Catholic League Triple Tie Caused by Failure to Convert Kick Into Extra Point-Angles Are Eliminated.

But Nervous Tension Remains

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL Sports Editor Evening Public Ledger

KICKING a goal after a touchdown still is quite a difficult proposition, despite the rule which allows the kicker to place the ball at any spot in front of the goal posts. Instead of having a "set-up," as was claimed by opponents of the rule, the kicker is up against it the same as before. He assn't the difficult angles to contend with, but the mental bazard remains.

In the Harvard game Centre missed an casy goal after McMillin scored what proved to be the winning touchdown. Penn State missed one in the Navy game and La Salle lost to La Grange recently through the failure to kick a goal. That one point after a touchdown is mighty important and many games were lost this senson. Here in Philadelphia poor goal kicking caused a triple tie in the Catholic High School League and made it necessary for the tenms to play again to decide the championship. In the first game St. Joseph's Prep defented West Cataolic High by the score of 7 to 6. Had the Blue and White kicker registered the goal, West Catholic would be champions today

Then came the West Catholic-Villanova Prep contest last Thanksgiving stning. Villanova was beaten 7 to 6, and the failure to kick the goal cost the Main Liners the championship. Thus on two different occasions, and in the same league, a championship was booted away by two different teams.

The goal after touchdown is a very important part of the game. No matter how much the kicker practices, he cannot forget, in a close game, that upon him depends the success or fathere of his team. Ue stands out there, trying to watch the ball, the goal posts and the opponents who are lined up behind the goal line, walting for the signal to rush out and spoil the kick, and a nervous person is likely to flop.

Each of the teams competing for the Catholic School League championship has two victories and one defeat to its credit. This caused the play-off, but only two games will be played. Tomorrow, at Strawbridge & Clothier Field. Sixty-second and Walnut streets, West Catholic plays Villanova in the first same. One week later the winner will play St. Joe.

TRERE is a lot of interest in the triple tie and no doubt the yours will be well contested.

Football Here This Month

FOOTBALL will be played in Philadelphia fulls month. In addition to the championship games, the Philadelphia Quakers have scheduled games for the first three Saturdays. This week they play the Canton Bulldogs, considered one of the strongest independent teams in the country. Fide Kempton, the Yale quarterback of last year, plays with the Westerners, and with him are Charley Way, one of the greatest of storn-field runners; Bob Hig-gins, Penn State's wonderful end, and Fat Henry, the best tackle that ever attended Washington and Jefferson.

A game with Canfon was arranged two weeks ago, but at the last minute was called off because of a protest from Buffalo. According to the rules of the independent league to which Canton belongs, a team could not play a hard opponent one day before a regularly scheduled contest. This eaused Leo Conway to bring on the Rochester eleven and postpone the Canton game until December 3.

With so many former All-American players on each side, the spectators will see some great football. It will not be sensational, but clever, scientific play. The players know so much about the game that they can figure out the plays used by the opponents and form the proper defense. It is difficult to gain ground in these games.

WEEK from next Saturday Frankford will be played again. The A first game resulted in a scoreless tie.

State University of Iowa Steps Into Picture

DEAR SIR-As a matter of record. I should like very much to see your D paper gives the State University of Iowa her due in the everyday run of rour sports articles. If there is anything else that Mr. Average College Alumnus appreciates more than fair play in sports articles. I should like to know of it Much has been written about the great team at Notre Dame, but I failed to see the fact that lows whipped her this year scarcely mentioned. Allbis, you understand, are the dry rot of college sports. The less one hears of them the better, especially in the great newspapers of today.

Iowa hasn't lost a game, either in or out of the Conference. Aubrey Devine is one of the best backfield men in America today. Look him up. N. E. S.

More Football Classifications

FOR some reason or other we neglected to state that in our classification of college football teams we selected those in the Eastern section. This is in reply to the critics who demand recognition for Southern, Western and For Western elevens. We imagined we explained that we saw Centre College and Notre Dame in action, and while they were very good teams, we could not drag them in because it would not be fair to the other elevens in their sections of the country.

One reader, who fails to sign his name, suve the classification is all not. and gives the following ranking of the teams: Lafayette, Pirt. State, Harvard, Cornell Washington and Jefferret.
