Nancy Wynne Talks of the Ball to Be Given Tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Starr and Mr. and Mrs. Wurtz at the Bellevue-Stratford

TONIGHT will usher in the social season with the first ball of the year. It will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Usher this evening in honor of Miss Caroline S. Barclay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Littleton Barclay, whose stewart Wurts in honor of Logan Stewart Wurts in honor of Logan Starr, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Starr and a niece of the Wurtses. Mrs. Starr and Mrs. Wurts are sissement to Mr. Muscoe R. H. Garnett, of New York, was recently announced. The guests will later attend the ball Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart Wurts and Mr. and Mrs. James Starr will give. ters, you know. Logan's grandmother, Mrs. John Wister, gave the tea at which she was introduced last monto. and this is the second large entertain-and this is the second large entertain-ment given by her family.

Logan has been guest of honor at many other affairs, for she is very pop-ular and her mother's friends are numerous, too, and all seem to want to entertain for her daughter. The bail will be given at the Bellevue-Stratford on the opening night. and will be a beautiful affair.

There will be a number of dinners before the ball. Mr. and Mrs. William Harmon George will entertain for their daughter, Martyn, and the Frank Thorne Pattersons will entertain for Rosemary Howe. The Daniel Barrin-gers will give a dinner for Mary Miller, the George Willing. Jr.'s will enter-tain for the J. Wilmer Biddles and Elizabeth Jeanes will give a dinner for Henrietta Wilson and Edward Shakespeare, whose engagement, you know, was announced recently, and there will be several other affairs, too.

ELEANOR DUNNING will make her debut this afternoon at a tea which her parents, the George Dunnings, will give at the Acorn Club. Eleanor is the rounger of the two Dunning girls, who are both most attractive. She will have a number of the debutantes receiving with her, and the receiving party will go later to the Starr ball.

good looking, and a tan top coat with gloves and scarf to match.

Adelaide is really awfully clever. She makes her own clothes, that is most of them, and they are simply stunning. She does a lot of charity work, too, you know, and is very, very popular. I believe she's asked to every party going.

Mrs. Joseph S. Lovering Wharton, Jr., of Meadowbrook, will entertain at tea on Friday afternoon, November 25, in honor of Miss Rosamond Potter, daughter of Mr. Amos Potter, of Providence, R. I., whose engagement to Mr. Charles W. Wharton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Lovering Wharton, was recently announced. Mrs. Wharton will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. Spencer K.

faille or tulle or net. And there were more than six hundred guests at that banquet, you know.

Mrs. J. Kearsley Mitchell wore a magnificent gown of black jet made with a court train and cut V-shaped in front. And Mrss Jack Fell was most attractive in black crepe de chine, the bodice cut in a V and the skirt trimmed with black fringe. Mrs. James Starr was in black satin embroidered in steel beads, and Mrs. John B. Thayer chose blackwelvet Mrs. John B. Thayer chose blackwelvet Mrs. John B. Thayer chose blackwelvet welleved with a touch of gold. Black is usually most becoming in the evening, and I am sure the Marshal must have been charmed with the looks of the women of Philadelphia, for they are women of Philadelphia, for they are bandsome, if I do say it myself.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Blynn, of Springfield avenue, Chestnut Hill, will entertain at dinner this evening before the ball to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart Wurts and Mr. and Mrs. James Starr.

TIMMIE had been found playing in play in the dirt, objected several times. Finally she spoke to Daddy about it, and be told Jimmie he must not play with Joseph any more. Now, when one is nine years old, one's memory sometimes does fail one, and so Jimmie just naturally forgot. And when Father came home next day he found Jimmie and Joseph playing together once more. Calling his son to his side he said: "I have told you you must not play with this boy any more, you will learn nothing good from him.

"Oh!" cried Jimmie. "Dad, you don't know. Why, I would never have learned how to wiggle my ears if it hadn't been for Joseph; he does it beautifully."
