

Bob Folwell Is Trying to Inject More Power Into Navy Attack for Penn State Battle Saturday

OFFENSE VS. DEFENSE IN STATE-NAVY FUSS

Middies' Uncrossed Goal Record May Be Shattered by Running Attack of Bezdek's Eleven—Killingier and Lightner High Scorers

PENN STATE athletes, with their powerful, running offense, will ram into the best defense they have opposed this season when they engage the Navy at Franklin Field Saturday afternoon.

The Middies are equipped with a powerful line and a secondary defense that so far has smothered everything that has slipped by the forwards. Folwell's fighters have turned back every team in this campaign without permitting their goal line to be crossed.

Killingier and Lightner, two members of the state basketball team, were named as the high scorers for the game. Killingier has been the high scorer for Bezdek in the matter of touchdowns.

Lightner has been the high scorer for Bezdek in the matter of touchdowns. He has crossed the goal line the opposite nine times for a total of 54 points.

The Middies will come in body on Saturday morning and will number 1300 strong. There will be an equal number of Penn State students on hand.

Camden is back on even terms with Frank Bruggy's Miners. The Jersey men did last evening on the wooden way at the Third Regiment Armory, 30 to 28.

VILLANOVA HOPES TO DEFEAT ARMY

Main Line Eleven Expects to Repeat Feat of 1915 in Conquering Cadets on Saturday

BATTLE AT WEST POINT

Villanova College students are entertaining high hopes that the 1915 victory over the Army will be repeated this Saturday when the suburban players go to the mat with the Cadets at West Point.

The Middies had not had much success with the air route last Saturday against Bucknell. Folwell realizes the full value of passing and has been drilling his pupils all week in correcting the errors which appeared against Bucknell in this method of attack.

The Navy has not had many hard games this season. The toughest one looks like Princeton. Bucknell also furnished unexpectedly hard opposition, but the other games were easy triumphs.
