

SULLIVAN ADDED TO PENN'S HERO LIST

Receives Coveted Insignia in Football, Baseball and Basketball—Council Meets Today

"DANNY" SULLIVAN

PENN has the name of another athlete to place on the parchment of greats that wore the Red and Blue. George ("Danny") Sullivan, of Cortland, N. Y., is the latest addition to the list. He contains the famous all-around stars of the University in athletics.

This afternoon the Athletic Council will pass on the recommendation of the Football Committee that Sullivan be awarded his varsity "P" for football. This will mean that Sullivan will get his third letter in as many major sports.

Last year as a member of the baseball and basketball teams Sullivan received letters and with the gridiron insignia he deserves the right to rank with such great athletes as Howard Berg, Danny McNichol, Mike Dorizas and others of bygone days who reaped glory for Pennsylvania.

Few athletes in the long history of the University of Pennsylvania have won four letters in as many sports and not many more have been honored with three letters. Sullivan, who has won three letters, is one of the very few to hold the unique distinction of being president in four sports.

Sullivan, the latest addition to the family of greats, came to the University in the fall of 1919 and tried out for the freshman baseball and basketball teams, which he made. The following year, although he had never played the gridiron sport, Sullivan was asked to report for the team and try for a wing post. He gained experience rapidly, although he saw action in several games, did not receive his letter.

On Basketball Team After the gridiron season closed Sullivan reported for basketball, and made a great fight for a place on the varsity five, which won the intercollegiate championship. He was selected as the first guard substitute, and as such played in a number of games, sufficient to earn him his letter. In baseball, in which he excels, Sullivan played third base and second base posts, and distinguished himself in both. A lane back kept him inactive a great part of last spring, but when he did play he proved the contention of Dr. Walter Carles, the coach, that he had more natural ability than is usual among college players.

Sullivan refuses to admit the fact, but it is stated that last spring he received several flattering offers from big league teams and from high-class minor league aggregations to report for a try-out at the close of the season. A desire to continue his schooling forced him to turn a deaf ear to all the proposals.

May Be Regular in 1922 Next fall, with Grave graduated, Sullivan expects to win the post as a regular pairing with Carl Ertresvaag. At present Sullivan is playing a substitute guard post on the varsity quintet. In the spring he will again report for baseball, and before he graduates next June should earn the distinction of having twice being awarded letters in three major sports.

According to acting graduate manager of athletics, Bushnell, the council on athletics this afternoon will not act on the question of Heisman's leaving the University despite reports that the alumni and others have been demanding the scalp of the coach of the past two seasons.

"So far as the Council on Athletics is concerned," said Bushnell this morning, "Mr. Heisman has one more year to his contract. Beyond remarking that he received a proposition from the University of Cincinnati, he has neither said nor done anything to suggest that he contemplates any change in his relations with Pennsylvania.

It is known that several prominent graduates of the University connected officially with the Alumni Association are demanding that Heisman be given his release. No mention has been made of any other coach, but they are said to be dissatisfied with the showing of Penn during the last two seasons and are demanding that a coach be secured who can turn out a winning team.

No member of the Athletic Council can speak for publication, but it is rumored that several are of an open mind on the Heisman question, and on any request comes from the former Georgia Tech tutor that he be relieved of his contract it will be granted speedily.

Heisman to Return Today Heisman was in Pittsburgh last night speaking at an alumni gathering and is expected to arrive here some time this afternoon in time for the meeting of the Athletic Council. What he will have to say will probably clear up the situation.

He has stated more than once that he is not a contract-breaker and that so far as he is concerned he will be at the University next fall. Heisman has stated that he is not leaving to report for the awakening of the student interest in the sport and looks forward to a better team next fall.

This afternoon's meeting is one of the most important since Folswell was given his release. The schedule, so much a matter of doubt, will probably be announced, while the question of the coaching staff will probably be talked over. The baseball schedule, which is expected to include a Western trip, will also probably be issued for publication.

Paul Thompson was yesterday elected president of the Athletic Association at the first meeting of the new Board of Directors. He succeeds H. Lausat Geyelin, who died on July 4 last. Thomas Reuth was elected vice president. Sydney Thayer was re-elected secretary and E. R. Bushnell treasurer. J. M. Shedy and George Wagner were elected to be the student members of the board, succeeding Paul Patton and James A. Macintosh. H. H. Hoyde, editor of the Pennsylvanian, is the third student member.

RUMORED WARNER MAY COACH PENN

Pitt Tutor Has Had Conference With Red and Blue Football Officials

NOW TAKING VACATION

Pittsburgh, Dec. 15.—In the wake of the rumor that Jock Sutherland, former Pitt guard, would be head coach of the Panthers next season comes the report that Glenn Warner may succeed John W. Heisman as head tutor of football at the University of Pennsylvania.

There can be no doubt concerning the truth of the talk that there is a movement on foot at Pittsburgh to oust Warner. It was started during the gridiron season after the defeat by Washington and Jefferson reverse and increased after Warner's talk at the banquet to the squad, in which he admitted that he had been lax in his training methods this season.

Warner's Friends Numerous The supporters of the anti-Warner campaign are emphatic in their assertions that the famous coach will be dropped. But the long string of triumphs that he has given Pittsburgh has not gone for naught, and Pop still has strong and influential friends.

Warner's contract still has two years to run, and no effort will be made to break it. However, if he consents to leave, it is said that he will be paid in full for the remaining seasons.

It is understood that virtually the same condition exists at the University of Pennsylvania. Alumni here have heard that there is an effort at Penn to unseat Heisman, who was here last night speaking to Red and Blue graduates.

Heisman's contract calls for one more year, but he has had an offer of $10,000 to coach the University of Cincinnati squad.

Warner-Conference It is said here that Warner has been in conference with Penn officials. Warner is spending a vacation now in New York State.

The Pitt coach is a Cornell graduate and this is one stumbling block in the path which leads toward Pennsylvania. It is traditional at the Philadelphia in situation to have the coach of the football team a member of the alumni.

An effort is being made by Penn men it is said, to have a non-Penn coach, a tutor of the Red and Blue, but whether or not this plan will go through is problematical.

One graduate here from Ben Franklin's university states that a non-Pennsylvania coach is the answer to the football situation in Philadelphia.

W. PHILA. PLAYS CENTRAL IN LEAGUE GAME TODAY

Eleven Other Contests Are on Scholastic Court Schedule West Philadelphia High is a slight favorite in the Intercollegiate Basketball League game with Central High this afternoon. The Speedboys' ability to come from behind with a whirlwind attack should give them the victory.

It is doubtful if many people will be able to witness today's game. The West Philadelphia track above the gymnasium has been condemned, and no one will be allowed to witness the game from this point of vantage. It is rumored that after today all of West Philadelphia's games will be played in the West Branch Y. M. C. A. Germantown High will meet its old rival, Frankford High, on the latter's floor, while Southern is being entertained by Northeast, Both Germantown and Southern should come through with victories.

Penn Fresh will make a trip to Reading High; Brown Prep will be entertained by St. Joseph's Prep; Palmyra High travels to Moorestown High; Radnor High will visit Catholic High; W. C. I. will be the guest of Dover, Del., High and Germantown Academy plays Temple Prep in the other games scheduled.

Harvard Building Crew Shell Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 16.—The work of making a Harvard crew has started in the university boathouse and if it proves to be shipshape it will be used in Harvard's boat race near Fall. But the rigging is in charge, and the idea of constructing the boat are those of the coaches.
