

THEY MOVED IN ENDLESS PROCESSION. The great and the lowly walked through the rotunda of the Capitol to pay tribute to the unknown dead, lying in state. The roped path and guards are shown in etching.

STATESMEN AND SOLDIERS HONOR HERO. Distinguished group pays homage to American soldier. Left to right, British Ambassador Geddes, Vice Air Marshal Higgins, Sir Maurice Hanley, General Pershing, Lord Caven, Arthur J. Balfour, Secretary Hughes.

FLOWERS ARRIVING AT CAPITOL. Soldiers and marines of the British army and navy, with their officers, unloading floral tributes. They include tokens from King George and Queen Mary, as well as from the many official heads of Great Britain.

ON WAY TO CAPITOL. Arthur J. Balfour, chief of the British delegation in Washington, seated with Secretary Hughes, headed a long line of automobiles in a procession from the British Embassy.

MRS. OBENCHAIN FAINTS. She collapsed as she appeared before the Grand Jury at Los Angeles, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy. Her former husband, Ralph Obenchain, is at the right. Sheriff Treeger, at left.

GALLI-CURCI, on her arrival in New York from Cleveland, was given a rousing reception.

FRENCH EXPERTS. Admiral Debon and General Buat are with the French delegation to the Arms Conference.

AMBASSADOR JUSSERAND, of France, host to many French folk.

ELECTED. Miss Annie Mathews, the new Register of New York.

HENRY C. MORRIS, heads new fuel division of the Department of Commerce.

NUTRITION FROM A BOTTLE. Baby seal in London being fed by keeper.

TO AID BOY SCOUTS. Barbara Barnard will be at the Kennel Club of Philadelphia show on November 23 and 24. Hemlock Hill Patch is the dog's name.

MADAME KARINA. The world-famous Danish dancer is soon to visit this country. She is now in France.

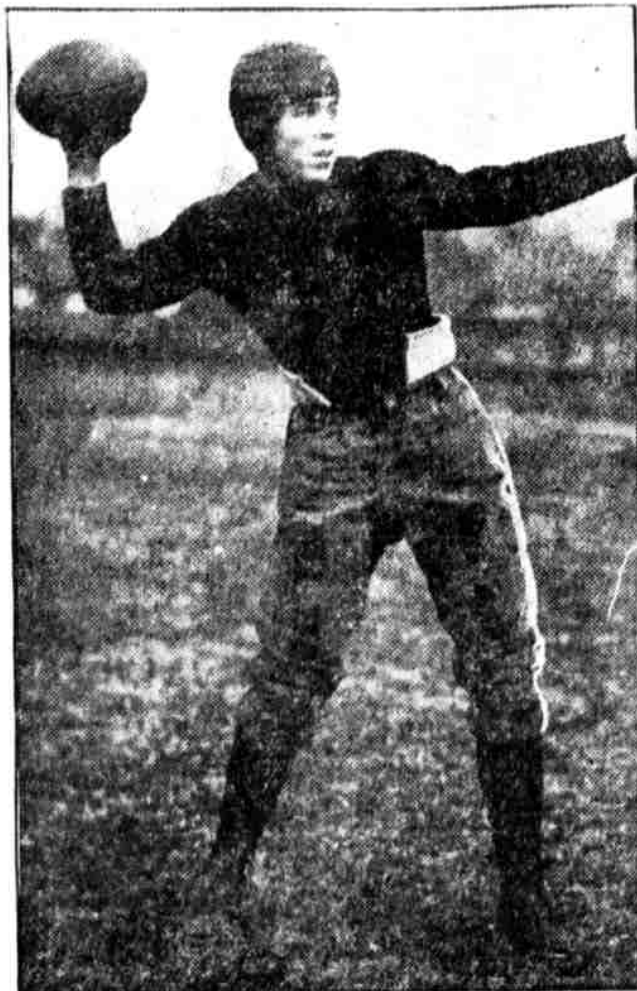

DID YOU EVER HEAR ITS CRY? It has a noon-day whistle of a Kensington factory beaten for shrillness. This Pacific gull, a resident of the Philadelphia Zoo, is registering hunger.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

HARRY MUSSLE, 3636 Emerald street, operating a press that embosses photo mounts, in the factory of A. M. Collins Manufacturing Company, 326 Columbia avenue. The press makes 6500 impressions a day.

HAD A BUSY SEASON. Football coaches at Pennington Seminary put a lot of confidence in Sanguilly, when the time comes for the ball to get in action.

MR. AND MRS. HANS BOLUM, step-parents of Harry Garwood, murdered man, at trial of Guilford Young, in Camden.

MRS. B. HOMER LE BOUTHILIER, of Paoli, a devotee of outdoor life.

BUSY PHILADELPHIANS

TRANSIT MANAGER. W. A. Watson, of the Girard National Bank, 116 South Third street. He is married and lives in North Camden. Mr. Watson has been in the banking business thirty years.