

COURT TO DECIDE ON RIGHT TO CARRY GUN

Store Owner, Arrested on Robbery Suspicion, Held for Having Pistol

POLICE AND LAWYER CLASH

The question of a citizen's right to carry a pistol to protect himself and his money will be thrashed out in court following a hearing before Magistrate Oswald today.

Harry R. Parker, 1821 North Warren street, proprietor of a cigar store, was standing beneath an awning near the corner of Tenth street and Susquehanna avenue shortly after midnight Monday morning.

The further hearing came up this morning and Parker was represented by Attorney Sowers, who presented the claim a law had been passed in Harrisburg allowing the man carrying receipts of a store home after dark to go armed.

DEAF-DUMB GIRL "SOLD" AS WIFE; WINS DIVORCE

Atlantic City Woman Deserted—Retains Custody of Child

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger Atlantic City, Oct. 20.—A scandalous and selfish marriage, contracted with a deaf and dumb girl for what amounted to a financial consideration, was the finding of Special Master Coulomb in the action for divorce brought by Mrs. Mollie Badler of this city.

OPEN RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Boston University Professor Speaks at Presbyterian Church

SEEK FUND FOR HOSPITAL

Women Map Out Campaign to Raise $125,000

HELD FOR ROBBING CABINS

Youth Said to Have Entered Summer Homes Near Lenape Park

WANT REPRESENTATION

Phila. Chinese Appeal to Harding in Disarmament Conference

Falls Dead at Broad and Filbert

James Withman, fifty years old, of 3500 Swain street, fell dead on the sidewalk at Broad and Filbert streets last night.

Quits School to Wed

HELEN Y. LEE

CHINESE GIRL TO WED

Helen Y. Lee to Become Bride of Jue Kay Chee

An eighteen-year-old Chinese girl who returned to this country after twelve years' absence to complete her education, is giving up school to wed.

WOMAN HIT BY AUTO

Delegate to Humane Society Session Severely Injured

Mrs. Elizabeth Buck, fifty-four years old, of Lancaster, who is in the city attending the annual meeting of the American Humane Association, was run down and seriously injured last night by an automobile at Sixteenth street and Ridge avenue.

LOVE RIVAL GUILTY

Jury Convicts Man Named in Divorce Proceedings

Dudley Armstrong, an automobile salesman, was declared guilty today of a statutory offense, by a jury before Judge Boniwell, in the Municipal Court.

NEGRO SCHOOLS AIDED

Tuskegee and Hampton Benefit in Will of Catherine Newlin

Bequests of $1,500 each to the Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala., and the Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., were made known today in the will of Catherine Newlin, 1824 Pine street, who died September 28.

SAVES CHILD FROM FLAMES

When Mrs. Mary Boyseschewski placed her five-year-old son Walter in bed in a third-story room, in her home at 2921 East Thomson street shortly before midnight last night she left a small candle burning on the dressing table.

MILLBOURNE'S FINE MILL STILL GRINDS

Magistrate Yerkes Says He Will Fight Speeders Despite Legal Setback

HITS KEYSTONE AUTO CLUB

Millbourne's "fine mill" is going to keep right on grinding out its grit of fines and costs, according to Magistrate D. Martin Yerkes, regardless of the setback the squire received in Media before Judge William H. Broomall.

MINISTER OFFERS TO FIRE ENGINE IN EVENT OF STRIKE

Writes Reading Head "Right Will Always Conquer"

The Rev. T. V. Golbach, president of the Open Door Rescue Mission, Inc., Thompson and Lee streets, has offered his services as a locomotive fireman to Agnew T. Dice, president of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, in the event of a strike.

firmly forged each link in its case if it wished to succeed. A copy of the resolution adopted by the Borough Council should have been submitted to prove that the speed-warning signs were ordered erected according to law.

BAILEY BANKS & BIDDLE CO. A PEARL NECKLACE The Gift Supreme

MacDonald & Campbell New Fall Suits you should buy $30 to $65

FINE FRAMING PAINTINGS CLEANED AND RESTORED THE ROSENBAUGH GALLERIES

J.M. Gidding & Co. NEW YORK PARIS RITZ CARLTON HOTEL BROAD AND WALNUT STS. PHILADELPHIA

Notable for the Wonderful Paris - New York Fashions Shown in their Philadelphia Salons.

FOLEY ADVERTISING AGENCY, INC. PERSONAL SERVICE CORPORATION

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Mr. Golbach's letter to Mr. Dice reads as follows: "The right will always conquer, and I am positively convinced that you are in the right. I have fired a stationary boiler in my younger years and feel that I could fire an engine, with a little instruction as to the water."

Members of the woman's corps in the fund-raising campaign for the American Hospital for Diseases of the Stomach attended a luncheon today in the Bellevue-Stratford.

A New Feature Just Started—Draw checks on—Savings Deposits—SIX CHECKS PER MONTH—INTEREST AT 3%—Savings Fund Deposits—(not subject to check) 4% INTEREST START TODAY—TO ENJOY THIS NEW SERVICE—National Bank of Commerce 713 Chestnut St. Nathan T. Polwell, President

EVERY LETTER YOU WRITE TRY as we will, we cannot keep sentiment out of business. There is always something that cannot be reduced to "brass tacks." Strictly construed, any piece of paper will do to carry a business letter, but business cannot be thus strictly construed. We are human beings before we are business men. Therefore the letter paper of a business house should add something to the bare typewritten message. What is thus added may be more important than the message. Some houses settle the matter by using only CRANE'S Bond for all letters. The influence of such a paper is never lost and never wasted. 100% selected new rag stock 120 years' experience Bank notes of 22 countries Paper money of 438,000,000 people Government bonds of 18 nations Crane's BUSINESS PAPERS

REED'S Standards of Quality in Fabrics and Tailoring applied to the production of Men's Clothes give elegance and enduring excellence to the garments. Clothing made in accordance with our exacting requirements has ALL the elements necessary to produce garments that not only give splendid wear and service, but that will preserve a good appearance until actually worn out. Compute this superior clothing with the ordinary type, and we will number YOU as another satisfied customer. The prices for Fall Suits, Winter Top Coats and Overcoats are $30 and upward—the most attractive which we have been able to offer for years—special values at $45 and $50. JACOB REED'S SONS 1424-1426 Chestnut Street

Are Your Teeth Well? LLEWELLYN'S Philadelphia's Standard Drug Store 1518 Chestnut Street Adelphia Grill You get exceptionally good food here at exceptionally low prices. Centrally located—near every where—and quick, efficient service. The lunching meeting place for business men. Hotel Adelphia Chestnut at 13th