

GET BIGGEST STILL EVER SEIZED HERE

One of Battery Found in Full Blast by Raiders at 447 North Sixth Street

295-GALLON CAPACITY

The largest still ever found in Pennsylvania was seized in a raid today on a house at 447 North Sixth street.

The raid was conducted by Federal Agent Leo Williams, with Captain Van Hook and detectives of his investigating squad.

Two houses, that at 447 North Sixth and the house next door at 449, were searched on Federal search warrants.

The houses are said to be owned by Benjamin Brinar, who lives at 451 North Sixth street. According to Agent Williams, a warrant was issued for Brinar, who works in a garage at the rear of 447, said to be owned by Brinar, was arrested.

The raiders seized one still of 150 gallons capacity, another with a capacity of 100 gallons, a third of twenty-five and a fourth of twenty.

Besides the stills, there were several hundred five-barrelled, 500-pound, 500-pound, five gallons of coloring and three barrels of whiskey.

The big still was going, with a coal fire burning under it. The smaller stills were operated by means of gas burners.

When the raiders entered the room they saw there was a tank of molasses and water in the door. By the time they had taken the stills they had spilled so much of the brew about the place that they put down boards to walk on.

Lenie Robinson, eighty-five years old, and her wife, seventy-eight years old, who live on the floor below, were detained by the stills. It looked through the ceiling and they were kept busy putting pads and mats about where they would catch the drip. Their walkways were raised and their front window smashed when one of the stills was lowered out the window from the third floor.

SEeks NEWS OF DAUGHTER
Mother Unable to Locate Present Address of Mannequin

Mrs. Mary K. McCaffery, of 4750 North Seventh street, is looking for her daughter, Marie Josephine Newton, at one time, at least, of New York City.

Nine years ago Mrs. McCaffery and her daughter lived at 1987 Morris avenue, the Bronx. The girl was then sixteen years old, strikingly pretty and was employed as a mannequin by a large designer of women's clothing.

Mrs. McCaffery decided to move to Philadelphia. The daughter preferred not to give up her job and the designer remained in New York. After reaching Philadelphia the mother wrote several times to the girl, but there were no answers. Finally, Mrs. McCaffery went to New York and was informed that the girl had moved away several weeks before, leaving no new address.

NEW PULPIT INSTALLED
Gift of Mrs. G. H. Lea to St. Clement's Church

Installation of a fine carved oak pulpit in St. Clement's Episcopal Church, Twentieth and Appleton streets, has just been completed.

This pulpit, placed in memory of George Henry Lea, by his widow, was never seen by Mrs. Lea, who died a few weeks ago at her home, 245 South Nineteenth street.

It is part of the remodeling of the interior of the church, which has been going on for several years. The interior is to be wallpapered with gray and white, and a series of new stained-glass windows installing in the nave. Dr. Franklin Joiner, the rector, says the entire work will not be completed for some years.

ROB DRUG CO. OF LIQUOR
8 Barrels of Whisky and 2 of Alcohol Stolen, Eighth and Pine Sts.

Thieves broke into the Essex Wholesale Drug Company, Eighth street between Pine and Chestnut, early this morning, and stole three barrels of whisky and two of alcohol, valued at $100.

Dr. Leon A. Efron, a dentist at the southeast corner of Eighth and Pine streets, is partner in the concern, reported the theft to the police of the Twelfth and Pine streets station today.

Neighbors say that five young men in a motorcar were seen in the neighborhood late last night, and they are supposed to have been the thieves.

Several days ago the building, an apartment house owned by Dr. Efron, partly occupied by him as a dental office, was the scene of a fire which was featured by several rescues.

Deaths of a Day
Mrs. Thomas M. Love, wife of the general manager of the Broad, Forest and Garrick Theatres, died yesterday in the Woman's College Hospital, leaving a three-year-old boy, besides her husband and the baby. Mrs. Love also is survived by two daughters, three sons and two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Vincent and Miss Laura Gilliland.

Dr. William F. Ruff
Dr. William F. Ruff, a physician, died Thursday at his home, 227 North Forty-fourth street. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1882.

BIGGEST STILL EVER SEIZED HERE

One of battery with combined capacity of 295 gallons confiscated in a raid today on a house at 447 North Sixth street. The men shown beside the still are prohibition agents.

