

MRS. WILSON GIVES RABBIT MENUS

Those Who Like to Eat This Meat Will Welcome the Patpie She Tells Of

By MRS. M. A. WILSON

AUTUMN markets are displaying the rabbit. Bre'r Rabbit, when prepared for the table as in a rabbit pie, is a delicious dainty that is truly satisfying. The old and familiar hasenpfeffer of rabbit is another method that may be used to add variety to the menu.

The rabbit may be served as a stew with dumplings, fricassee, baked potato, fried and in rabbit loaf. This meat is usually very reasonably priced. Purchase a pair of rabbits for the Sunday dinner. Have the butcher dress them for you and also cut them into suitable pieces for serving.

Utilize this pair of rabbits I will plan a Saturday evening dinner as well as the Sunday menu.

The market basket will require one pair of rabbits, one-half pound of bacon, salt pork, cheese, apples, apricots, potatoes, both white and sweet, turnips, cabbage, onions, carrots, Brussels sprouts, nuts, can of tomato puree, and the usual weekly staples.

Rabbit Potpie
 Wash the rabbits after the butcher has cut them into pieces of suitable size for serving. Place in a saucepan and just barely cover with boiling water. Now add:
 Two onions, cut in slices.
 One faggot of soup herbs.
 One large carrot, cut in dice.
 One large turnip, cut in dice.
 Cook very slowly until tender and then lift the pieces of one rabbit into a baking dish. Season nicely. Place one-half of stock in which the rabbit was cooked (this liquid must be cold) in the saucepan and add:
 One cup of flour,
 Two level teaspoons of salt,
 One level teaspoon of pepper,
 One-half level teaspoon of thyme,
 Two level teaspoons of Worcester-shire sauce.
 One-half cup of finely grated onion,
 One-half cup of finely chopped pars-ley,
 One and one-fourth cups of cold water.
 Dissolve the flour and spices before adding to the stock. Stir to blend thor-oughly with a wire spoon and bring quickly to a boil. Pour over the cooked rabbit in the baking dish and add:
 One cup of diced carrots, parboiled,
 One cup of diced celery, parboiled.
 Then cover with top crust of pastry and bake in a slow oven for fifty minutes.

Brown Onion Soup
 Mince very fine two ounces of salt pork and then place in a skillet and add one and one-half cups of sliced onions. Cook very slowly until the onions are nicely browned and then add two-thirds cup of flour and stir to brown thoroughly. Turn in a deep saucepan and add seven cups of cold water. Stir to dissolve and then bring to a boil and add:
 One cup of finely minced green tops of celery,
 One teaspoon of thyme,
 One cup of finely diced carrots.
 Cook very slowly for one hour and then strain, season and serve.

Fried Rabbit
 Lift the rabbit that is left over when both were cooked on Saturday. Roll in flour and then dip in beaten egg and milk and roll in fine bread crumbs. Fry a golden brown in smoking hot fat. Brown nicely one slice of bacon for each piece of rabbit and lay over the cooked rabbit. Now add one-half cup of flour to the fat after cooking the bacon and then stir to blend. Now add:
 One cup of milk,
 In which the rabbit was cooked. Stir well to blend and then bring to a boil. Cook slowly for five minutes. Season to taste and add the vegetables drained from the balance of the stock in which the rabbits were cooked.
 Pour over the cooked rabbit and garnish with finely minced parsley.

 $10 coats are full length chevrots in brown or navy blue, with stitched collars.
Polo Coats, $15 and $18.75
 $15 coats are in several models, some lined throughout with silk, others made of double-faced materials, having only the yoke and sleeves lined.
 $18.75 coats are in light tan, lined in figured and plain peau de cygne or crepe de chine. Some have leather buttons and buckle.
 $18.75 also for bolivia coats and coats of oxford gray cloth with raglan sleeves and embroidered collars. Silk lined throughout.
Ten Different Styles at $20
 Coats of bolivia and fine velour, some tailored and belted, some with loose backs, some braided. They have cloth or fur collars and every one is lined throughout with silk. Mostly in navy blue, black and brown.

Twenty Different Models at $25
 Some of the best coat values we have ever seen are in this group. Of bolivia, Normandie, suede velour and plain velour there are conservative coats and coats with handsome fur collars of Australian opossum, racoon, wolf and beaverette (coney). Others have throw scarf collars. Blouse models, the latest word of fashion, will be found among these. Every coat lined with silk. Color assortment includes Sorrento, navy, brown and taupe.
Chinchilla Coats for Young Women, $29
 Tailored coats with a delightful youthfulness about them. They're belted and lined with beau de cygne and are in brown, navy and deer. Also some tailored bolivia coats in the group.
Beautiful Coats at $35
 Blouse coats, trimmed with braid.
 Velour coats with large fur collars.
 Bolivia coats with loose, flowing sleeves.
 Coats of Normandie with large collars of Australian opossum.
 All in the most fashionable colorings—navy, Sorrento, deer and brown—all lined with pretty silks.
Wonderfully Fine Coats at $45, $50, $55, $65, $69 to $125
 Made of the most luxurious coating materials, these coats are topped with deep and handsome collars of mole, beaver, nutria, squirrel, racoon, taupe and platinum wolf, skunk-dyed opossum and Australian opossum. Some have fur cuffs to match. Colorings are soft and delightful and linings are beautiful. Prices are considerably lower than they have been for coats of these exclusive types.

