

MAYOR HARMLESS, SAYS SENATOR VARE

Tells Guests at Watson Dinner Moore Is Just "Fresh in Everything"

KNOCK FOR "HIGHBROWS"

"The Mayor is fresh but harmless," is Senator Edwin H. Vare's latest opinion about the City Executive, expressed last night at a testimonial dinner to Thomas E. Watson, City Treasurer-elect, given by citizens of the Twenty-second Ward, where he is a Republican leader, in Masonic Hall, 5427 Germantown avenue.

"I don't mean only fresh as a Mayor," the Senator explained, "but fresh in everything."

"The highbrows know nothing about politics and they cannot run this town," said Senator Vare. "The last election shows that. And the newspapers can't control Philadelphia as they do other cities."

Before Senator Vare began discussing "indignities" which had been done to him in addition to praise for the guest of honor, the City Treasurer-elect, who is also chairman of the Republican City Committee and of the Twenty-second Ward, was lauded for his political leadership by an array of speakers, including President Judge J. Willis Martin, of Common Pleas Court No. 3. Among others who spoke were Frederick J. Shoyer, City Treasurer; Representative George P. Darrow, Colonel Sheldon Potter, Councilman Charles H. Hall and Richard Weglein, president of Council.

At a testimonial dinner to Magistrate Carl F. Baker in the Majestic Hotel last night, Mayor Edward L. Hader, of Atlantic City; Arthur E. Nichols, also of Atlantic City; George G. Meade and Charles H. Grakelov were speakers. Louis N. Goldsmith was toastmaster. About five hundred attended.

SEEK TO BAN YELLOW CABS

Company Claims Sole Right to Have Taxis That Color

The Yellow Cab Company has asked for a preliminary injunction to restrain other taxi operators from using cabs painted yellow.

A bill in equity filed in Common Pleas Court No. 3 alleges that imitators of the yellow taxicabs are guilty of unfair trade competition, are overcharging and giving inferior service to the detriment of the Yellow Cab Company, which claims exclusive right to that color scheme.

Those specifically named in the complaint are Charles M. Steinmetz, Robert A. Smith, Harry Yeover, J. A. Kessler and Albert Ehrlich. The complaint states that thirty taxicabs are now being operated in imitation of the Yellow Cab Company's machines.

"QUARTER FLOP" TOO MUCH

Unemployed Can't Stand Lodging Boost of Ten Cents

Twenty-five cents is more than most of the unemployed in the vicinity of North and Locust streets can afford to pay for a night's lodging, it appears.

When the Inasmuch Mission at 1011 Locust street boosted its rates from fifteen cents to twenty-five yesterday afternoon a dozen men found themselves without a lodging place for the night. They were arrested, charged with loitering.

Magistrate O'Brien was told most of the men were known to be steady workers, but were the victims of the present hard times. He released all but those with police records.

Must "Make Allowances" for Vare, Mayor's Retort

"Allowances should be made for the feelings of the 'biggest street-cleaning contractor in the world,' who although still a political boss, will be pushed out of the street-cleaning and ashes removal business entirely by January 1. I have no ill feeling against the Senator."

This was Mayor Moore's comment today on an attack made on him last night by Senator Vare.

"The Mayor is fresh but harmless," was the Vare comment.

WRITES FOR FATHER CROWLEY

Hundreds Attend Services for St. Teresa's Veteran Rector

Hundreds of persons today attended at the funeral of the Rev. John Crowley, rector of St. Teresa's Catholic Church, Broad and Catharine streets.

Cardinal Dougherty presided and the celebrant of the mass, which started at 10 o'clock, was the Rev. John F. Graham, of the Church of Our Lady of Victory, a classmate of Father Crowley. The Rev. Francis A. Brady was deacon and the Rev. Francis P. McGinn was the sub-deacon.

The master of ceremonies was the Rev. A. Cassidy and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Dennis Broughal. There was singing by the priests' choir, led by the Rev. William B. Kane.

Interment was made in Holy Cross cemetery.

Father Crowley, who was sixty-two years old, had been rector of St. Teresa's Church for twenty-five years. He died last Friday after an illness of two years.