GOV. SPROUL PROCLAIMS SEVENTEEN IS CRISIS AGE OF YOUTH, SAYS 'GOOD GUY'

Emphasizes Hopes of Arms Conference in Calling for Prayers
Harrisburg, Nov. 19.—(By A. P.)—Governor Sproul today issued the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

"Whereas, emulating a pious custom recorded in the older books of the Holy Bible of giving thanks to Almighty God for the harvest safely garnered, our pioneer fathers in America established a festival in the autumn season to be observed in prayer and praise, not only for the material bounty of the fruits of the earth which the year had given them, but for the blessing of liberty and opportunity, faith and religious devotion opened to them in understanding, this beautiful and solemn custom observed from generation to generation has become an integral part of our life, sanctioned by the laws of the State and nation, an evidence of our belief as a people and our acknowledgment of the Divine Spirit and His works in our behalf; and

"Whereas, it is a happy truth that during the last twelve months we have in our favored and fortunate State and country been blessed with many manifestations of the generous care of Providence, and in peace have been progressing in working out the social and political problems of the age, and now, upon the initiative of our Government, there is gathered in our Capital City a convocation which seems in a fair way to accomplish an agreement, not only of the great peoples of the earth looking toward the removal for all time of the menace of war with its sinfulness and desolation; and

"Now, therefore, I, William Cameron Sproul, Governor of Pennsylvania, do designate the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, called November, the day appointed by the President of the United States, as Thanksgiving Day, and I request that it be observed as such by all of our people, as a time of expressed gratitude for the goodness and mercy of God as shown on every side, and that our prayers be rendered for the success of the undertakings looking toward world peace, through the gracious intervention of the Great Ruler, who alone can set aside the selfishness of the world and the arrogance of power."

TELLS A BULLY STORY
Patrolman Higgins Has Entertaining Yarn of Progress for Comrades

Patrolman Higgins, of the Thirty-second street and Woodland avenue station, petted a bull last night. Today he says it was nothing much, a mere leg-broke, as it were. He grabbed the bull, the bull went down, and there you are.

Passengers and crew of a trolley car crossing the Chestnut street bridge across the Schuylkill at a late hour, tell the story. They say the bull ran away from some drawers on the west end of the bridge and, true to form, through the red light on the rear of the trolley car.

And the usual wild excitement Higgins charged the bull. He broke his right leg over the bull's head, and the bull was so surprised he fell and broke two legs. Then the driver shot the animal, and Higgins went to the University Hospital to have his sprained wrist bandaged.

To Hold Annual Service
The Bishop White Prayer Book Society's annual services will be held tomorrow morning in the Gateway Episcopal Church, Germantown. The Rev. Dr. Henry Riley Gimenez, member of the National Commission on Revision of the Prayer Book and rector of St. James Church, East Downton, will preach.

Boy, Four, Hit by Trolley
James Fitzpatrick, four years old, of 1919 Durock street, was struck by a trolley car at Nineteenth and Fitzgerald streets last night, but was thrown clear of the wheels and escaped with slight cuts over his face. He was taken to the Methodist Hospital.

Deaths Here Show Increase
There were 449 deaths in Philadelphia during the week ending yesterday, the division of vital statistics reported today. Last week there were 430 deaths and 442 in the week ending November 19, 1920.

Children to Aid Police
May Do Traffic Duty Around Schools in Camden

The Police Committee of the Camden City Council today sent a recommendation to the Board of Education for the election of certain school pupils to assist in the regulation of traffic near the schools.

It is suggested that these pupils be appointed with police powers which would give them authority to stop and regulate traffic for the safety of the children.

The move was made following accidents to school children and the complaints of teachers and parents. It is expected the Board of Education will approve the idea within the next week.

More City Beaches Ready by Summer
League Island Park Lakes Also to Provide Room for Happy Skaters Can Be Used at Night

Bathing fans will find it mighty hard to wait for next summer when they hear the good news: There will be two big bathing beaches at League Island Park, with bathhouse facilities for 5000 persons, ample protection, and lights for night bathing.

It sounds too good to be true, but it's a fact just the same. One already is completed, and the second will be ready soon. The lakes are between Johnson street and the Philadelphia Navy Yard, east of Broad street. They were dangerously deep in the past—as much as forty feet in the middle at high water—and have been the scene of numerous drownings.

