

Onside Kick in Football Still Is Bringing Up Arguments Among Fans, Players and Officials

ATHLETES STILL RUN FRANTICALLY AFTER BALL GOES OVER GOAL

Some Players Seem to Pay No Attention to Rule Book and Take Unnecessary Chances on Being Hurt in Foolish Efforts

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL
Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

THERE is a rule in the football guide which seems to be perfectly simple. It is to understand, but players and coaches apparently do not know what it is all about. Thus far this season there have been more arguments over it than any other piece of gridiron legislation. Here is the rule:

"It is a touchback when a kicked ball goes over the goal line from a kick-off or a punt, and the ball is touched by a player on the field before it is touched by a player on the goal line. In almost any game players can be seen running frantically to drop on a kicked ball which crossed the goal line without having been touched in the field of play, trying to fall on the ball and save their side from being scored upon. A slight knowledge of the rules will prevent this risk of being injured.

The main difficulty, however, is with the onside kick. Some players and coaches seem to believe that when a couple of men are behind the kicker the kick should be ruled the same as a kickoff or a free kick. Such is not the case. The rule applies the same as if nobody was onside.

The following ruling was received from Harry W. Murphy, of Frankville, Pa.:

"Dear Sir:—Please give me the official ruling on the following plays:

"The ball is on the 25-yard line and the fullback is 5 yards behind the line of scrimmage. A halfback is 5 yards behind him and the signal for a punt is given. The ball is kicked into the field of play on the 5-yard line and rolls over the goal line before touching any one on either side. The halfback, who was onside, falls on the ball behind the goal line. What is it, a touchback or a touchdown?"

"If an attempt at a drop kick fails and the ball rolls behind the goal line, what is it?"

In both cases a touchback should be ruled. The punt was from a regular line-up and could be classed as a kickoff or a free kick. In the try for the goal the rule distinctly says that a touchback is made automatically when the ball crosses the goal line after missing the goal.

THERE is another ruling which should be remembered. If a ball on the sideline crosses the goal line and then goes out of bounds over the sideline extended without having been touched, it is a touchback.

Some More Regarding the Onside Kick

"WHEN an onside kick has been made," inquires J. C. W., "what men are eligible to get the ball in the field of play and across the goal line, after it has been legally touched?"

If one man is standing behind the kicker he is the only one eligible to get the ball on an onside kick. If two are behind the ball, two can get it. The kicker, however, is not eligible to get the ball in the field of play.

This is because the man kicking the ball is protected by the rules. No opponent is allowed to run into him and knock him down, nor is any one permitted to even touch him. Therefore, he is out of the play automatically and there is no reason to touch him up.

After the ball has been touched in the field of play and it rolls over the goal line, the men who were originally onside and the kicker are eligible to get the ball. If they get it behind the line, it is in the field of play.

A play came up in one of the smaller games recently which caused considerable trouble. An onside kick was made and the ball went out of bounds. One of the onside men fell on the ball and claimed it. The referee refused to make a decision because he wasn't sure about the ruling, and this caused a row.

The rule on this play is the same as in an ordinary kick. Just because a man is onside does not mean that he is eligible to get the ball out of bounds if it goes to the other side at the spot where it crossed the sideline. That is covered in the football code and there should be no trouble.

The thing to remember on onside kicks is that the man or men who are behind the kicker when the ball is kicked are eligible to get the ball in the field of play. The kicker is not permitted to go after the ball until it has crossed the goal line, AFTER having been legally touched in the field of play.

OF COURSE, if the ball has been touched by a member of the defensive team everybody is onside.

Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Company

ROTARIANS HAVE GALA GOLF DAY

Pile Up Strokes at Aronimink, on Third Hole in Particular.

Philadelphia Wins PRIZE SYSTEM INTRIK-IT

By SANDY McNIBLICK

Not being flattered or anything like that, it is difficult to recall just what was what when the first annual golf tournament of the Philadelphia Rotary Club came to a close at Aronimink yesterday.

The officials almost had to go after the last foursome with lanterns. They were 1,000,000 prizes, at least. Cinders, scattered all over the other high brands of learning had to be applied in the Bureau of Statistics, which "Stain" headed, before the final score could be made. It is doubtful if everything had been straightened out perfectly before the next tournament, at least. Anyhow, the committee worked on it till late in the night.

Though there may be doubt about the winners of the various prizes, there is no doubt about one thing. That is that the third hole at Aronimink was a jinx for the Rotarians, nearly every entry. The tournament would have been an unqualified success but for that one hole.