TWO ARE HELD IN ATTACK

Men Accused of Beating and Robbing Charles Hauser, Shoemaker

Charged with attacking and attempting to rob Charles Hauser, a shoemaker, 291 South Twelfth street, yesterday afternoon, Howard Maris, 2341 South Eighth street, and John Schwab, 631 North Eleventh street, were held without bail for further hearing by Magistrate O'Brien at the Twelfth and Pine streets police station this morning.

The pair entered Hauser's shop and attacked him with an iron bar, it is charged, but Hauser fought them off until his cries were heard by neighbors, who gave the alarm. The men fled, pursued by Patrolman Hagan, who overtook them at Eighth and Locust streets.

A third man, thought to have been a lookout, escaped.

BOY HURT BY TRUCK

Injured While Playing Soccer on Summer Street

Thomas Stack, fifteen years old, 2022 Winter street, is in the Medical-Chirurgical Hospital with commotion of the brain after being run down by a delivery truck at Twenty-first and Summer streets last evening. Stack was playing "soccer" in the street with a tin can when he was struck.

Fred Link, 1482 North Corlies street, driver of the truck, was held in $500 bail today by Magistrate Grells, to await the outcome of the boy's injuries.

HAD GOOD MEMORY

Policeman Recognized Stolen Car and Its Driver as Well

When Patrolman Forney saw an automobile on the streets which had been reported stolen he recognized the driver as Joseph Gotwals, 2314 Arnold street. He swore out a warrant for Gotwals and Magistrate Price held him in $1000 bail this morning for a further hearing.

The patrolman had seen the car Saturday night, but when he arrested Gotwals yesterday he denied that he had stolen the car. The merchant belonged to J. W. Fagan, of 1671 Downton street, and was stolen at Ridge avenue and School House lane.

WHEELER HISSED IN ADDRESS HERE

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Speaks Before Contemporary Club in Bellevue

ORGIES ARE PICTURED

Perhaps the hisses which greeted some of the remarks made by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, at an address last night before the Contemporary Club in the Bellevue-Stratford, were only one phase of an evening more exciting than when Amy Lowell wept because the club members didn't like her free verse.

These hisses came at a time when he referred to a previous speaker, Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Ethical Culture Society of Chicago. Mr. Bridges related many violations of the prohibition law which he saw in various cities.

Mr. Wheeler asked for names of the violators and said he would see to it they were headed toward jail. It was faint applause, was easily heard through the Clover Room, where the meeting was held.

Although he acknowledged that he had never violated the prohibition amendment, Mr. Bridges attacked the Volstead act. Mr. Wheeler defended everything that the Anti-Saloon League had done. There was applause for each, the wet applause being more vociferous and prolonged than that from the dries. Once Mr. Wheeler was hissed, but the arid applause drowned out the sibilant sound of displeasure.

Later in the evening there was discussion from the floor. Mrs. Imogen B. Oakley spoke on Civil Service with reference to prohibition agents. Dr. W. W. Keen cited statistics to show beneficent effects of prohibition. Harrison S. Morris said that if the majority had voted for prohibition he didn't know when the voting took place.

A party of "several hundred prominent business men" in Chicago was described by Mr. Bridges. He said that the large majority of those in that party were drunk.

Prof. F. A. Parsons Addresses Jewish Council

Prof. Frank Alva Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, addressed the Philadelphia Section, Council of Jewish Women on "Art in Its Relation to Religious Expressions," today at the Mercantile Club, Broad street above Master.

Miss Carrie Teller Kahn and Miss Jeanette Miriam Goldberg read reports of the State conference of the Council of Jewish Women and of the State Federation of Women.

READING WILL BUY 100 STEEL COACHES

Will Reduce Number of Wooden Cars on Road to 240, President Dice Says

TO FIX WRECK INQUEST

The Philadelphia and Reading Railway will buy 100 steel cars to replace wooden coaches, according to Agnew T. Dice, president of the road. The purchase of these cars will greatly reduce the hazard of wrecks such as occurred on the Newtown branch last week.

The Philadelphia and Reading now has 205 steel cars in use, ninety wooden cars with steel underframe, and 240 all-wooden cars. The filling of the contemplated order will reduce the number of wooden cars to 240. Officials of the road have announced the policy of placing all-steel equipment on its lines.