For months workmen have been filling them in. The first is now done at a cost of $124,000, and will provide a straightaway swim of almost 1000 feet, with depth sloping from shallow water all about the rim to about six feet in the middle. The second lake will be of about the same depth and size.

Lights Being Installed
The lake finished is level-shaped on the bottom, with a surface of sand and gravel. A bathhouse has been built, and a battery of powerful lights is being installed.

Together the lakes will furnish the people of Philadelphia with the finest artificial city bathing beach in the world. They will be fed with pure water from three artesian wells which have been sunk to a great depth and are equipped with electric pumps. To carry off the surplus water sluice gates have been constructed, draining the lakes into the backchannel.

The extensive fill necessary to make the lakes sufficiently shallow to be safe was accomplished by bringing material in scows up the river to the back channel and piping it to the lakes.

GOVERNMENT PROCLAIMS SEVENTEEN IS CRISIS AGE OF YOUTH, SAYS 'GOOD GUY'

Emphasizes Hopes of Arms Conference in Calling for Prayers
Harrisburg, Nov. 19.—(By A. P.)—Governor Sproul today issued the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

295-GALLON CAPACITY

The largest still ever found in Pennsylvania was seized in a raid today on a house at 447 North Sixth street.

The raid was conducted by Federal Agent Leo Williams, with Captain Van Hook and detectives of his investigating squad.

Two houses, that at 447 North Sixth and the house next door at 449, were searched on Federal search warrants.

The houses are said to be owned by Benjamin Brinar, who lives at 451 North Sixth street. According to Agent Williams, a warrant was issued for Brinar, who works in a garage at the rear of 447, said to be owned by Brinar, was arrested.

The raiders seized one still of 150 gallons capacity, another with a capacity of 100 gallons, a third of twenty-five and a fourth of twenty.

Besides the stills, there were several hundred five-barrelled, 500-pound, 500-pound, five gallons of coloring and three barrels of whiskey.

The big still was going, with a coal fire burning under it. The smaller stills were operated by means of gas burners.

When the raiders entered the room they saw there was a tank of molasses and water in the door. By the time they had taken the stills they had spilled so much of the brew about the place that they put down boards to walk on.

Lenie Robinson, eighty-five years old, and her wife, seventy-eight years old, who live on the floor below, were detained by the stills. It looked through the ceiling and they were kept busy putting pads and mats about where they would catch the drip. Their walkways were raised and their front window smashed when one of the stills was lowered out the window from the third floor.

SEeks NEWS OF DAUGHTER
Mother Unable to Locate Present Address of Mannequin

Mrs. Mary K. McCaffery, of 4750 North Seventh street, is looking for her daughter, Marie Josephine Newton, at one time, at least, of New York City.

Nine years ago Mrs. McCaffery and her daughter lived at 1987 Morris avenue, the Bronx. The girl was then sixteen years old, strikingly pretty and was employed as a mannequin by a large designer of women's clothing.

Mrs. McCaffery decided to move to Philadelphia. The daughter preferred not to give up her job and the designer remained in New York. After reaching Philadelphia the mother wrote several times to the girl, but there were no answers. Finally, Mrs. McCaffery went to New York and was informed that the girl had moved away several weeks before, leaving no new address.

NEW PULPIT INSTALLED
Gift of Mrs. G. H. Lea to St. Clement's Church

Installation of a fine carved oak pulpit in St. Clement's Episcopal Church, Twentieth and Appleton streets, has just been completed.

This pulpit, placed in memory of George Henry Lea, by his widow, was never seen by Mrs. Lea, who died a few weeks ago at her home, 245 South Nineteenth street.

It is part of the remodeling of the interior of the church, which has been going on for several years. The interior is to be wallpapered with gray and white, and a series of new stained-glass windows installing in the nave. Dr. Franklin Joiner, the rector, says the entire work will not be completed for some years.

ROB DRUG CO. OF LIQUOR
8 Barrels of Whisky and 2 of Alcohol Stolen, Eighth and Pine Sts.

Thieves broke into the Essex Wholesale Drug Company, Eighth street between Pine and Chestnut, early this morning, and stole three barrels of whisky and two of alcohol, valued at $100.

Dr. Leon A. Efron, a dentist at the southeast corner of Eighth and Pine streets, is partner in the concern, reported the theft to the police of the Twelfth and Pine streets station today.

Neighbors say that five young men in a motorcar were seen in the neighborhood late last night, and they are supposed to have been the thieves.

