

Evening Public Ledger

PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY
CHAS. H. MERRILL, President
JOHN C. HARTMAN, Vice President
WALTER H. HARRIS, Treasurer
WALTER H. HARRIS, Secretary

Member of the Associated Press

Another City Hall Scandal
In preparing to oppose the bill, the city council is said to have agreed to 'sell' a municipal order for $500,000 worth of bonds to the city.

A FULL-LEDGED HOLIDAY

Governor Sproule's proclamation regarding the full-ledged holiday in the United States, the distinction is not even accorded to the Fourth of July.

SELF-DETERMINATION

Norman Angell, who ardently conceives an exuberant idealism with an acute sense of realities, has lately been engaged in pressing the doctrine of self-determination into a blind alley.

WHY MONEY IS HIGH

BANKERS are saying that the responsibility for certain phases of business stagnation rests upon the Federal Government. It is absorbing capital that should be used in financing building operations and providing money for railroad reconstruction.

in order to induce investors to buy them. Capitalists will not lend money to builders or to railroads at 1 per cent at the present time. They ask 6 per cent or more.

THE INEVITABLE LOGIC OF MUNICIPAL CAR LINES

The City-Run Frankford Elevated Will Be the Forerunner of a Demand That the Whole City Be Served in the Same Way

THE transit system is so serious that the untangling of it seems impossible. But there are things that are not always what they seem.

THE LEGION

PSYCHOLOGISTS—clever people who pretend to know all about what goes on in the closed back rooms of your mind—say that it is far easier to remember pleasant things than unpleasant ones, and that somewhere at the seat of human consciousness there is a mechanism which is forever at work eliminating memories that do not seem to be brighter and more agreeable to life.

THE PLACE FOR CHARLES

THE issue of municipal proportions seems to be the outstanding controversy at Haddonfield. Napoleon had his Waterloo, Charles Bismarck, appropriately enough, has his Haddonfield.

could not be changed without the consent of the city. The fare was increased by the Public Service Commission last year without the city's consent.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT

Movement Afoot to Celebrate Armistice Day by Raising Money for the Restoration of Belleau Wood
By SARAH D. LOWRIE
FOR more than two weeks now I have gone by the Emergency Aid Building at 221 South Eighteenth street my eyes have fallen absent-mindedly on a large notice posted across the doorway.

There is France's own debt, which takes an incalculable time to pay, and it is her war debt which takes another five billion francs; that is the depreciation of the franc, so that where five used to make a dollar, fourteen francs are equal to it.

There are villages, however, that have been completely destroyed, so that even the inhabitants who once lived there cannot and cannot the powder-blackened heaps of rubble and the single street or house.

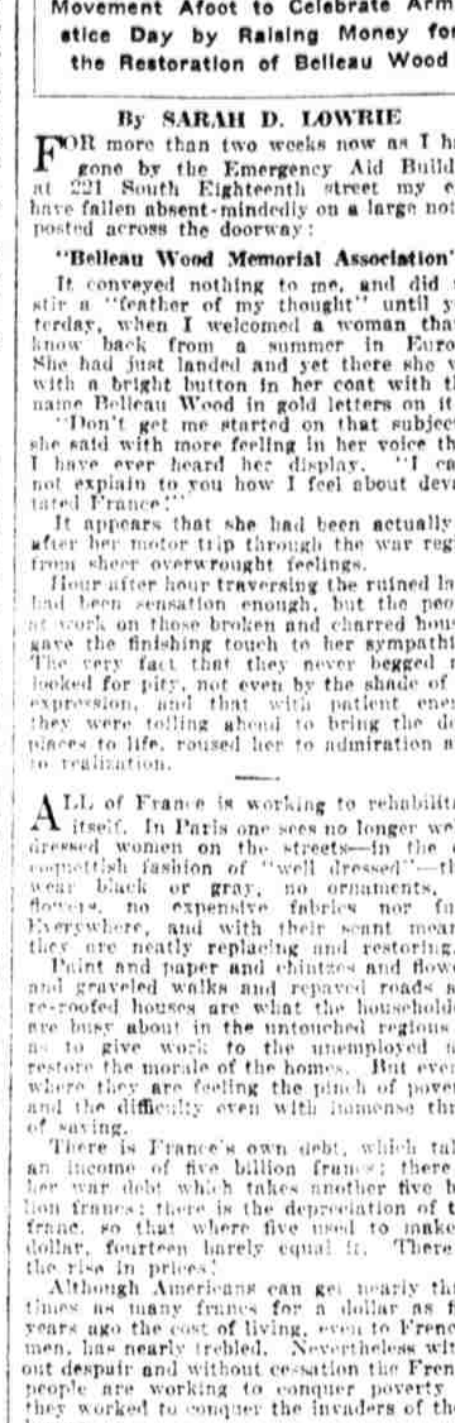

When the final clearing out of the best of the ruins is completed, the village of Belleau will be a little town of standing in Belgium. The chateau and the church were almost intact, but they were on the edge of the town.

MANY Americans feel that there could be no more fitting celebration for Armistice Day over here than a great popular subscription to help reconstruct the village of Belleau Wood.

There are many ways of spending that money, but the best way is to give it to the women in this town who worked in the war, at home or overseas.

Today's Anniversaries
1812—Richard M. Bishop, Governor of Ohio 1878-80, born in Fleming County, Kentucky. Died at Jacksonville, Fla., March 2, 1893.

AT THE SPHINX

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS

Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

HEDDA VAN DEN BEEMT

THE effect of music on the life and mood of the man in prison is as intense as it is intangible. To many hardened criminals it is the single remaining phase of their existence that is inviolate and inviolable.

When the final clearing out of the best of the ruins is completed, the village of Belleau will be a little town of standing in Belgium. The chateau and the church were almost intact, but they were on the edge of the town.

MANY Americans feel that there could be no more fitting celebration for Armistice Day over here than a great popular subscription to help reconstruct the village of Belleau Wood.

There are many ways of spending that money, but the best way is to give it to the women in this town who worked in the war, at home or overseas.

Today's Anniversaries
1812—Richard M. Bishop, Governor of Ohio 1878-80, born in Fleming County, Kentucky. Died at Jacksonville, Fla., March 2, 1893.

SHORT CUTS

It will be interesting to learn what the American Legion thinks of the charges of Senator Tom Watson.
A Paris expert says that pearls being forged in this country will make wearers had risk in credit houses.

A STANDBY

THE weather man seems always right—When in the day's report I see that warmer weather is in sight.

W hat Do You Know?

1. For what exploit in discovery is Roald Amundson noted?
2. What is the largest city in Sicily?
3. Who was the first name of Mr. P. H. Renshaw?

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz

1. The ancient Greek-Roman deity Pan was worshipped as a god in Greece and Roman literature was regarded as the Great Mother of the Gods.