

SEEK TO CENSURE BRITISH PREMIER

Unionists Plan to Force Vote on Issue of Conferences With Sinn Fein

"REBEL" TERM IS BARRED

By the Associated Press

London, Oct. 21.—Unionist members of Parliament have given notice they will move what is equivalent to a vote of censure of the Lloyd George Government on the day appointed for a discussion of Irish matters in the House. It is expected that the Irish affairs will be considered early next week, but the date has as yet not been fixed officially. Those involved in this move are the extreme Unionists, who always have opposed a conference with the representatives of the Dublin Government. They do not exceed more than thirty or forty and it would appear the motion they will introduce has little chance of passing. It is regarded as symptomatic, however, of the anti-conference attitude said to have developed in Unionist constituencies while Parliament was in recess.

A further indication of Unionist intransigence was given yesterday, when about 1000 Unionists were addressed by Austen Chamberlain.

He urged patience, and promised a more complete statement when Irish matters were debated in Commons. At the close of his address Mr. Chamberlain was heckled. He admitted that he himself was author of the proposal to invite the Sinn Feiners to a conference.

The Daily Mail said today there was increasing hostility on the part of Unionist members of Parliament and electors toward Unionist members of the Cabinet, and that it might split the party.

"Prime Minister Lloyd George," the Mail added, "is showing distinct signs of a return to liberalism, and an increasing disregard of Unionist sentiment."

Representatives of the Dail Eireann and the British Government met for an hour and a half this afternoon and then adjourned until Monday.

Sinn Fein headquarters here issued a statement today, declaring only minor breaches of the truce had been committed on the Sinn Fein side and alleging serious breaches by the Crown forces. These latter breaches, the statement says, were "not the result of Irish provocation, but definitely instigated and encouraged by a high source in Dublin Castle."

JAIL-BREAKER IS DROWNED

Two Use Log as Boat After Escaping From Prison

Boston, Oct. 21.—(By A. P.)—Harry Martin, a twenty-eight-year-old prisoner at the Deer Island House of Correction, last night lost his life in a break for freedom with another man. He was drowned trying to swim ashore from a log which both men had utilized as a boat.

Theodore Caplis, his twenty-two-year-old companion, was taken from the water of the harbor in a critical condition. Physicians worked over Caplis an hour and fifteen minutes before reviving him.

SPAIN'S POLICY CRITICIZED

Conduct of Campaign Against Moors

Madrid, Oct. 21.—(By A. P.)—Spanish officers in Morocco were criticized sharply, and the policies followed by the Spanish Army in fighting against the Moorish tribesmen were declared to be ineffective by Deputy Solano in the Chamber of Deputies last night. He asserted that untrained regiments had been sent to Morocco, that General Berenguer, Spanish High Commissioner, and General Silvestre, commander-in-chief, had disagreed regarding operations there, and that the decision to attack the coast at Alhucemas was absurd, as the tribesmen's forces there were the strongest and best equipped in Morocco. The Deputy said one general at Melilla had taken part in illicit trade in arms.

Minister of War Clera replied, defending the conduct of military operations against the Moors.

? If you had been either of these women could you have forgiven him?

If you had staked all you had—your youth, your fortune, your life's happiness, as Mimi Warren did, on one man's devotion—could you have forgiven him when he turned to another woman?

If you had been beautiful mysterious Lucretia Lombard, and had known all the misery an unhappy marriage could hold—would you have been able to give up the man you loved? In the most enthralling story Kathleen Norris has ever written, she gives you, with unmatched skill, the story of a man whom two women loved.

You feel yourself carried along in their sudden rush of feeling for each other. You feel yourself drawn with them into an unescapable dilemma of love and pity. You hang breathless as the fate, first of one woman, then of the other, trembles in the balance. Don't fail to begin this wonderful novel in Pictorial Review for November.
