

DREAMLAND ADVENTURES

Going Hunting BY DADDY

Jack and Janet got hunting in the big woods with drawing pencils and tablets instead of guns. They follow the tracks of a deer.

CHAPTER IV They Capture the Deer. TODDIE PUPKINS and Johnny Bull were two wildly excited dogs when they found the tracks of a deer beside the stream in the woods.

"How-wow-wow! That deer isn't far off, for its scent is still fresh!" barked Toddie Pupkins. "Hurry, and hark! catch him. I'm hungry for deer meat."

Jack and Janet were surprised to find they could understand animal talk. Toddie Pupkins' words being as plain to them as though they had been spoken by a human. Their nap seemed in some strange way to have opened their ears.

But Jack didn't like Toddie Pupkins' words about being hungry for deer meat. He was afraid to let the dogs go on ahead, lest they should try to tear the deer to pieces.

"You stay behind us and keep as quiet as Indians," said Jack to Toddie Pupkins and Johnny Bull. "We are not hunting this deer to eat him, but to draw him."

The dogs were disappointed at that, but they were well trained, so they obeyed Jack, while the children went ahead, following the tracks the deer had made in the soft ground. The ponies Trisix and Topsy came along in the rear.

The tracks of the deer were sharp and clear for a short distance. Then they came to hard ground and the tracks vanished. Jack and Janet couldn't see a sign of hoof prints.

"Oh, now we can't follow the deer," wailed Janet. "He has gotten away from me!"

"Humph!" sniffed Toddie Pupkins with his nose to the ground. "Here are the deer's tracks as plain as can be." Jack and Janet looked closely, but their eyes failed to find any tracks.

"I can't see them," said Janet. "Humph!" Of course, you can't see deer," barked Toddie. "But any one with a nose ought to be able to smell them."

Jack and Janet got down on their noses, but when they put their noses to the ground all they could smell was molly leaves.

"We can't smell any deer," they wailed.

"Humph!" sniffed Toddie Pupkins again. "You are not very good hunters with your noses. Follow me and I'll find that deer."

So Jack and Janet had to let Toddie Pupkins go ahead, after all. But to make sure that Toddie Pupkins wouldn't hurt the deer, Jack took tight hold of Toddie's tail. For the same reason Janet clung to Johnny Bull's collar. Thus they went on swiftly.

After a while Toddie Pupkins began to wriggle excitedly. "Woof!" he barked under his breath. "We are very close to that deer."

They crept along very quietly then—as quietly as the most silent of Indians. On tiptoe, stepping carefully so as not to snap even a twig, they came to a sunny glade at the top of a hill.

There in his snug hiding place was handsome Mr. Buck Deer, sound asleep. Toddie Pupkins and Johnny Bull were so happy over finding the deer they wanted to bark loudly and joyously. But Jack and Janet put their hands over the dogs' muzzles, smothering the barks.

"Will you be quiet?" whispered Janet. "Toddie and Johnny Bull nodded 'yes'."

Then Jack and Janet got busy with the pencils and drawing tablets which they had brought instead of guns. They

Not Much Trimming for the Little Girl

By CORINNE LOWE.

The tendency is toward crowded gowns—that is, for the girl of from 8 to 14. Nowadays one sees so many frocks of this character which are showered with all sorts of trimmings that the above simple little model should find immediate favor with those who cling to the ancient theory of plain dressing for children.

It is made of full blue dometex, with Chinese red leather belt and with red ribbons catching the slit sleeves, as well as finishing the neck line. Such a model is an admirable suggestion for the Saturday afternoon outing.

Brown dometex are frequently used for the girl of this age. In fact, brown is unobjectionable by any material. Thus some of the dressy serges for the schoolgirl are carried out in either tan or brown.

began to draw Mr. Buck Deer. And Mr. Buck Deer lay so still they didn't have a bit of trouble. In a short time each had a fine picture of him drawn on the tablets.

"I'd like to catch that deer," whispered Jack to Janet as they finished. "Wouldn't the folks be surprised if we should bring him home with us?"

"If we grab him by the horns while he sleeps, he can't get away!" agreed Janet, and, with Jack, she began to creep toward the deer.

"Tomorrow will be told the surprising and exciting things that happen when they grab the sleeping deer by the horns."

Dr. Albert W. Hull to Lecture. Dr. Albert W. Hull will lecture tonight at the Franklin Institute on "The Crystal Structures of the Common Elements." He will review methods and apparatus for X-ray crystal analysis, and will give a description of apparatus for taking X-ray diffraction photographs of powders, and the use of plots to determine the crystal structure from these photographs.

HAIR'S HIDDEN BEAUTY is brought to light with a Golden Gilt Shampoo.—Ad.

Mrs. Catt to Lecture. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, suffrage leader, will lecture on "Political Parties, Their Strength and Their Weakness" at 8:30 tonight in Bryn Mawr College gymnasium. This is the third of the initial course of lectures given on the Anna Howard Shaw Memorial Foundation of Politics. After the lecture, which will occupy fifty minutes, there will be an open discussion.

