top and sharp edges making it hard to pull, and my fingers started to hurt like anything, me thinking, Heck, this is a heck of a stopper, heck.

And I tried to get it out for about an hour, and just when I was going to give it up in disgust what did it do but come out just as easy as if it could of did that in the first place. And I left the bottle there and hid the stopper in my room, and I was in bed when Gladdis started to come up stairs, and I heard her and quick snuck over in my pajamas and listened behind her door to hear what she would say when she smelt the small leak out of her perfume and didn't see the stopper.

Which pretty soon I heard her say, Did anybody spill any perfume around here? Well for Peets sake, that awful stopper is out at last. Where is the world is it? O well I don't care, I hope and pray I'll never see it again, I've bin trying to get it out every day for 3 months.

Me thinking, Aw gosh, wat the dooce, good nite, after me getting my fingers all sore. And this morning I smeared glue all over the bottom of the stopper and put it back in the bottle again.

Passionate Hands

Right at the outset it must be stated that this business of holding hands is one which must be discussed circum-spectly.

Our loophole is this: it isn't really necessary to hold a person's hand continuously to decide whether he or she is one possessed of an excess of ardor and emotion. If you're reasonably quick about it you can find out all you want to know simply by shaking hands. Even "demon" chaperons cannot prevent a slight lingering of the hand-clasp. And it isn't necessary to let it linger longer enough than to indicate a certain degree of cordiality.

All you have to find out is whether the person's hand is hot. A hot hand indicates hot blood, not so much in the literal as in the figurative sense.

It doesn't make any difference whether the hand is moist or dry. That is of physiological significance only. Except it is well to remember that a hand which perspires freely will be colder than it normally is if the weather is cold and the hand is unglowed.

Such persons are not only likely to display ardor in their affections and friendships, but have a tendency to be hot-headed generally, resentful of insults or fancied insults, but equally ready to forgive and forget.

Adventures With a Purse

I HAVE a real find to tell you about today. That is, it will be a real find to you if you have in mind getting a fur coat this year. Over in New York lives a fur manufacturer. That is, this concern takes the skins, treats them and fashions them into lovely fur coats and neckpieces. These are sold to exclusive shops all over the country. Now, then, that same manufacturer has opened a shop right here in the city, and is bringing furs over here direct from New York. This means that Philadelphia is getting the furs direct from the manufacturer, and at manufacturers' prices. For instance, I saw a beautiful Scotch mole coat there, full length, this season's model, for $300. What is more, every garment carries a guarantee as to quality and value.

I heard about the skin tonic a long time ago. It was this wise: Dorothea had seen Alice at a dance, and she said that never had she seen Alice look so pretty. "Her skin," said Dorothea, "looked simply marvelous." A few well-chosen questions brought forth the information. And so here's the story for you. This tonic is a mild astringent and skin, well, revivifier. Before you put any powder on your face rub on some of the tonic, which is a liquid the color of water, and with a fresh, clean scent. Let it dry in and then do your powdering. The skin is left with a soft glow and fresh smoothness that will delight you. This is not the sort of thing you must use for a week or more before you see any results. You notice the difference the very first time. I have had several bottles of it, and personally I wouldn't think of dressing without using it. The price is eighty-five cents a bottle.

GIRLS OFF TO CAPITAL

West Philadelphia High Students to View Washington Sights

Members of the senior class of the West Philadelphia High School for Girls began the traditional visit to Washington today. The class met at Broad Street Station and left Philadelphia on the 8:35 o'clock train this morning. At the Capital the 200 girls spent the day visiting the Corcoran Gallery, the Lincoln Memorial, the Pan-American Union, the Washington Monument and the Library of Congress.

Tomorrow they will see the House and Senate in action. Afterward they will visit Arlington and Mount Vernon. Saturday they will see the Bureau of Engraving, the White House, the Smithsonian and National Museums. The girls will return to Philadelphia Saturday night.

FIRE IN CEMETERY

Electric Wire May Have Ignited Tree at Ninth and Federal

There was an element of mystery in a fire this morning in Lafayette Cemetery, Ninth and Federal streets. Residents of the neighborhood were aroused by the clang of firebells shortly after 4 o'clock. Their amazement was increased when they saw a score of firemen leaping over tombstones and drawing a line of hose through the cemetery. The fire fighters discovered the blaze in a large poplar tree. A northeasterly wind scattered the burning leaves to many parts of the cemetery. An electric wire near the tree may have caused the fire.

Another Big Price Break—
Women's Shoes That Were $6.75 Wholesale Last Year Now Marked Here Retail at $4.10

Last year we felt that these shoes were too high for us to buy for the Down Stairs Store. They cost $6.75 wholesale.

This year's regular wholesale price dropped quite a little—down to $5.50.

But we still hesitated to buy— And now—before the Autumn weather is really here—the dealer agreed to turn over his surplus to us to clear away quickly at $4.10.

That means one dollar and forty cents saved from the lowest wholesale price. That's that for the economy!