Several days ago the building, an apartment house owned by Dr. Efron, partly occupied by him as a dental office, was the scene of a fire which was featured by several rescues.

Deaths of a Day
Mrs. Thomas M. Love, wife of the general manager of the Broad, Forest and Garrick Theatres, died yesterday in the Woman's College Hospital, leaving a three-year-old boy, besides her husband and the baby. Mrs. Love also is survived by two daughters, three sons and two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Vincent and Miss Laura Gilliland.

Dr. William F. Ruff
Dr. William F. Ruff, a physician, died Thursday at his home, 227 North Forty-fourth street. He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1882.

GOVERNMENT PROCLAIMS SEVENTEEN IS CRISIS AGE OF YOUTH, SAYS 'GOOD GUY'

MISS MARY E. FLETCHER Will take one of the leading roles in "The Big Idea," to be given November 22-25 by St. Agatha's Dramatic Association

TO PRESENT COMEDY

"The Big Idea" Will Be Shown by Amateur Players Here

"The Big Idea," a comedy never before produced in Philadelphia by amateurs, will be given by St. Agatha's Dramatic Association in the parish hall, at Thirty-eighth and Spring Garden streets, on the evenings of Tuesday to Friday, inclusive.

The play was produced in New York last season. The St. Agatha's Dramatic Association is one of the local organizations which have been a recent and decided hit on the professional stage.

In the cast will be the Misses Mary G. Callahan, Mary E. Fletcher, Margaret Keenan and Katherine A. Keyser and Messrs. Joseph Barr, Robert Campbell, Daniel A. Diamond, Daniel D. Gallagher, Frank Travasso and James Simons.

MAN, 31, WEDS GIRL, 15
Bloomsburg Police Hold Bride Until Parents Are Heard From

Mrs. Edna Rhawn, a fifteen-year-old bride, is being held by the police of Bloomsburg, Pa., until her parents can be communicated with. The child married Homer Rhawn in this city after a two weeks' acquaintance. Rhawn is thirty-one years old.

Mrs. Charles Peak, of 2106 North Bodine street, the girl's mother, would raise the money with which to pay her daughter's care back to Philadelphia. "I allowed her to get married," she said today, "to keep her from eloping. If she returns, I will gladly take care of her."

FIRE TRUCK DRIVER HELD
Harry Willingmeyer, Answering Alarm, Ran Down and Injured Man

Harry Willingmeyer, a driver of a fire truck of Company No. 52, was held in $200 bail by Magistrate Price this morning for a further hearing.

Late last night while Willingmeyer was answering a call from Third and Luzerne streets, he knocked down and injured Henry Rhinwald, of Avenue street near Eighth. The accident occurred at Randolph street and Erie avenue. Rhinwald's nose was broken. He was treated at the St. Luke's Hospital.

RESINOL
Soothing and Healing for Skin and Scalp Troubles

John S. Trower's Sons

Germantown Ave. and Chelton Ave.

CATERERS

— RESTAURANT —

Dinners Weddings Teas Banquets, etc. Luncheon—11:30 A. M. to 2 P. M. Dinner—5 P. M. to 8 P. M. A La Carte—11 A. M. to 11 P. M.

MONDAY and TUESDAY CLOVER DAYS
Hundreds of different lots of seasonable and desirable merchandise, at far below the regular prices.
STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER PHILADELPHIA

LAWYER'S WIDOW MAY FREE CONVICT

Mrs. C. J. Roney, Catharine St., Convinced Man in Prison 12 Years Is Innocent of Murder

WYNE WHO IS INTERESTED

Freedom now seems assured a man once under sentence of death whose case not only won the unflinching interest of his lawyer but later of the lawyer's widow, who is convinced that the prisoner is innocent of murder.

Mrs. Charles J. Roney, 109 Catharine street, might be termed the heroine of this human drama which in one respect parallels the famous case of "Andy," the murderer of John D. Latham in the city, before his innocence was established.

Salvatore Di Masi is the convict now serving a life sentence in the Eastern Penitentiary. In 1909 he, with Michael Compton, was convicted of the murder of James J. Latham in the city. Judge Rabston, now dead, sentenced both men to be hanged.

Charles J. Roney, a young criminal lawyer who is several years ago had been assigned as counsel for Di Masi. The plight of the friendless man aroused all the compassion of the young lawyer, and his deep interest in the case was commingled to Mrs. Roney's.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

Without any hope of financial reward, the lawyer went to Italy where he obtained proof that Di Masi was serving in the Italian army of the time Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence.

