

YES, IT'S GOING. Try this some cool afternoon when the pavements are dry. J. Allen Smith, Jr., of Chicago, entertained many with this thriller.

VISITORS AT TOMB OF "UNKNOWN." Thousands are flocking to Arlington Cemetery to get a glimpse of the resting place of the unidentified American soldier whose body was brought from France.

WILLIAM DIXON, an English butcher boy living at Leicester, has just composed a comic opera which has attracted the attention of many play producers in London.

TAKES MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT. Bert Devore, as William Penn, representing the Philadelphia Welfare Federation. The mailman is H. N. Salter.

INVADERS CONTINUE TO WIN. The All-England hockey team went fast yesterday in scoring fourteen goals against one garnered by the Philadelphia Cricket Club girls. An English player is shown with the ball.

THE OPPOSING CAPTAINS. Miss Gaskell (right), of the English team, has led her star hockey players to many victories since the American invasion started. Mrs. Richard Nalle, of the Philadelphia Cricket Club (left).

MRS. AMELIA McCUDDEN, the British war mother, and her daughter Kathleen. They enjoy more of Philadelphia's hospitality today.

TAKING HIS MEASURE. Sir James Craig, leader of the Ulster group, visiting a Government instruction factory in Belfast.

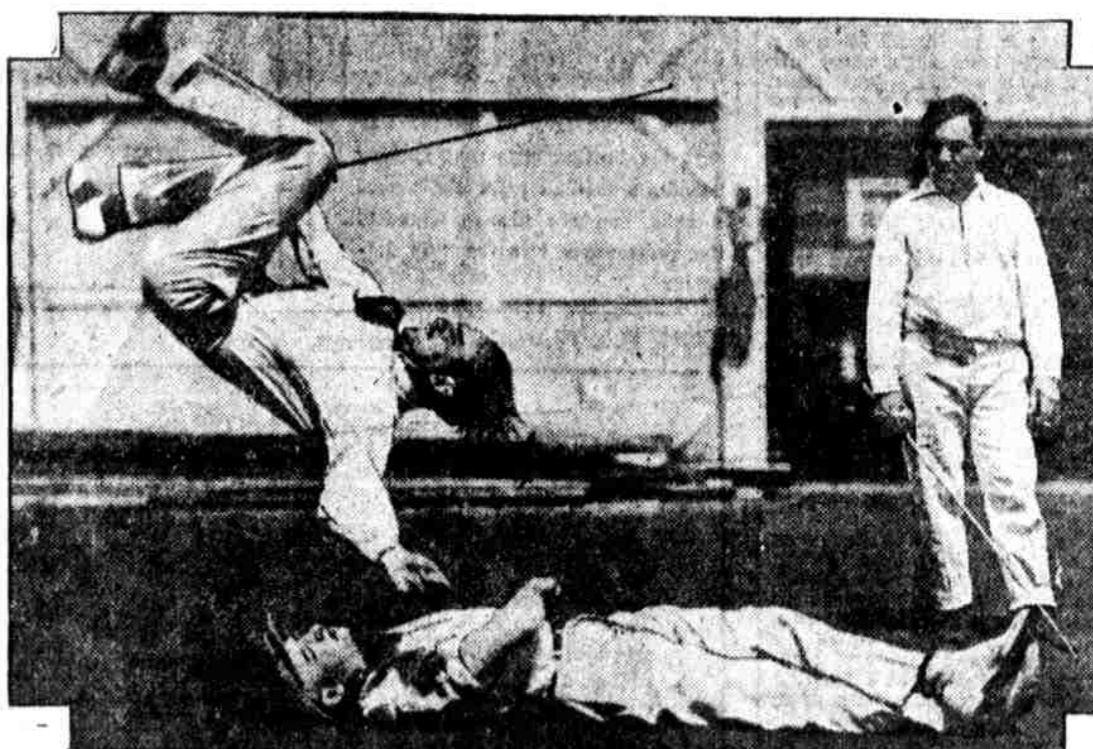

WOMEN BARRISTERS OF IRELAND. Miss A. K. S. Devereil (left) and Miss M. Kyle, the first women called to practice law in Dublin courts.

REUBEN A. S. OVES and his daughter Marion, of 704 North Twenty-third street, doing stunts.

TORTOLA VALENCIA, the famous Spanish dancer, who will soon leave Madrid for an extended visit to this country. She is expected in Philadelphia.

IT'S "DOUG" IN ACTION. A picture of Douglas Fairbanks taken during a rehearsal of a movie at a Los Angeles studio. He holds a foil as he goes through the air in the fencing trick.

THE MAHARANEE OF TIKARI. Former Australian soon to appear in London musical comedy.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

VALENTINE DOLL, 1416 North Wellington street, drawing extract from the huge tank into fifty-gallon barrels for shipment at the Lobeco Malt Extract Company's plant, Twenty-ninth and Parrish streets.

HELPING THEIR SCHOOL. These members of the Alumnae Association of the William Penn High School for Girls will assist in the production of "Tangles" at the Academy of Music next week. Left to right they are Irene Hirtz, Helen Tappan, Loretta Daly and Lillian Barnack.

WALTER K. HARDT, vice president of the Fourth Street National Bank. He lives at 2259 George's lane, Wynnefield. Mr. Hardt has been with the bank for eleven years. Golf is his hobby.

BUSY PHILADELPHIANS