The World's Greatest Manifestation of Good Will Is Going On Right Now

Years and Years Ago Some of Us Liked to Read the Stories of "H. H."

She lived in Colorado with the mountains she loved so dearly, and there she chose her final resting place. Possibly it was her notion that partly suggested this idea of a

"Bill of Fare for Christmas"

The hotels, restaurants and cafes publish their bills of fare.

How does this look to you

For a Christmas Dinner?

Whoever gives this dinner must think ahead and be in the spirit of it and be ready to serve it hot. Be sure to avoid a funeral look and don't mention troubles of the past before you sit down.

First Course—Cheerfulness.

Second Course—Gladness. (Remember it is the birthday of the Babe over whose cradle the angels sang.)

Entrees—Love mixed with smiles.

Third Course—Old-fashioned hospitality in full cups of real kindness, of gracious speech and manners.

Fourth Course—Good humor served with apples of gold and bonbons of gratefulness and mirth.

Avoid stale bread or oldish cakes.

You will be sure of a benediction when your guests say good night.

The Finest Beaver Fur Is on These Women's New Coats

There is no stint in the quantity either. Every coat has a large shawl collar of beaver which reaches to the waistline and also deep cuffs of the fur. In one model there is even a hanging panel of beaver at each side.

The coats themselves are of lovely silk-and-wool duvetyne and the deepest, softest bolivia. One of the new features is the cape sleeves with an inner sleeve narrowing to a fur cuff. The skirts of these coats are very full and are trimmed in one instance with loops of the material.

In all the three styles there are both brown and blue, both of which colors are lovely with beaver. The prices are $250, $325 and $375.