Di Masi's conviction resulted almost wholly from circumstantial evidence. After sentence of death had been passed, Mr. Roney began following a line of independent investigation.

"Short and Snappy" Is Plan for Title Seekers

Philadelphia's World's Fair is suggested by E. M. Levin, of 4234 Pennsgrove street, as a name for the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition here in 1926.

COLUMBIA AVENUE IS "ROCKY ROAD"

Residents Protest at Delay in Repairing Street and Resultant Chaos

CAN'T BE HELPED, IS REPLY
Streetkeepers and residents on Columbia avenue between Twenty-third and Thirty-first streets have protested to the highway department against what they say is a lack of interest on the part of the city in completing street-repair work in front of their homes and places of business.

While the Philadelphia Rapid Transit is laying ties and new rails in some places, the street is torn up and dirt and cobblestones are piled high on the pavements.

A highway department inspector, in explaining the delay in completing the work, which started October 3, declared that out of the month and a half the street had been torn up the workers have had to contend with eight days of rain and one of snow. Cement, used in laying the roadbed rails, cannot be laid while the ground is wet, and it takes a good day and a half or two days for the ground to dry out after a storm, he said.

"Besides that difficulty, we have had to contend with a strike of paving contractors. The men now employed are inexperienced and cannot do the work of experienced men," he said.

In the columns of A. E. Darr & Son, real estate agents at 2318 Columbia avenue, and the Economical Hardware Company, 2322 Columbia avenue, water has leaked in through the walls of the highway department, was caused by a defective main and not by the fact that the street is being repaired.

In a move to rush completion of the work it is planned to have men employed Sundays and holidays.

BAILEY BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
JEWELERS SILVERSMITHS STATIONERS
POLISHED GIRL DIAMONDS
assure quality, value and complete satisfaction
This Establishment maintains the highest standard of quality in America

Back to Old Prices
"AS YOU LIKE IT"
KEY WEST CIGARS
As Fine as Imported at 1/2 the Price
New Crop Finer Than Ever
GODFREY S. MAHN 13th & Chestnut 2d & Chestnut

THEY ALL AGREE
"THE BABY"
That cute little youngster that says "Goo-Goo Glub." The baby agrees with all the rest and wants to help solve the problem puzzling us all.
TOMORROW YOU'LL KNOW
Don't fail to learn what they all agree upon.
SEE SUNDAY'S PUBLIC LEDGER ROTO-GRAVURE SECTION

AFTER all, the knack of knowing how to dress fashionably and economically lies in merely knowing where to buy.
The wearer of our clothes, whether dressed for business or for some special function, feels satisfied that he is attired faultlessly, both from a standpoint of style decrees and material.
We know that these facts mean a lot to well-dressed men—hence our policy of selling only merchandise which is worthy our indorsement.
Suits and Top Coats of splendid quality fabrics made in accordance with Reed's high standard of tailoring are priced $30 and upward, with special values at $45 and $50.
JACOB REED'S SONS
1424-1446 Chestnut Street

Dancing
Strath Haven SWARTHMORE, PA.
All Lawyers
know that in evidence everything but truth can be punctured. The best evidence an automobile can present is a heritage of years of honest construction and undeviating good performance. No one can assaill that. Hupmobile has faced the test for years.
THE HATCH MOTORS CO.
720 N. BROAD ST - PHILA.
FRANKFORD DEALER
HARRIS J. METZGER
3237 Frankford Ave.
GERMANTOWN DEALER
Wayne Ave. & Washington Lane
MAIN LINE DEALER
E. S. CROSBY, JR.
Stewart & Lancaster Aves., Haverford, Pa.
WEST PHILADELPHIA DEALER
Arnold-Camphill Motor Co.
58th & Walnut Sts.

$150 Will Buy Many of the USED CARS In Our Stock
Overlands, Buicks, Reos, Willys-Knights, Franklins, Oldsmobiles, etc.
Willys-Overland INC., OF PHILADELPHIA
1629 Arch St. 250 N. Broad St.
"No Splash in Sink" "Positive Shut Off"
Name "SAVILL" On Faucet "Ask your plumber"
Thomas Savill's Sons, Mfr. 1210-1214 Wallace St., Phila.