C. H. Ewing vice president in charge of operations and maintenance, said that the Reading has more steel coaches in proportion to mileage than any other road in the United States. It was stated, also, that the Reading is well toward the top in the proportion of its single-track mileage to its double-track mileage.

Coroner William Neville and District Attorney Remington, of Montgomery County, today will set the date for the inquest to be held in Norristown next week. Unless something untoward happens, the inquest will be set for next Tuesday. Those officials said, Mr. Remington will be present personally at the inquest.

The inquest has been delayed so that some witnesses who are injured may be able to appear and testify.

TWO WOMEN INJURED

Fall into Excavation in Kensington Avenue Sidewalk

Two women were injured yesterday at different times by falling into the same excavation in the sidewalk on Kensington avenue near Cumberland street, where the G. E. Engineering Company, of New York, is laying electric conduits.

Mrs. Harriet Harrison, sixty-nine years old, of 2007 East Letterly street, shortly after 1 P. M., was walking over the temporary boardwalk when one of the planks broke, causing her to fall into the hole, which is about eight feet deep. She was lifted out of the hole with considerable difficulty, and taken to the Episcopal Hospital. Her condition is serious.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Miss Eliza both Fredericks, of 848 East Hlton street, was walking over the same place when a second board, at another point, gave way and caused her to fall into the excavation and fracture her hip. She also was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Truck Hits Auto at Front Street and Lehigh Avenue

Two men were injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a motortruck last night at Front street and Lehigh avenue. The car and the truck were badly damaged. The automobile was going west and the truck was speeding in the opposite direction.

The men injured are Owen Flynn, 1021 West Columbia avenue, and Owen Scowney, 1011 Columbia avenue. Each received severe cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Episcopal Hospital. The truck was driven by Otto Falkenhagen, 1525 Erie avenue. He was uninjured.

BURY BARONESS HERE

Beatrice von Wullerstorff Died in Rome September 20

Baroness Beatrice Bailey von Wullerstorff, daughter of Major Charles Weaver Bailey, 2100 DeLancey street, and who died in Rome, September 20, will be buried quietly from the home of her father today.

Major Bailey is the treasurer of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, jewelers, 229 Market street.

WHEELER HISSED IN ADDRESS HERE

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Speaks Before Contemporary Club in Bellevue

ORGIES ARE PICTURED

Perhaps the hisses which greeted some of the remarks made by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, at an address last night before the Contemporary Club in the Bellevue-Stratford, were only one phase of an evening more exciting than when Amy Lowell wept because the club members didn't like her free verse.

These hisses came at a time when he referred to a previous speaker, Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Ethical Culture Society of Chicago. Mr. Bridges related many violations of the prohibition law which he saw in various cities.

Mr. Wheeler asked for names of the violators and said he would see to it they were headed toward jail. It was faint applause, was easily heard through the Clover Room, where the meeting was held.

Although he acknowledged that he had never violated the prohibition amendment, Mr. Bridges attacked the Volstead act. Mr. Wheeler defended everything that the Anti-Saloon League had done. There was applause for each, the wet applause being more vociferous and prolonged than that from the dries. Once Mr. Wheeler was hissed, but the arid applause drowned out the sibilant sound of displeasure.

Later in the evening there was discussion from the floor. Mrs. Imogen B. Oakley spoke on Civil Service with reference to prohibition agents. Dr. W. W. Keen cited statistics to show beneficent effects of prohibition. Harrison S. Morris said that if the majority had voted for prohibition he didn't know when the voting took place.

A party of "several hundred prominent business men" in Chicago was described by Mr. Bridges. He said that the large majority of those in that party were drunk.

Prof. F. A. Parsons Addresses Jewish Council

Prof. Frank Alva Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, addressed the Philadelphia Section, Council of Jewish Women on "Art in Its Relation to Religious Expressions," today at the Mercantile Club, Broad street above Master.

Miss Carrie Teller Kahn and Miss Jeanette Miriam Goldberg read reports of the State conference of the Council of Jewish Women and of the State Federation of Women.

TWO WOMEN INJURED

Fall into Excavation in Kensington Avenue Sidewalk

Two women were injured yesterday at different times by falling into the same excavation in the sidewalk on Kensington avenue near Cumberland street, where the G. E. Engineering Company, of New York, is laying electric conduits.