The Question Corner

Today's Inquiries

- 1. What important sort of position does Miss Jane Henderick hold, which it is believed no other woman has?
2. Describe a gift that is quaint and very useful.
3. In what way is an article fashioned which is a distinct help to the mother with a very young baby?
4. For the kitchen, what is a simple device to be put over the sink that will be welcomed?
5. To give double service, what sort of wrap is desirable?
6. What bit of head-dress gives a charming finish to a young girl's evening costume?

Yesterday's Answers

- 1. Miss Grace Abbott is Miss Julia Lathrop's successor as first chief of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor.
2. In making the heading of an unlined window curtain allow twice the depth of the heading, so that the raw edge can be turned in the full width of the heading, giving it body enough to stand up properly.
3. A little glycerine added to soapsuds will make the soap bubbles last longer than usual.
4. The girl who is proud of her dressing table appointments would like the gift of a powder box cover, made of satin and tulle ruffles, that can be snapped around any powder can.
5. To change an ordinary-looking dress with a tulle skirt into a striking one by dyeing a wide white banding the same color as the dress and running a sash of black tulle through it. Place this around the hips.
6. Fur and flowers have changed places in the way they are used as trimming, as fur is found at the waistline of an afternoon frock, while flowers edge the bottom of an evening dress.

HATS CLEANED

Remodeled in the newest shapes for sports and cutting wear. Our 40 years of experience is at your service. Steinman 54 N. 7th St. Phone: Market 5273. Branch: Jefferson Ave. Works, 107 S. 12th.

WICKER

FOR INSIDE THE HOME. Specially priced. The new styles. Chair (illustrated) we are enabled to continue to offer complete. $12.00. 4 place sets, complete, $25 and up. L. C. KIRCHER & CO. 1310 CHESTNUT ST. Estimates cheerfully given. Spruce, 7096.

WHATS WHAT BY HELEN DECTE. Many modern educators believe that we should be a little more Spartan or red Indian in our treatment of boys who, they affirm, should not be governed and taught exclusively by women after the tenth year of life. These critics claim that "the easy boy" is effeminate because "women have too much say-so about his clothes, his games and his companions."

TELLS OF PAPER CLOTHES

Prof. J. W. Sturmer Talks Tonight at College of Pharmacy. Products from cotton fields and forests will be the theme tonight of the third lecture of the five public courses given under the auspices of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, at 145 North Tenth street. The subject will be treated by Prof. J. W. Sturmer, professor of pharmaceutical chemistry at the college. The lecture, which will be illustrated, will deal with the newer aspects of the chemical utilization of cellulose, the substance which constitutes cotton fiber, and which may be separated also from wood pulp. Among the products which will be covered are varnishes, artificial leather, artificial silk, celluloid, paper of all descriptions, paper clothes and many other substances and materials which find common use in industrial processes.

Mayor Ejected From Trolley Car. St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 10.—Mayor L. C. Hodgson, of St. Paul, was forcibly ejected from a street car here yesterday after refusing to pay an extra fare for riding one extra block.

MANY PEOPLE

Take a few steps off Chestnut Street on 12th Street simply to see the

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS

We shall be glad to have you come in. Please don't feel obliged to purchase.

The Century Flower Shop 12th St. Below Chestnut Street

PECANS BY MAIL

At Wholesale Prices. "The Best Flavored Nuts in the World." You can save money and get them fresh by ordering from this ad. We sell the best for less. Send $1.00 for 2 1/2 pounds $2.00 for 4 1/2 pounds $3.00 for 7 1/2 pounds $5.00 for 12 1/2 pounds "The Nut House" 134 Dock St. Philadelphia, Pa.

The shortest cut

HEINZ OVEN BAKED BEANS with Tomato Sauce

The shortest cut to a good square meal is a can of Heinz Baked Beans and you will find nothing on the way to hurry or annoy you. Just heat and serve.

These beans are really oven baked and are prepared with the most delicious tomato sauce you ever tasted.

So good—and always so good that it is the most popular dish in many thousands of homes.

The well known cleanliness and purity of the Heinz kitchens insures the rest.

One of the 57 Leading grocers in Philadelphia quote these prices on Heinz Baked Beans: Small, 11 oz—11c Medium, 18 oz—15c Large, 30 oz—25c

WANAMAKER'S Wanamaker's Down Stairs Store

Will Not Open Until 12.15 P. M. Tomorrow, Armistice Day, Following the Solemn Memorial Services in the Grand Court.

