LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK By Lee Pape

Me and Puds Simkins and Mary Watkins was setting on her frunt steps tawking about diffrent subjecks and some kid went past on a bysickle with no hat on, and his hair was all shiny and strate back, looking as if it was nainted instead of brushed. Mary Watkins saying, There, thats the kind of hair I like, thats the kind of hair I admire, why don't you boys brush your hair like that. I think you'dd look perfeekly wonderfill. eckly wonderfill.

Holey smoaks, its too sissey looking.

gosh, I sed.

It mite be al rite to go past with on a brsickle, but I wouldent wunt to wawk erround that way, sed Puds.

Well thats the ony kind of hair I admire. I just love that kind of hair, started to wawk together, me saying, ware you going, Puds? O nowares special, sed Puds, ware

No wares special, I sed. Wich jest then our teetcher Miss Kitty started to go past, me thinking, Heck, I got to tip my hat. Wich I tipped it and Puds tipped his, and his hair was back as strate as it could go and all shiny looking as if it had about a pound of easeline on it, me thinking. Helev razeline on it, me thinking, Holey smoaks if mine looks enything like his smoaks if mine looks enything like his I better go home agen.

Wich I did and pop was in the frunt hall, saying. Well, young man, do you keep your hat on in the house now? and I sed. No sir, and he sed. Then wy dont you take it off? and I sed, I was jest going to. And I took it off and pop started to laff all his mite, me thinking. G. I bet I know wat he's thinking, G. I bet I know wat he's laffing at. And I ran up stairs and got the vazeline off, taking much longer than wat it took to put it on and its not all off even yet.

Satin and Twill Form a Gay Combination

By CORINNE LOWE By CORINNE LOWE.

From all accounts blue serge is naving a hard time of it in Paris.

There it doesn't seem to take a much more active part in life than the pug dog or the high-wheeled bicycle.

Over here, however, we cling to our provincial navy serges and Poiret twills. It will probably be a long time, in fact, before the average American woman before the average American woman forgoes her allegiance to what has assumed almost the dignity of a national

We are showing today a sunning model of black satin and navy Poiret will embroidered in silver and national

While your mother and your grandmother used Fruit of the Loom in perhaps even more ways than you do, you have one advantage they did not enjoy.

Nowadays you can buy articles readymade of Fruit of the Loom. And when you see the Fruit of the Loom label on sheets, pillow cases, pajamas, nightshirts, nightgowns, men's and boys' shirts, handkerchiefs, you can rely not alone on the cloth but on the way the article is made. We are careful who uses our label.

Fruit of the Loom

There are a number of garments, such as dust-caps, children's clothing, for which Fruit of the Loom has been used for seventy years, that are not yet sold readymade of this standard fabric.

You will find Fruit of the Loom by the vard in nearly every dry goods store, and in many of the leading ones articles made of it. Ask for it by name and look for the label.