Mrs. Harriet Harrison, sixty-nine years old, of 2007 East Letterly street, shortly after 1 P. M., was walking over the temporary boardwalk when one of the planks broke, causing her to fall into the hole, which is about eight feet deep. She was lifted out of the hole with considerable difficulty, and taken to the Episcopal Hospital. Her condition is serious.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Miss Eliza both Fredericks, of 848 East Hlton street, was walking over the same place when a second board, at another point, gave way and caused her to fall into the excavation and fracture her hip. She also was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Truck Hits Auto at Front Street and Lehigh Avenue

Two men were injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a motortruck last night at Front street and Lehigh avenue. The car and the truck were badly damaged. The automobile was going west and the truck was speeding in the opposite direction.

The men injured are Owen Flynn, 1021 West Columbia avenue, and Owen Scowney, 1011 Columbia avenue. Each received severe cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Episcopal Hospital. The truck was driven by Otto Falkenhagen, 1525 Erie avenue. He was uninjured.

BURY BARONESS HERE

Beatrice von Wullerstorff Died in Rome September 20

Baroness Beatrice Bailey von Wullerstorff, daughter of Major Charles Weaver Bailey, 2100 DeLancey street, and who died in Rome, September 20, will be buried quietly from the home of her father today.

Major Bailey is the treasurer of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, jewelers, 229 Market street.

WHEELER HISSED IN ADDRESS HERE

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Speaks Before Contemporary Club in Bellevue

ORGIES ARE PICTURED

Perhaps the hisses which greeted some of the remarks made by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, at an address last night before the Contemporary Club in the Bellevue-Stratford, were only one phase of an evening more exciting than when Amy Lowell wept because the club members didn't like her free verse.

These hisses came at a time when he referred to a previous speaker, Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Ethical Culture Society of Chicago. Mr. Bridges related many violations of the prohibition law which he saw in various cities.

Mr. Wheeler asked for names of the violators and said he would see to it they were headed toward jail. It was faint applause, was easily heard through the Clover Room, where the meeting was held.

Although he acknowledged that he had never violated the prohibition amendment, Mr. Bridges attacked the Volstead act. Mr. Wheeler defended everything that the Anti-Saloon League had done. There was applause for each, the wet applause being more vociferous and prolonged than that from the dries. Once Mr. Wheeler was hissed, but the arid applause drowned out the sibilant sound of displeasure.

Later in the evening there was discussion from the floor. Mrs. Imogen B. Oakley spoke on Civil Service with reference to prohibition agents. Dr. W. W. Keen cited statistics to show beneficent effects of prohibition. Harrison S. Morris said that if the majority had voted for prohibition he didn't know when the voting took place.

A party of "several hundred prominent business men" in Chicago was described by Mr. Bridges. He said that the large majority of those in that party were drunk.

Prof. F. A. Parsons Addresses Jewish Council

Prof. Frank Alva Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, addressed the Philadelphia Section, Council of Jewish Women on "Art in Its Relation to Religious Expressions," today at the Mercantile Club, Broad street above Master.

Miss Carrie Teller Kahn and Miss Jeanette Miriam Goldberg read reports of the State conference of the Council of Jewish Women and of the State Federation of Women.

TWO WOMEN INJURED

Fall into Excavation in Kensington Avenue Sidewalk

Two women were injured yesterday at different times by falling into the same excavation in the sidewalk on Kensington avenue near Cumberland street, where the G. E. Engineering Company, of New York, is laying electric conduits.

Mrs. Harriet Harrison, sixty-nine years old, of 2007 East Letterly street, shortly after 1 P. M., was walking over the temporary boardwalk when one of the planks broke, causing her to fall into the hole, which is about eight feet deep. She was lifted out of the hole with considerable difficulty, and taken to the Episcopal Hospital. Her condition is serious.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Miss Eliza both Fredericks, of 848 East Hlton street, was walking over the same place when a second board, at another point, gave way and caused her to fall into the excavation and fracture her hip. She also was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Truck Hits Auto at Front Street and Lehigh Avenue

Two men were injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a motortruck last night at Front street and Lehigh avenue. The car and the truck were badly damaged. The automobile was going west and the truck was speeding in the opposite direction.

The men injured are Owen Flynn, 1021 West Columbia avenue, and Owen Scowney, 1011 Columbia avenue. Each received severe cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Episcopal Hospital. The truck was driven by Otto Falkenhagen, 1525 Erie avenue. He was uninjured.

