

FRANKFORD-DARBY 'L' SERVICE URGED

Suggestion Is Put Up to Twinning by Trade Board in Northeast Section

SEND HIM QUESTIONNAIRE

The eventual linking of the Frankford elevated with the proposed Woodland avenue elevated to Darby was suggested to Transit Director Twining today in a questionnaire sent him by the Frankford Board of Trade.

"Could not a Darby-Frankford system be constructed that would give Philadelphia service superior to the Market street system of the P. R. I.?" was one of the questions.

The Frankford Board of Trade recently wrote to Mayor Moore suggesting the construction of the proposed Chestnut street extension from Front and Arch streets, the southern terminus of the Frankford L. to Fitzwater and Chestnut streets.

This letter the Mayor referred to Director Twining. In passing on the question of transit facilities with the Director today the Frankford Board of Trade chairman said his personal proposal.

Other questions put to the Director were:

"Is it possible to connect the Frankford elevated with the proposed Woodland avenue elevated to Darby?"

"Assuming that for certain reasons, financial or otherwise, the P. R. I. is not in a position to lease and operate the L. would it not be wise to go ahead and complete the line to the center of the city?"

"What route and plan do you consider the best for this purpose?"

"Is it not probable that unless Philadelphia promptly gets busy on better transit facilities—especially to those undeveloped sections in the Northeast and Southeast—the earlier completion of the Delaware River bridge will divert to Camden and vicinity a future increase in population and wealth which rightly belongs to this city?"

"Do you not think, Mr. Director, that it is time for your department to come forward with some constructive ideas and some suggestions looking toward immediate action?"

CARDINAL AT DANTE SERVICE

Presides at Centenary Observance at Academy Tonight

Cardinal Dougherty will preside at the Academy of Music tonight at the sixtieth anniversary of the death of Dante, Italy's greatest poet. It was announced that Bishop George J. Caspary of Porto Rico, formerly secretary to Cardinal Dougherty, will deliver a message from Rome apropos of the centenary.

It also was announced that about 2000 requests for seats had to be refused. In the large audience tonight will be representatives of colleges and universities, distinguished prelates of the church, city officials, school officials and prominent laymen and women. The Palestrina Choir of eight to ten voices will sing, especially selected by Maestro Nicola A. Montanari for the occasion.

Dr. Aydelotte Addresses Technology Club on College Honors

Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College, spoke on the "Laboratory of a Technical Curriculum" at a meeting of the Technology Club, of Philadelphia, at 1317 Spruce street, last night.

Dr. Aydelotte deplored the practice of awarding college honors to the man whose entire collegiate career has been an example of docility, rather than to the man who has shown a decided leaning toward originality.

Strike One Match! End Your Heating Cares All Winter!

Think of yourself last Winter—of how, when the cool bite of Autumn air chilled the house, it was the unwelcome signal that now your heating cares had begun—that, day after day, during long months, you must have the daily cares, or supervision, of firing the boiler, or of raking out the ashes; the anxiety, on coldest days, as to whether the pipes might burst. And then picture the care-free comfort of a in your home. Light it in the Fall, turn it out in the Spring. That's all. No coal to handle, no ashes—no dust sifting through the home, soiling your valuable things. You can spend the entire day and evening away from home, knowing that the Automatic "HOT WAVE" will care for your heating better than you can do it with any other apparatus when you're at home. This remarkable modern method of heating is easily adopted—it is simply connected to your steam, hot water or vapor-heating system. Any temperature maintained, day or night. Fully guaranteed. Send for booklet, or visit our daily demonstration. No obligations.

"HOT WAVE" Automatic Gas-Fired Boiler