Loses Count

The prize on it would have gone to "Rob" Taylor, of Bethlehem, only he got a hole-in-one on the third hole. He hit his ball with everything but some of the rocks in the water. Toward the end he was swinging his stick mechanically, you might say, when they led him kindly away from there.

F. E. Edhill, Bridgeton, took thirteen strokes there. John MacFayon, Scranton, sixteen, and plenty of others were in the double figures. Most of that was because they went in the water.

But have a look at Tom Endroit in action at this hole. Tom is one of the star players at Atlantic City, but he proved that this hole was just natural for him. He hit the ball in the water, but he didn't get in the water, but he took twelve strokes.

He tried to pop up on the green, rolled back, tried again, rolled back again, rolled back, tried again, went away, and so on.

The fourteenth was another in for them and the count there was also far. The Philadelphia team was the winner before it got so dark that they couldn't tell a bogey 3 from an eagle 11. Phil, captured, 84; "Stain," 92; Tom, 94; and Jack, 95.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

He was out in 41 and back in 40, the best gross score of the day and all the more so because he had a hole-in-one on the 17th hole. He had a hole-in-one on that hole, which was the only one of the kind in the tournament.

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING

ARMY LIFE MAKES VERBECKEN BOXER

Kensington Lad Starts Career in France and Now Is Promising Middleweight

HE IS INDORSO BY BURNS

By LOUIS H. JAFFE

Before the late Great George, Al Verbecken was a peaceful citizen of Kensington. He didn't care much for hostilities or that sort of thing, but when Uncle Sam got into the big rumper across the sea it didn't take Al long to "fall in." Verbecken had three long years of good experience in his desire to honor the colors of his country.

Verbecken immediately began lining a class pair of dukes. He won all of his "battles" in France and became the "pride of the regiment."

When Verbecken came marching triumphantly home he was ordered to stay in Oklahoma. Al resumed his civilian career there, but instead of giving for the good of his country, he gave for the good of his pocket.

Verbecken returned to Philadelphia and once more he became a peaceful Kensington citizen. However, the boxing bug began biting him.

Verbecken took his first fight with Al Verbecken, and I ought to know what I am talking about. Al has the stuff, the speed and the skill to make him a contender for the title.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Verbecken is a versatile athlete. He is a boxer, a runner, a swimmer, a wrestler, a fencer in the French Army at one time, and he gave exhibitions with the fall at the Union League and Manufacturers' Club tracks in this city.

Basketball Statistics

| Team         | W  | L | P | P.C. |
|--------------|----|---|---|------|
| Seranton     | 10 | 1 | 0 | 90.9 |
| Camden       | 9  | 1 | 0 | 88.3 |
| Philadelphia | 8  | 1 | 0 | 85.7 |
| Philadelphia | 8  | 1 | 0 | 85.7 |

FRIEDMAN STOPS RICE

Chicago Lightweight Halts English Boxer in Seventh Round

New York, Oct. 29.—Saffor Friedman, Chicago, defeated Ernie Rice, English lightweight champion, in the seventh round of a scheduled fifteen-round bout in Madison Square Garden when Rice's seconds tossed a towel into the ring.

Rice, when his backers admitted defeat, was bleeding profusely from a cut over his left eye suffered in the second round. He was unable to see his opponent, but appeared to be strong and trying to turn the tide of battle when it ended.

Friedman opened an offensive on the Englishman in the first round and hit him at will thereafter. Rice took his punches with a smile and attempted to retaliate, but his blows, with the exception of a few light right hooks, fell short.

As a result of Friedman's victory his manager said an immediate offer would be made to sign the Chicago boxer with the famous Benny Leonard for a championship bout.

Scraps About Scrappers

Joe Jackson, of Newark, N. J., will be called to fight at the Garden on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

Local fans have been hoping to see Al Verbecken in a bout with Jack Johnson, but Johnson is expected to fight in the Garden on Oct. 31.

Tommy Murray, who has been expected to fight every time he goes to the ring, will be seen on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

Johnny Brown, of Trenton, is expected to fight on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

Larry Liechtenstein returned today from New York, where he was expected to fight on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

Tom West Philadelphia fighter will show his stuff on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

Joe Marks, of South Philly, has returned from New York, where he was expected to fight on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

Danny Rogers has been in town for a few days, but he is expected to fight on Oct. 31, to defend his title against the challenger, Al Verbecken.