The Shoes Themselves

come from one of the best makers of medium to high grade shoes—a specialist who confines himself to just a few styles and uses all his efforts to make each one perfect.

Either of the two models pictured comes in black or tan calfskin of excellent quality. Heels are medium, soles are Goodyear welted. Both styles are of correct height for this year's skirts. The toes are slightly different—either narrow or a trifle broader.

Splendid shoes for walking! Properly shaped, comfortable and durable.

All sizes from 2 1/2 to 8 in AA to D widths—to start with. Extra salespeople.

Center Aisle Opportunities

Wool Jersey Overblouses $5

Fine, smooth wool jersey with white linen cuffs and Peter Pan collars. The season's newest shades—mahogany, reindeer, gendarme and navy blue, African brown, tan, holly red and black.

Women's Fine Gloves 75c and $1.75

75c for 1-clasp silk gloves lined with helle, in brown, gray, beaver and black.

$1.75 for 2-clasp French lambskin gloves with Paris-point backs. White, gray, brown and black.

Fancy Work Baskets 60c to $2.50

All of them are imported from Japan and other faraway countries. Some are raffia, some are sweet grass, some are lacquered straw and all are most attractive. A few are equipped with the usual sewing accessories.

Long Silk Jersey Pantalettes, $5

Many people prefer them to petticoats. White, pink, navy, Copenhagen blue, cerise, purple, taupe and black.

Corsets and Girdles $1 and $1.50

Pink coutil in well-made girdles and topless corsets for slender women and well-boned ones for average to full figures. Many are combined with elastic.

Women's Underclothes 50c and 85c

50c for bloomers and short petticoats of heavy striped flannel.

85c for bloomers, with or without ruffles, in pink, white and black sateen.

East Aisle

Women's Silk Stockings 75c

Pure silk clear up to the garter top and with good mercerized tops and soles. "Seconds" of a much more expensive make. Black only.

Hair Nets, 50c Doz.

Not to be equalled for the price. Blonde, light, medium and dark brown, auburn and black in cap or fringe styles.

Women's Pure Silk Tuxedo Sweaters —A Wonderful Lot at $13.50

So far as we can ascertain no silk sweaters are to be found elsewhere in the city at less than $22.50.

Most of the sweaters in this $13.50 lot are a new special purchase—all the maker had left; they are either in block or stripe weaves in black and navy in all sizes—and all of heavy, pure, crinkly silk.

Other odds and ends of silk sweaters come in broken sizes in brown, sand, purple and white—originally they were almost double in our own stocks.

Plenty long, plenty large—and very beautiful. Ideal for Christmas presents.

Girls' School Coats Begin at $5.75

for warm little coats for Miss 6-year-old. Then, in sizes 6 to 14 years, there are any number of coats at $8.75 to $25. Chevots, chinchillas and snug polo coats are among them, all fully lined and mostly interlined.

A good practical coat of closely-woven navy chevot at $8.75 is sketched.

Coats for Juniors and Small Women are in sizes 11 to 17. Styles are attractive, materials good and tailoring excellent. Some of the coats are trimmed with fur. Prices begin at $12.50 and go gradually up to $25.

The $12.50 model sketched is of brown or navy velour. Notice the large collar. The buttonholes are bound with red broadcloth.

"Dress-Up" Frocks for Girls

Girls like to have some dresses that they wear only for "dress" and almost always these are the frocks dearest to their hearts!

There is a particularly good assortment of such frocks just now from $7.75 to $25. One for girls of 8 to 14 years is of brown velveteen combined with deep salmon crepe de chine and embroidered with wool to match, $16.50.

Good Value at $3.75

Almost all mothers with school-girl daughters between 6 and 14 years will be interested in regulation dresses with button-on pleated navy serge skirts and either blue or gingham color blouses. They have red ties and the correct emblems.

(Market)

$7.75 $8 $13.50 $8.75

Sketched at $7.75

This girlish, becoming frock is of navy serge. The finely pleated skirt is attached to a white body and the blouse is separate. Sizes 8 to 14 years.

Very Smart at $8

is the other dress sketched. The middy top is of red serge trimmed with white silk braid and the skirt is of navy serge. Sizes 8 to 14 years. Of all navy blue serge, it is $7.75.

MAVIS CORSETS

Obtainable Only in the Down Stairs Store

Black boning is used in all Mavis corsets and women know that it is usually found only in the most expensive corsets. It is particularly flexible and durable and is considered the best boning.

Over a dozen models take care of all figures from the short slight girl to the mature woman who is both tall and stout. $5 to $10.

Brides will be interested in the lovely white satin corsets at $6.50.

(Central)

Black Leads This Interesting Array of Hats

Black hats of panne velvet are especially attractive and show some new wide shapes that will be very becoming to many women.

Black is seen also among the new trimmed felt hats.

Colors seem all the brighter by contrast. Deep velvet hats trimmed with uncurled ostrich are in green, French blue, mahogany, tan and brown. Russet velvets are rich in color and seasonable. Trimmed felts are also in colors and many show ostrich used in delightful ways.

$6, $8 and $9.50.
