People Do Not Have to Buy to Be Welcome in This Store

"You Are Quite Right, Madame"

There is not a boiler or steam engine furnace anywhere under the roof of this building. Safety is the first consideration. The outside of the building in its strength, straightforwardness and simplicity represents fairly what is going on inside of it in the daily transaction of business.

We do no wholesale business and therefore have no left-overs to dispose of at retail, nor do we share our purchases with other stores in this or other cities.

The united power of the old A. T. Stewart Store in New York with our Philadelphia Store in making large purchases is everywhere recognized abroad and elsewhere.

We take the same pleasure in the visits of people whether they come to see or to buy.

[Signed] John Wanamaker

Emerson Likened a Man to a Waltham Watch

And, as he was describing the best type of man when he said it, it was meant as a compliment to both the man and the watch.

Men who have carried Waltham watches for years past know best about the thorough trustworthiness of this watch. It is generally conceded to be one of the finest American watches made at the present time and, for the quality, the price is most moderate.

14-kt. gold cases from $36 to $95. With special gilt or silvered dials, $60 to $120.

With white, green or yellow gold cases in round or decaagon shapes, $66 to $122. Thin model watches, $200 to $325. Gold-filled cases, $20 to $71. Wrist watches in 14-kt. gold cases, $64 to $103. In silver cases, $31 to $73.

A Good Rough-and-Ready Overcoat for Young Men

From a manufacturer who specializes in clothing for college and prep school men we have received some mighty smart double-breasted ulsterettes.

These coats are designed with two chief ends in view, one to look well and the other to give unusual service. They are the kind of garments a chap can "rough it" in and yet they will not look the worse for wear. Some of them have no linings at all, not even sleeve linings.

These are all belted overcoats in rough chevots and in browns, grays and heather mixtures.

Prices, $28 to $35.

The Rarer Fox Furs and Their Clever Imitators

Silver fox is the choicest of all the fox family, and certainly one of the most beautiful of all furs. Scarfs of this fine fur may be chosen here for from $275 to $850, varying from just a slight silvering of the blue-black pelt to one much more thickly silvered.

Natural blue fox, lovely in both color and texture, is priced at $300 and $400 for fine large scarfs.

The two clever imitators of these choicer furs would almost defy any but an expert to tell them from their more aristocratic relatives. Pointed fox scarfs, most ingeniously tipped to resemble silver fox, begin at $45. And dyed blue fox, that simulates admirably the natural bluish mauve pelt, is here in beautiful scarfs from $75 up.

Between these rarer foxes and their imitators are the handsome cross fox scarfs, at $115 and $150.

In selecting furs it is well to choose where one may be sure both of quality and comprehensive variety.

The tricotines include several models in fine quality and good style. All are exceptional quality at this price.

The same is true of every dress in the $28 group. They are tricotines and Canton crepes, in black or colors, made in a number of really charming fashions, and all intended to sell for much more. Sizes are 14 to 20.

Women's Fine French Kid Gloves

The man who makes some of our finest French kid gloves tells us that to get even 40 dozen fine enough kidskins for Wanamaker gloves he sometimes has to go through more than 10,000 average skins.

It is almost incredible, the care taken in selecting those irregular little white skins and in working them up into the beautiful gloves ready here now for particular women.

We believe them to be the lowest-priced gloves of their quality anywhere.

Fine French kid gloves priced $2.75 a pair up.
