James Oliver Curwood had a private showing of "Flower of the North" at his home in Owosso, Michigan, on November 27th, 1921, and after seeing this picture Mr. Curwood sent the following telegram to Mr. Albert E. Smith, President of the Vitagraph Company:

"As the author of the novel FLOWER OF THE NORTH I cannot fully express my appreciation of your picturization of the book. It is one of my favorite books of the big North and I am delighted with the mastery way that Director David Smith has put it on the screen. Not only has he kept my story in every detail, but he has added to it a craftsmanship that makes of it one of the best pictures I have ever seen. I am accused of being an ultra-critic of the picturization of my own stories, but in this instance I cannot find words which can too fully express my satisfaction of the splendid piece of work you have turned out with FLOWER OF THE NORTH. Pauline Starke is exquisite. Henry Walthall has done his best acting. The entire cast fits in like a cross-section of the Northland itself. The real romance of the novel and I tender you our thanks."