BURY BARONESS HERE

Beatrice von Wullerstorff Died in Rome September 20

Baroness Beatrice Bailey von Wullerstorff, daughter of Major Charles Weaver Bailey, 2100 DeLancey street, and who died in Rome, September 20, will be buried quietly from the home of her father today.

Major Bailey is the treasurer of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, jewelers, 229 Market street.

WHEELER HISSED IN ADDRESS HERE

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Speaks Before Contemporary Club in Bellevue

ORGIES ARE PICTURED

Perhaps the hisses which greeted some of the remarks made by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, at an address last night before the Contemporary Club in the Bellevue-Stratford, were only one phase of an evening more exciting than when Amy Lowell wept because the club members didn't like her free verse.

These hisses came at a time when he referred to a previous speaker, Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Ethical Culture Society of Chicago. Mr. Bridges related many violations of the prohibition law which he saw in various cities.

Mr. Wheeler asked for names of the violators and said he would see to it they were headed toward jail. It was faint applause, was easily heard through the Clover Room, where the meeting was held.

Although he acknowledged that he had never violated the prohibition amendment, Mr. Bridges attacked the Volstead act. Mr. Wheeler defended everything that the Anti-Saloon League had done. There was applause for each, the wet applause being more vociferous and prolonged than that from the dries. Once Mr. Wheeler was hissed, but the arid applause drowned out the sibilant sound of displeasure.

Later in the evening there was discussion from the floor. Mrs. Imogen B. Oakley spoke on Civil Service with reference to prohibition agents. Dr. W. W. Keen cited statistics to show beneficent effects of prohibition. Harrison S. Morris said that if the majority had voted for prohibition he didn't know when the voting took place.

A party of "several hundred prominent business men" in Chicago was described by Mr. Bridges. He said that the large majority of those in that party were drunk.

Prof. F. A. Parsons Addresses Jewish Council

Prof. Frank Alva Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, addressed the Philadelphia Section, Council of Jewish Women on "Art in Its Relation to Religious Expressions," today at the Mercantile Club, Broad street above Master.

Miss Carrie Teller Kahn and Miss Jeanette Miriam Goldberg read reports of the State conference of the Council of Jewish Women and of the State Federation of Women.

TWO WOMEN INJURED

Fall into Excavation in Kensington Avenue Sidewalk

Two women were injured yesterday at different times by falling into the same excavation in the sidewalk on Kensington avenue near Cumberland street, where the G. E. Engineering Company, of New York, is laying electric conduits.

Mrs. Harriet Harrison, sixty-nine years old, of 2007 East Letterly street, shortly after 1 P. M., was walking over the temporary boardwalk when one of the planks broke, causing her to fall into the hole, which is about eight feet deep. She was lifted out of the hole with considerable difficulty, and taken to the Episcopal Hospital. Her condition is serious.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Miss Eliza both Fredericks, of 848 East Hlton street, was walking over the same place when a second board, at another point, gave way and caused her to fall into the excavation and fracture her hip. She also was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Truck Hits Auto at Front Street and Lehigh Avenue

Two men were injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a motortruck last night at Front street and Lehigh avenue. The car and the truck were badly damaged. The automobile was going west and the truck was speeding in the opposite direction.

The men injured are Owen Flynn, 1021 West Columbia avenue, and Owen Scowney, 1011 Columbia avenue. Each received severe cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Episcopal Hospital. The truck was driven by Otto Falkenhagen, 1525 Erie avenue. He was uninjured.

BURY BARONESS HERE

Beatrice von Wullerstorff Died in Rome September 20

Baroness Beatrice Bailey von Wullerstorff, daughter of Major Charles Weaver Bailey, 2100 DeLancey street, and who died in Rome, September 20, will be buried quietly from the home of her father today.

Major Bailey is the treasurer of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, jewelers, 229 Market street.

WHEELER HISSED IN ADDRESS HERE

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Speaks Before Contemporary Club in Bellevue

ORGIES ARE PICTURED

Perhaps the hisses which greeted some of the remarks made by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, at an address last night before the Contemporary Club in the Bellevue-Stratford, were only one phase of an evening more exciting than when Amy Lowell wept because the club members didn't like her free verse.

