Broiled Chicken or Rabbit Pie Is a Good Substitute for the Turkey, Which Would Be Too Large for a Small Family

- By MRS. M. A. WILSON
Copyright, 1921, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson, 413 THE autumn festival, Thanksgiving Day, brings to the busy housewife visions of days when the actual preparation for this all-American holiday was really so much to that of Christmas.

A Convenience
One of the greatest conveniences in my sewing-room is my book of measurements. I keep a good-sized memorandum book with a page devoted to each member of my family for whom I sew.

Frocks Are Draped in All Directions

CHAPTER XXVI
The Promise
I TRIED to say something, but I felt stupid, and my brain would not work. There was a dead silence in the room for a moment or two, and then Crawford spoke.

Adventures With a Purse
THE shop is quite new. It has been in existence not more than a month, yet already many people are flocking to see it because it has a "rare" about it that makes it quite different from the regular shop. Here one will find all sorts of novelties. I am not going to tell you all about them, for you will certainly want to see them for yourself, and be surprised. But I could mention the Christmas cards with the hand-made black paper silhouettes, artistic and individual. And I might speak of the sweet-scented lavender sachets, the lavender-colored jars or in plum-colored bags of lavender. Georgette or some equally soft and thin material. This is just a peep into this tiny shop. When you see it all you will be delighted.

Tomorrow—"Who Is This Man?"
Things You'll Love to Make
Unusual Two-Toned Frock
I noticed another powder box novelty that you might like. It is a little basket of colored glass, containing in either pink or blue opaque glass. Perched in the basket in great state is a chunky little Kewpie with frilly skirts of pink or blue. And the prettiest part of this small person is—or are?—a powder puff of which the Kewpie forms the handle. The price is $1.

By CORINNE LOWE
The new evening frocks of this year go in as many directions as Charlie Chaplin's feet. More and more as the season advances one is impressed by the diversity of draping. However, let this be said immediately by way of disclaimer: whichever way these manifold draperies are caught and fastened, they all convey promptly the idea of the slim, graceful silhouette.

MRS. WILSON'S ANSWERS
Dear Mrs. Wilson—Would like a recipe for pickling onions and how to keep them from turning black.
MRS. A. H.
Pickling Onions
Cover the onions with boiling water and let stand until cool, then pour over the onions with a mixture of half skin milk and water; bring to a boil and cook five minutes. Now drain and wash well in plenty of cold water; fill into all-glass jars and cover with boiling hot white salt vinegar, adding a piece of the sliced and pepper and seal securely and store in a cool, dry place. Other than the white salt vinegar will cause the onions to discolor.

"This is the seasoning we use"
Serve Stuffing Flavored with BELL'S SEASONING with every roast of Poultry, Meat, Fish, Game, etc.
It gives zest to the appetite and aids digestion.
Use BELL'S SEASONING in croquettes, soups, etc.
TRY THIS RECIPE—Meat or Turkey Dressing: Toast 4 slices white bread and with 2 cups cracker crumbs, place in a deep dish; add 1 cup melted butter. Cover with 2 1/2 cups hot milk to make stuffing right consistency. Add tablespoonful BELL'S SEASONING, an even teaspoon salt, and 4 slices salt pork fried to a crisp and chopped fine. When well mixed, stir in 2 raw eggs. I equally good when baked in small pan and served separately.
