Victory Over "White Plague" Forecast Before National Academy of Sciences

CAN PROLONG HUMAN LIFE

By the Associated Press Chicago, Nov. 16.—Science is drawing nearer to a cure for tuberculosis, Prof. Lydia M. De Witt yesterday told the closing session of the autumn meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

Prof. De Witt lectured on experiments with chemical compounds and asserted that thus far, it had been determined that various derivatives of mercury have proven most successful in prolonging the life of patients.

The answer is simple. They didn't get over the mountains. The fish were literally older than the hills. I discovered that in many instances the same kind of fresh water fishes live on both sides of the Andes Mountains.

SIR ANDREW M'PHAIL SHOT: ASSAILANT KILLS HIMSELF

Eminent Canadian Professor of Medical History is Wounded Montreal, Que., Nov. 16.—Sir Andrew McPhail, eminent physician and professor of medical history at McGill University, was shot and wounded in the right shoulder yesterday in his private office by Louis Ogulnik, son of a prominent tailor, who then turned his revolver upon himself, dying instantly.

ness and telephoned for the ambulance which bore him to the hospital where the bullet was extracted. His condition is not serious. Ogulnik was described by his brother, who identified the body, as having suffered from hallucinations for some time. The dead man was said to have known Prof. McPhail personally, but it could not be learned if he had ever been a patient of his.

Four shots were fired following an altercation, the police said. The first shot went wild and the second struck Sir Andrew in the right shoulder as he turned to flee. Then Ogulnik turned his revolver and fired two shots, one into his chest and the other into his head. Death was instantaneous.