These hisses came at a time when he referred to a previous speaker, Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Ethical Culture Society of Chicago. Mr. Bridges related many violations of the prohibition law which he saw in various cities.

Mr. Wheeler asked for names of the violators and said he would see to it they were headed toward jail. It was faint applause, was easily heard through the Clover Room, where the meeting was held.

Although he acknowledged that he had never violated the prohibition amendment, Mr. Bridges attacked the Volstead act. Mr. Wheeler defended everything that the Anti-Saloon League had done. There was applause for each, the wet applause being more vociferous and prolonged than that from the dries. Once Mr. Wheeler was hissed, but the arid applause drowned out the sibilant sound of displeasure.

Later in the evening there was discussion from the floor. Mrs. Imogen B. Oakley spoke on Civil Service with reference to prohibition agents. Dr. W. W. Keen cited statistics to show beneficent effects of prohibition. Harrison S. Morris said that if the majority had voted for prohibition he didn't know when the voting took place.

A party of "several hundred prominent business men" in Chicago was described by Mr. Bridges. He said that the large majority of those in that party were drunk.

Prof. F. A. Parsons Addresses Jewish Council

Prof. Frank Alva Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, addressed the Philadelphia Section, Council of Jewish Women on "Art in Its Relation to Religious Expressions," today at the Mercantile Club, Broad street above Master.

Miss Carrie Teller Kahn and Miss Jeanette Miriam Goldberg read reports of the State conference of the Council of Jewish Women and of the State Federation of Women.

TWO WOMEN INJURED

Fall into Excavation in Kensington Avenue Sidewalk

Two women were injured yesterday at different times by falling into the same excavation in the sidewalk on Kensington avenue near Cumberland street, where the G. E. Engineering Company, of New York, is laying electric conduits.

Mrs. Harriet Harrison, sixty-nine years old, of 2007 East Letterly street, shortly after 1 P. M., was walking over the temporary boardwalk when one of the planks broke, causing her to fall into the hole, which is about eight feet deep. She was lifted out of the hole with considerable difficulty, and taken to the Episcopal Hospital. Her condition is serious.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Miss Eliza both Fredericks, of 848 East Hlton street, was walking over the same place when a second board, at another point, gave way and caused her to fall into the excavation and fracture her hip. She also was taken to the Episcopal Hospital.

TWO HURT IN CRASH

Truck Hits Auto at Front Street and Lehigh Avenue

Two men were injured when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a motortruck last night at Front street and Lehigh avenue. The car and the truck were badly damaged. The automobile was going west and the truck was speeding in the opposite direction.

The men injured are Owen Flynn, 1021 West Columbia avenue, and Owen Scowney, 1011 Columbia avenue. Each received severe cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Episcopal Hospital. The truck was driven by Otto Falkenhagen, 1525 Erie avenue. He was uninjured.

BURY BARONESS HERE

Beatrice von Wullerstorff Died in Rome September 20

Baroness Beatrice Bailey von Wullerstorff, daughter of Major Charles Weaver Bailey, 2100 DeLancey street, and who died in Rome, September 20, will be buried quietly from the home of her father today.

Major Bailey is the treasurer of Bailey, Banks & Biddle, jewelers, 229 Market street.

Whet Your Appetite

for our Super-Values by looking around at other stores. Our idea is not only to sell but to under-sell.

SUPER-VALUES

$28 $33 $38 & $43

OVERCOATS—A wonderfully complete collection of handsome, warmth-without-weight, plaid-back materials. Ulsters, Raglans, Conservatives, Box Backs and many novelty models. Without exception all are sold at Super-Value prices.

SUITS—Worsteds, chevots, cassimeres—plaids, over-plaids, pencil stripes, oxford mixtures, blues, browns, herringbones and what all. Super-Values, $28, $33, $38 and $43.

JUNIOR SUITS—Just in—many light colored fancy chevots with the sort of style touches that tickle the young fellow $24 to $32.

PATRICK MACKINAW—For Juniors—for school, skating, sledding and all outdoor sports. Patrick-Duluth quality. $15 and $18.

PERRY & CO.