DUNLEAVY'S GOALS WIN FOR PHILLIES

Tom Scores Seven Field Baskets in Game in Which Locals Beat Coatesville, 31-25

VISITORS ARE OUTPLAYED

The Philadelphia team, of the Eastern Basketball League, broke into the winning column last evening at the expense of Coatesville, 31-25—and to the victory of Myers' five was due the goal shooting ability of one Thomas Dunleavy. He was aided at times by his teammates, but the lion's share of the glory goes to the former Catholic High lad.

During the forty minutes of play he sent the ball spinning into the net seven times, tying the mark made at Trenton a week ago by Bernie Dunn and just one shy of the number registered by "Doc" Neuman at Coatesville on Monday evening. "Doc" watched the proceedings and even wished that the local lad would surpass his mark.

"Doc" was anxiously awaiting word from President Schaffer as to whether a game scheduled by Parkersburg with the Celtics on Sunday was to be played. In the line-up are Neuman, Lawrence, McWilliams, Cushman and Sugarman. The rules say that the League will be barred, but as the game was booked some time ago, the players are trying to secure the permission to play. They will not make the trip unless the League gives permission.

The contest was filled with thrills. Goals that came only once in a long while were registered, one time Gary Schaeffer standing in the corner tossed the leather one-handed, backcured over his head and scored. A couple of the shots-again by Jimmy Brown were also if the lucky variety.

Philadelphia outplayed the visitors and scored to win by a larger score, as there was more system to their play and they will improve as the season advances. Of the visitors, Joe Berger was the most man of the hour, with a valuable assist if only from his ability to draw fouls from his opponents.

He went to the foul line more times than the whole visiting team combined, testing eleven times from the black mark. He was away off and only once made. The Phillis were erratic as free shooters, and only 5 of their 31 points were on penalty throws.

Tie at Half Time

The totals at half time were tied at 17. This led into 7 field tosses, Brown and Berger getting 3 apiece for the visitors plus the gift of Schaeffer. For the locals, Dunleavy had counted five times, while Brown and McWilliam had scored the ball once.

In fact, the score was deadlocked at 24 with five minutes to play. Then Raymond Cross, equal a free throw, his only one of six attempts, but it started the Phillis off and Dunleavy scored from the foul line and missed, but Ally McWilliams was right on the ball and, following up, made the next count 2 more.

Then the Phillis began to "freeze" the ball, but before the final goal sounded Dunleavy had made his seventh toss, tying the contest 24-25. Crick opposed Dunleavy, and he played a ragged game. Brown did the heaviest scoring for Coatesville, getting four baskets to three for Berger, but Dunleavy was the whole Coatesville outfit. Ward Brown made his first appearance here as referee. He has taken on considerable weight, but follows the ball and kept the play speeded up at all times.

AL VERBECKEN A WINNER

Oklahoma Battler Outpoints Len Rowlands in Cambria Wind-Up

Al Verbecken, who has been on the sidelines for some time with a broken leg, signalled his return to the ring by outpointing Len Rowlands, of Michigan, in the eight-round wind-up at the Cambria A. C. last evening. Verbecken weighed 150 pounds and his opponent 165, a disadvantage of sixteen pounds.

In the semi-finals, Buddy Ryan quit to Johnny Dougherty in the seventh round, claiming he broke his hand. The other rounds of Len Rowlands, of Michigan, were won by Al Verbecken, but Frankie Smith, Matt Ring, shadowed Ed Foley and Larry Henderson boxed Jack Grazier to an even break.

SHORE GOLF SEMI-FINALS

Maxwell Meets Wootton and Beadle to Play Shackelford

Atlantic City, Oct. 29.—John J. Beadle, of Colmar, Pa., will meet W. E. Shackelford, of Atlantic City, in the first round of the Shore Golf Association tournament at the Country Club of Atlantic City over the links at Northfield.

BIG SCORES LIKELY IN HEADLINE TILTS TODAY

Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Army, Navy, Chicago and Wisconsin Are Picked to Sweep to Numerous Touchdowns—Chicago in Front Row

By GRANTLAND RICE

Remember that we guarantee a football upset prediction; and if the future fails, kindly restrain your dull objections.

An injury may turn the tide, a fumble upset predictions, reducing prophets in their pride unto the lowest of stations.

YOU can't get 'em all. Last Saturday, out of twenty results announced, barring ties, we stumbled in four places. Chicago upset us. Pittsburgh crossed us, via Syracuse. Ohio State fooled us. Ann Arbor, and Kansas foiled us by topping Iowa late. But these few setbacks were elementary. In view of the exact forecast of the Yale-Army score.