WOMEN'S smart sports coats of chinchilla and camel's-hair and many polo coats are well tailored and show great style variety. Some are trimmed with raccoon and all are seasonable. $15 to $55. (Market)

LITTLE boys' suits with wash waists and heavier trousers, of corduroy or serge, are very good looking, as well as serviceable. Sizes 4 to 8 years, $3.50 to $5. Heavier suits, altogether of serge, corduroy or wool jersey, are $5.50 to $7.50. (Central)

A WONDERFULLY interesting collection of gift trifles is to be found in a series of little shops on the Thirteenth Street Aisle. All sorts of charming and unusual things are gathered here. (Central)

ENOUGH handkerchief linen to make three handkerchiefs can be had for 50c, in the form of a strip 12 inches deep and 36 inches wide. The colorings are lovely—and it's none too early to start Christmas handkerchiefs. (Central)

WARM outing flannel has many uses now that Winter has come. Nightgowns, pajamas, bed socks, night hoods for outdoor sleepers, babies' slippers and petticoats are some of the cozy things to be made from it. Plain white or striped at 15c and 18c for 27-inch width; 20c for 36-inch width. (Central)

A GOOD school coat for junior girls of 15 to 17 is of heavy double-faced wool coating, made on the lines of a man's overcoat—double breasted, with raglan shoulders, convertible collar and double patch pockets. It is half lined with silk. $20. (Market)

DRESSES in extra sizes are specially priced at $29. These are of heavy crepe de chine in navy and black, cut on simple lines that have charm and slenderness. Sizes 42 1/2 to 55. Tricotine dresses, navy, black and brown, embroidered in self colors. $39. (Market)

BLACK or navy blue sateen petticoats in extra sizes are especially good at $1.50. (Extra-size Shop, Market)

PINK elastic girdles are decidedly popular with young women, and are of plain or fancy materials in 12 and 14-inch depths; $1.50 and $2. (Central)

ENVELOPE chemises, $1, are in half a dozen dainty tailored or lace-trimmed styles, either pink or white. (Central)

BLACK satin blouses in two styles are made of heavy, lustrous satin—one has a roll collar and front pleat with tiny frills; the other a roll collar and vest. $5.90. (Market)

DIMITY blouses, $2.50, are in the trim, semi-tailored styles that young women and schoolgirls want. Many have Peter Pan collars. (Market)

BLACK Canton crepe of beautiful quality is $2.90 a yard. This new shipment arrived to replace some that went out in a hurry last week. (Central)

FRENCH veiling, 65c a yard, is an exquisitely fine mesh with tiny chenille dots. Plain black, navy and brown, also black-and-white, flesh-and-black and many other combinations of dots, including cherry on black. (Central)

BLANKET bathrobes, $3.85, are big and warm and roomy. Pretty pink, blue and lavender floral designs and plenty of dark plaids. (Central)

FLANNELET nightgowns, $1, are the nicest we've seen for this small sum. Collar or V-neck styles, made with double yokes for extra warmth and long sleeves. (Central)

PURE linen hand-hemmed dish towels, 16 1/2 x 36 inches, have red borders. 25c and 30c. (Central)

SNUG, soft, brushed-wool scarfs with contrasting Tuxedo folds, belts and warm pockets are in several color combinations at $5. Brown with buff, buff with brown, black with white, navy with buff or gray. (Central)

WOMEN'S wool sweaters, done in a fancy stitch with a plain Tuxedo front and belt, are in black, navy, buff and brown at $3.50. Black or navy blue thread silk sweaters, $13.50. (Central)

MEN'S golf hose, many of soft English yarns, are in heather colorings to match most golf suits—brown, gray and camel's-hair tan. The fancy tops are in gay or somber colorings to suit a man's fancy. Special at $1.75. (Gallery, Market)

SOME fine new oxfords for men are in Scotch grain effect in black or nut brown leather. Some are elaborately trimmed with perforations, others are perfectly plain, without tips, even. Rawhide inserts in the soles make for service. $8.50 to $9.50. (Gallery, Market)

BLANKETING for making bathrobes for all the family is in a great variety of patterns and colorings. Some is most appropriate for baby buntings and carriage robes. 27 inches wide, 60c a yard. (Central)

WOOL-FILLED quilts, $6.50, are fine and warm. Covered with figured cambric with plain pink, blue, yellow or green sateen borders and backs. (Central)

FINE wool-mixed plaid blankets, $6.50, 68 x 80 inches, are in pretty gray, pink, blue and tan block plaids. (Central)

TWILL-BACK black velveteen, $1.65 a yard. It is twill-back fast-pile velveteen, as practical for frocks and suits as for millinery. 26 inches wide. (Central)

White Goods That Stay White

If you could see an unused bolt of Fruit of the Loom made many years ago you would find it as snowy white as any bought yesterday. Wash (and thoroughly rinse) this same fabric again and again—so long as there is anything left it will stay white. It wears for years. It is easy to sew on. It is reasonable in price. And it has proved its worth for three generations.

Fruit of the Loom

Think of all the ways that Fruit of the Loom can be useful to you. Here are a few suggestions: Aprons, nightgowns, nightshirts, pajamas, men's and boys' shirts, children's dresses, rompers and caps, sheets, pillow slips.

You can get nightwear, sheets and pillow cases, ready-made of Fruit of the Loom, in several well-known makes.

It is well worth your while to ask for Fruit of the Loom. Look for the label—both on the bolt and in ready-made garments.

B. B. & R. KNIGHT, Inc. Makers of Alpine Rose, Hero, Cannon and Other Fine Cotton Fabrics. Converse & Company, Selling Agents, 88 North Street, New York.