16th and Chestnut

SUPER-VALUES

in Clothes for Men

The Gift of Gifts

A camera portrait of yourself made with the latest art lighting effects—as full of tone and feeling as though from the brush of a master. A Gutekunst Portrait by the "photographers of celebrities" since 1852.

Sittings may be had either in our studio or at your home. Portraits taken this week will be finished in time for Christmas.

Gutekunst

1722 Chestnut St., Phila.

One of Hoskins' Desks

WILL MAKE A Practical Gift

for the business friend, man or woman, we suggest a desk, which you will find here in a great variety of sizes and finishes. We also offer Sectional Bookcases; Electric Lamps, both for home and office; Card Tables, Bedside Tables, "Ever-Sharp" Pencils, Brief Cases and other useful articles which are always acceptable and in good taste.

Visit Our Leather Goods Department for Reasonably Priced Gifts

Hoskins

904-906 Chestnut Street

The GIFT SHOP of CHESTNUT STREET

Meet Dave Henderson

a boy of the streets, who grows up to be a crook and serves five years in prison for the theft of $100,000. This gripping story:

"FROM NOW ON"

by Frank L. Packard, the author of "The Miracle Man," begins Saturday, December 12, in the

EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER

HUDSON 12-0

NEEL-CADILLAC CO.

525 Market St., Camden, N. J.

Camden 2084

BRASS

MR. NORRIS'S "big" novel is rolling up a "big" holiday sale. Put it on your list. Any bookshop can supply it. $2.00

E. P. Dutton & Co., 681 5th Ave., N. Y.

DREKA

FINE STATIONERS

Just from Paris:

BEAUTIFUL SILK HAND BAGS and PORTEMONNAIES

Colors suitable for—Morning, Afternoon and Evening

From $10 to $75

1121 Chestnut Street

MOON Motor Cars

The car of the ten proven units

MACKIN MOTORS, INC.

834 N. Broad St. Tel. - Poplar 1425

Enthusiastic Telephone—"Hello Jane! I just bought a Christmas present for the girls! ... No, I don't mind Christmas shopping like this. The Moon people took me out for a demonstration this morning. I was sold as soon as I took a look at that car—but I thought a ride would do me good.

"It's a La Petite Sedan, that new Moon model. ... How much? $2785—and you ought to see what you get for it. It's a wonder.

"We may as well use it until they get home from college. ... Sure! I'll get it tomorrow. ... Good bye."

As to price: OPEN CARS - $1785 CLOSED CARS - $2785 F. O. B. Factory

Candlesticks

Just received, a fine selection of Sheffield Silver Candlesticks in a large range of sizes.

Price $5.00 to $20.00 a pair

Exceptional value at these prices.

The Rosenbach Galleries

1320 Walnut Street

$45.00 Men's Suits

That are unmatched elsewhere at the price

Unfinished worsteds, silk mixtures, chevots and tweeds—all sizes. Reed's Standard of Tailoring. A concrete illustration of real values in real clothes.

JACOB REED'S SONS

1424-1426 Chestnut Street

Two Unusually Attractive Cynwyd Homes

Highland Ave. East of Bryn Mawr

Price, $14,750, With Garage

Both homes open today

JOHN H. McCLATCHY

MacDonald & Campbell

The Best Christmas Gifts for Men

Xmas takes on a new interest and gladness, when a man receives a gift marked "MacDonald & Campbell"—All men know what that name stands for in men's goods.

Silver Belt Buckles,	$2.00 to $5.00	Silk Neckwear,	75c to $4.00
Dress Stud & Button Sets,	$4.50 to $11.00	Silk Shirts,	$7.50 to $11.00
Knitted Silk Mufflers,	$5.00 to $16.50	Madras & Fiber Shirts,	$2.00 to $6.00
Umbrellas,	$2.00 to $15.00	Silk Half Hose,	75c to $5.00
Gloves,	$3.00 to $6.00	Bath Robes,	$6.00 to $15.00
Lined Gloves,	$4.00 to $10.50	Dress Waistcoats,	$7.50 to $15.00

1334-1336 Chestnut Street

GLASS

Natural light in the school room can be uniformly distributed to the desk of every child. Before the specifications for glass for your new school building are decided upon, get all the facts about Pressed Lens Glass. Full information and sample on request.

Founded 1884

NILES TURNER GLASS COMPANY

30th and Walnut PHILADELPHIA