Saturday's Scores
New York—George Tech, 14; Penn State, 7.
New Haven—Yale, 17; Brown, 0.
Princeton—Princeton, 21; Virginia, 0.
Cambridge—Harvard, 21; Centre, 7.
Philadelphia—Pittsburgh, 24; Pennsylvania, 0.
West Point—Army, 28; Susquehanna, 0.
Annapolis—Navy, 33; Bethany, 0.
Lafayette—Michigan, 10; Illinois, 0.
Chicago—Chicago, 14; Colorado, 3.
Indianapolis—Notre Dame, 21; Indiana, 0.
Ithaca—Cornell, 14; Dartmouth, 7.
New York—Columbia, 7; Williams, 3.
Washington—Georgetown, 28; George Washington, 7.
Columbus—Georgia, 14; Auburn, 7.
Lynchburg—Virginia Tech, 14; Purdue, 0.
Nashville—Vanderbilt, 14; Tennessee, 0.
Detroit—Detroit, 28; Tulane, 0.
Easton—Lafayette, 21; Rutgers, 7.
Madison—Wisconsin, 21; Minnesota, 0.
Syracuse—Syracuse, 14; Washington and Jefferson, 0.

Rasping Uncertainties

There are a number of rasping uncertainties upon today's bill, of which the Georgia Tech-Penn State battle is far from being the least.

Here are two machines with slashing attacks that far outweigh their defensive powers.

Everything points to an extremely dizzy afternoon in a scoring way. Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Army, Navy, Chicago and Wisconsin should win handsomely, but the entire body will undoubtedly crowd the prophet over the precipice of woe.

Princeton, after two hard and knotty Saturdays replete with anguish, at last gets a breathing spell in her last tilt before the Harvard game.

The Conference Clash

THE OHIO STATE can slip by Chicago last Saturday Dr. Allice's strong team should get the early defeat by Oberlin not perfect in this quest.

Chicago can check Ohio State the next tilt will come in the Chicago-Wisconsin battle of late November.

There is a keen chance that Iowa University and one survivor from the Ohio State-Wisconsin Wisconsin trio will remain unbeaten to that time and one of the star teams of the country. There is no disputing Chicago's strength, and nothing short of great football will crowd the Stagner out of the front row.

THE number of brilliant backs is increasing each week, but it remained for Chicago to show a tackle even stronger than Keek, of Princeton. Keek will be rated as one of the star forwards of the year. And so must the Yale, after his play against the Rutgers Army line, where there were no weak spots to work on.

EVEN after Lafayette had beaten Pittsburgh a leading official, who worked in the game, slipped us this advice: "Ohio State, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Yale, after his play against the Rutgers Army line, where there were no weak spots to work on."

IF HARVARD'S goal line still remains untrapped, there is no reason why Center shouldn't resume where Georgia and Penn State left off. McMillin should be ready for at least one touchdown. But unless Center's defense has improved amazingly over a year ago Harvard, with her fast, alert attack, should run up something to spare.

IS FOOTBALL popular? How many ignore tickets have you seen floating around for any of the remaining big games?

Copyright, 1921. All rights reserved.

HEAD ON SCRATCH

Penn's Annual Handicap Meet to Be Held This Morning

Lawson Robertson's cross-country team will get its first real workout of the year this morning over the Cobbs Creek course when it vies for honors in the annual handicap meet. Don Head, captain of the varsity team, has completed handiaps to the varsity and freshman teams. Thirty athletes have entered the race.

The Red and Blue soccer team left last night for Cambridge, where they played their first game in an annual intercollegiate League game. Penn is not as strong this year as it was last year, Amelin being the only veteran from last year's great eleven.

OLYMPIA

Broad and Bainbridge
MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 31

HATTING MACK vs. RILEY WAINSWORTH
FRANKIE CLARK vs. SAMMY VOGEL
8:30 P.M.

Mosberg vs. Vranichetti
8 Rounds
SULLIVAN vs. LATZO
6 Rounds
MEALEY vs. AZEVEDO
10 Rounds

SCRIBES' GAME OFF

Blood-Curdling Contest Postponed Until Nov. 19, on Franklin Field

At the request of Manager Monk Ford, of the University of Pennsylvania, the annual football contest between the scrubs and managers on Franklin Field has been postponed until November 19. The Penn manager asked that the game be called off because of the rainy season. The Red and Blue students this morning, making the entire body will meet to play the game on the 9-17 field at West Philadelphia and escort them to Franklin Field, where speeches will be made by the players and officials.

