"There's the wild beast," eriel Mrs Michael Russa, in the Burlington County courthouse, at Mount Holly, today, when Louis Lively, confessed murderer of her seven-year-old daughter, Mathilda, was led into court to be tried for his life.

There was a tense moment, while the Negro, gritting his teeth, and with a slight smile, passed on to his place manacled between two guards.

The courtroom was crowded with men and women, among them many of Lively's own race. Outside there was a crowd also, unable to find room in the old courthouse.

Murmurs of pity for the sobbing aother were heard through the courtroom, but attendants rapped sharply for

NEAR HALF-WAY MARK

Philadelphia's "Big Five" department stores, from the members of each firm down to the smallest cash boy, have joined forces to do their share in making the Welfare Federation's $4,- 000,000 campaign a success. Incomplete tabulations show the Strawbridge & Cothier store leads with a subscription of $10,000 from the firm and $4800 from the employes. The Wanamaker store is next with pledges aggregating $10,000, while Lit Brothers contributed $5000 as a firm and $2000 from the employes; Snellenburg's $5000 from the firm and $1000 from employs, and Gimbel's $5000 from the firm and approximately $700 from employes.

More than 2700 of the Strawbridge

& Clothier employes so far have sub-scribed to the fund, 106 department having reported subscriptions from 100 per cent of their respective forces. orty-eight other departments reported subscriptions of from 65 to 92 per cent of the forces. At the Wanamaker store two general meetings of the employes—6000 or more—have been beld in University Hail. Another will be held late this afternoon. when Federation speakers and store officials will outline the welfare idea and press the necessity for bringing the campaign to a successful conclusion.

Banker's Wife Offers Register in Evidence to Prove Guy's Paternity

REMAINED THERE 2 WEEKS

By the Associated Press Poughkeepsle, N. Y., Nov. 29-As a lefense of the paternity of baby Guy Stillman, the register of the St. Regis Hotel in New York was introduced today in the divorce suit of James A. Stillman against Mrs. Anne U. Still. man to show that Mr. and Mrs. Stillman had a suite of rooms there for two weeks beginning February 15, 1918, nine months before the birth of Guy, On February 16, it was said, the register disclosed that Fred Beauvais, part Indian guide, who Mr. Stillman alleges is Guy's father, was assigned to a room at the St. Regis, and a notation made to charge it to Mr. Still. man's account Mr. and Mrs. Stillman, Beauvals, two of the Stillman children and a nurse remained at the hotel two weeks. it is understood to have been testified by Charles Nascond and Theodore Roth, employes of the St. Regis.

Just before the hearing began Mrs. Stillman arrived by train and walked to the chambers of Referce Daniel J. Gleason. Mr. Stillman, as usual, was not in attendance. Through witnesses who have not yet appeared in the case John F. Bren-nan, chief counsel for Mrs. Stillman, expect to spread on the record new evi-
