

WOMEN OF JAPAN ARE AGAINST WAR

Madame Inouye, of Tokio College, Speaks to Bryn Mawr Girls

Madame Inouye, delegate of the Japanese Women's Association for Peace, who came to this country to present Secretary Hughes with resolutions signed by hundreds of thousands of Japanese women, spent last night at Bryn Mawr College and this morning addressed the students at chapel.

Madame Inouye is dean of the Women's University of Tokio, and is studying educational systems in this country. She will remain at Bryn Mawr until tomorrow evening. Later she will visit Columbia, Wellesley, Vassar, Radcliffe and other large women's or co-educational colleges in the East.

Mrs. Inouye is a plump little woman of possibly thirty-five, with a bright animated countenance, unusual in an oriental. From 1908 until 1910 she was a student at Columbia University, New York, and she can, after a fashion, manage an English conversation.

She declared that nowhere else in the world is there more hope for peace than among Japanese women. The resolutions that Mrs. Inouye presented to Mr. Hughes insist not merely on a limitation of battleships, but the abolition of submarines and all forms of chemical warfare.

"Before I sailed," said Mrs. Inouye, "I received letters from more than 50,000 Japanese women demanding the Conference stand out for complete disarmament. That is a good indication of how Japanese women feel."

Mrs. Inouye said that she had attended several meetings of the Conference and is satisfied that it will accomplish its purpose.

ELKTON PARSON DEFIANT

All Ministers Eager for Wedding Fees, Says Minister

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 7.—All ministers are "marrying parsons" when they get the chance, according to an answer made yesterday by the Rev. Daniel Forbus Lockerbie, eighty-two years old, of Elkton, Md., to charges that he was paying taxicab drivers to bring prospective brides and grooms to his parsonage.

"The foolish slogan of local pastors—'Traffic in marriages'—eh! They say that while they are all doing it and are eager for more of it—yes, all of it. They are all 'marrying parsons' when they get the chance. To those pastors I most cordially apply the old Latin proverb, 'Out of nothing nothing comes.'"

While action will be taken on Mr. Lockerbie's case here Friday night by the Presbytery it is understood the Presbytery is powerless because the minister is no longer connected with that church. The Rev. J. E. M. Eckard, who is making the investigation, is expected to urge the Presbytery to request the action of the State authorities, either through the Legislature or in court action.

OLD WOMEN STRIP GIRL AND BURN HER TO DEATH

Germany Stirred by Murder Linked to Medieval Superstition

Special Cable Dispatch, Copyright, 1921

Berlin, Dec. 7.—All Germany is stirred by two sensational murder cases, exceptional even among the numerous sensational murders which have been increasing annually since the war. One case involves hypnotic influence and millions and the other medieval superstition.

The latter tragedy occurred in Lowenburg, a Pomeranian village. Three old women, growing jealous of a young dressmaker, Elsie Wallstein, decoyed the girl into the country and told her she was possessed of a devil, which must be driven out by fire.

The women stripped Fraulein Wallstein, brought faggots, started a fire, forced the girl into the flames and, like the witches in Shakespeare's "Macbeth," the three old women stood around the fire praying for Beelzebub to leave the body. The girl was burned to death. In Kleppelsdorf Castle the tragedy is of a debonair young architect named Peter Gruppen, who is alleged to have killed his niece, Dorothy Rohrbach, an heiress to millions and the castle; later he killed his stepdaughter, Ursula, and planned the murder of his mother-in-law, who was the grandmother of both the victims.

The case hinges on a letter that Ursula was supposed to have written confessing Dorothy's murder and announcing her own suicide. Witnesses testified that Gruppen frequently used hypnotic influence and that he hypnotized Ursula into writing the letter and then murdered both the heiresses.