Who Could Imagine Such Charming Dresses at $4.25, $5 and $6.75!
 $4.25 for one and two piece corduroy frocks, brown or navy, in the youthful style with Peter Pan collars and cuffs of white flannel or brown leatherette. (Sketched).
 $5 for 10 different styles in navy blue serge dresses which are embroidered in black or colored silk or with bronze beads.
 $5 for wool jersey dresses in one-piece style, trimmed with heavy embroidery and light bindings. In brown, tan, reindeer and Copenhagen.
 $6.75 for two-piece wool jersey dresses, in brown, henna, tan, navy, green or red, with white linene or flannel Peter Pan collars and cuffs.
Fifteen Brand-New Styles at $10
 One-piece jersey frocks in henna, reindeer and navy, in two styles, are made with pleated skirts and white collars and cuffs.
 Velvet dresses, in navy blue and black, are made in four pretty ways youthful and simple.
 Tricot dresses are in great variety—some with deep embroidery. Some with French knots and deep fringe. A gray frock has a piping of bright orange or king's blue broadcloth.
 Russian crepe dresses in black are elaborately embroidered in crystal beads.
 Navy blue crepe de chine frocks are trimmed with tufts of lighter blue.

Some of the Finest Dresses We Have Ever Seen for $15
 And that means something in the Down Stairs Store, famous for moderately priced dresses. The materials are unusually fine, particularly the silks, and will bear closest inspection. For afternoon wear there are charming dresses of heavy silk crepes in black, navy and brown, made in simple, delightful ways, universally becoming. Tailored dresses are of tricot and Poret twill in one-piece style coat effects. One dress has a little box jacket with a henna vestee and pleated skirt.
250 Dresses at $18.75 and $22.50
 $18.75 dresses are of wool crepe, made with scalloped skirts heavily embroidered—navy and brown. Also of navy tricot lined with iridescent bugle beads.
 $22.50 dresses are made of heavy Canton crepe, crepe-back satin, crepe de chine and duvetyne combinations, and crepe de chine, Poret twill and tricotine. Included are frocks appropriate—and charming—for every daytime occasion of the Winter season.

Exactly the Shoes and Pumps That Women Want—Special at $4.10 and $4.75
 Moccasin pumps for street and evening in four styles of black suede and patent leather, with three-buckle straps, baby French and low heels, $4.10.
 Black and tan calfskin oxfords with decorative stitching and perforations, welted soles and medium and low heels, $4.10.
1000 Pair of Women's Spats at 40c
 Usually about three or four times as much! They're in various fashionable colors. Some are extra high, particularly in white. All sizes in white; broken sizes in colors.
Quilted Satin Bedroom Slippers at $2.25
 Plenty of women will be glad to get these now for Christmas, and plenty more for personal use. They have quilted satin insoles, padded heels and soft soles. In pink, orchid, rose, black, Copenhagen and Burgundy.

Best $5 Hats of the Season!
 They have an air of richness, smartness and, actually, exclusiveness that is seldom found in hats whose prices are under two figures! Tones of russet, tan, henna and brown predominate but there are also grays, blues, black and other colors.
 Shapes are interesting and becoming. As for trimming, a great deal of ostrich is being used again, sometimes in its natural straight fluffy state and sometimes tightly curled or smartly glycerined.
 The duvetyne is excellent quality and is frequently combined with exceptionally deep soft velvet.
 For variety there are hats of panne velvet and of satin.

OVERCOAT DAY!
And Here Are the Overcoats!
All-Wool and Splendidly Tailored
$20 to $38.50
 A man without an overcoat on the first Sunday in November is like a woman without a new hat on Easter! The first Sunday in November is a man's Winter Easter, and almost every man owes himself a new overcoat about now.
 Double-breasted ulsterettes have half belts or belts all around and the ulsters are great big warm coats.
 Some are of contrasting and plaid-back coating.

Loveliest Silk Overblouses We've Ever Had at $5.90
 If women were asked to select four of the prettiest styles of the season we are sure that most women would pick these very four! Very lovely is the Georgette crepe model that combines bright red and black and has beautiful black silk lace sleeves.
 Good crepe de chine is used in two favorite styles.
 One has full slashed sleeves and snug wristbands, the other has peasant sleeves, both have Peter Pan collars. In mahogany, henna, black, navy and white.
 Unusual beaded Georgette overblouses are in brown, navy and black.

Unusual Sample Dresses for Girls of 8 to 14—$8.50
 Just one, two or three of a kind—and the finest dresses we have ever had at such a price.
 —Of chiffon taffeta embroidered in silk;
 —velveteen and wool jersey embroidered in wool;
 —fine twill serge embroidered in contrasting silk or wool;
 —velveteen tops over skirts of fine wool plaid;
 —taffeta with wee ruffles.
 The materials in all of these dresses are of very fine quality and there is much hand-work in the trimming. Styles are simple and of the distinctive type so much prized in children's clothes.
Special at $3.25
 Frocks with navy serge pleated skirts on detachable blue chambray bodices made in regulation style. Sizes 6 to 14.
Other Special Frocks
 Good ginghams at $1, $1.50 and $1.90.