FOOTBALL

Pennsylvania vs. Pittsburgh Saturday, Oct. 29, 2:30 P.M.

ADMISSION—SEATS, $2.00, $1.00 & 50c. Tickets may be had at Conner's and Franklin Field.

FRESHMAN GAME STARTS 12:30 P.M.

FOOTBALL TICKETS

Pennsylvania vs. Pittsburgh

For Sale at "Independent" City Market
9 South 13th Street, 2nd floor
Phone W-1011 R276

CHOICE SEATS

For Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh football game on sale at Klein's Cigar Store
37 South 13th St.

BIG LEAGUE SOCCER

NEWARK (HARRISON) vs. PHILADELPHIA (ATLANTIC CITY) at 2 P.M. at Philadelphia's Ball Park, Broad & Lehigh. Seats, 35 cts. Admission, 25 cts. in advance.

Pickering Hunt Races

Saturday, October 29th
Near Valley Forge at 2 P.M.
3 Jumping Races, 2 Flat Races
Admission, 5c. Parking space, 10c.

NATIONAL ALL STAR BOYS

Joe Jackson vs. Dave Shade
at Philadelphia
"Made in the wilderness" sensation
SCHEDULE: Oct. 29, 8 P.M. at Philadelphia's Ball Park, Broad & Lehigh. Reserve Seats, $1.00. Gen. Admission, 50c.

WITHEROW IS STAR OF BIG GRID GAME

West Phila. Quarterback Scintillates as Team Loses to Frankford, 6-0

FRANKFORD High's sturdy football eleven continued its rush toward the championship of the interscholastic League by beating West Philadelphia, 6-0, on Cahill Field, twenty-ninth and Somerset streets, yesterday afternoon. Many followers of scholastic football believe that the victory over the Speedboys actually clinches the title for the Pioneers.

In the middle of the last period, Cushman, the big Frankford tackle, blocked a kick by the Speedboys 15 yards line and fell on the ball for a touchdown. Captain Paul Remmer failed to kick the goal.

Although the Pioneers annexed the victory, the protegee of Warren West appeared to be the best team. The ball most of the time was in Frankford's possession. Captain Paul Remmer led the scoring attack for the Pioneers, with four touchdowns, and under his instructions the Speedboys forwards were able to snatch nearly all of Frankford's famous collection of trick plays.

In the first period, Witherow made one of the greatest plays ever seen on a scholastic gridiron. Captain Paul Remmer decided to toss a long forward pass on his second down. The ball was on its way to Weekee's awaiting arms when Witherow, who was 25 yards away, leaped into the air and blocked the pass. He landed on his head, but got up and resumed play. Forwards were able to snatch nearly all of Frankford's famous collection of trick plays.

Lansdowne created the biggest score of the day when it defeated Radnor High's undefeated eleven in their annual game on the former's field by a 7 to 0 score.

Dick Merritt's Penn Charter team had an off day in the Intercollegiate League and trailed out to Chestnut Ridge and trailed out to Chestnut Ridge and trailed out to Chestnut Ridge.

Camden High Losses

In a thrilling game, Collingswood High just about bowed out Camden High on the latter's grid, 14 to 14. Outplayed for three periods and unable to gain against the heavy Collingswood line, Camden turned its attention to the aerial route in the final quarter. This caught Collingswood unprepared, and the Camdens scored two touchdowns, but failed to kick one of the goals and lost by a one-point margin.

West Catholic High traveled to Wrentham, N. J., and was forced to a hard-fought game at Haverford by a hard-fought game at Haverford by a hard-fought game at Haverford.

A blocked kick resulted in the victory for the Main Liners. Cook blocked a punt and recovered for Haverford. On the next play O'Brien took the ball over on an end play, and Episcopal Academy ran roughshod over St. Luke's in the other Intercollegiate League game, winning handsily by a 35 to 0 score. It was the first time that the Pioneers had made six touchdowns through the Yellowjackets' walling.

Wetherow the Star

Johnny Wetherow, diminutive quarterback, playing in his first game of the season, having become eligible Thursday, was the individual star of the game. The little signal center had the opposing backs worried all the time, and under his instructions the Speedboys forwards were able to snatch nearly all of Frankford's famous collection of trick plays.

Wetherow the Star

Johnny Wetherow, diminutive quarterback, playing in his first game of the season, having become eligible Thursday, was the individual star of the game. The little signal center had the opposing backs worried all the time, and under his instructions the Speedboys forwards were able to snatch nearly all of Frankford's famous collection of trick plays.