200 Women's Rich Suits Reduced—Now $50 to $85

These are the fine novelty suits of soft pile fabrics in black, brown, navy, henna, taupe and beaver, sometimes made up with severe simplicity so that the owner can wear her separate fur piece with them; sometimes furred with beaver, nearseal, mole or opossum. They are all very beautifully cut and tailored, not to say lined, and the coats include box styles and straight styles,

The savings on these suits run from $15 to $30.

Send Handkerchiefs to That Distant Friend

That is one gift that doesn't in the least mind traveling and it is one that everybody likes.

It may be anywhere from one handkerchief tucked in a Christmas letter up to a dozen or more in a box, but, of course, they should be the prettiest handkerchiefs that one can afford. Never were women quite o fasticious about the quality of the linen or the daintiness of the gift opportunity.

Things Leads to Wanamaker Furniture

There is an evolution of thought as applied to the choosing of gifts, and its tendency is towards an ideal. All this is quite natural and it is interesting to observe.

Perhaps the ideal gift for a home has not been and never will be discovered, especially as individual requirements enter so largely into the matter. But there is no mistaking the general trend to give tangible and lasting things, and the quest for these seems to lead towards Wanamaker furniture. It is not our business to dictate to our customers what they should select, but to provide for them the best selection of what As regards furniture, we are glad to let our selections speak for us, and this applies to all our furniture, from the littlest novelty up to the great staple things that are the mainstay of the home equipment. For a fine old Colonial four-poster bed with its Georgian carving in feather or flambeau is one of those things likely to last down through many, many Christmases, and, of course, the same is true of the wonderful settees, and highboys, and dignified and luxurious chairs. We might well call these heart-gifts, because of the kind of people who are giving them and the kind of people they are There are other gifts of the same family, as everybody knows, and they are numbered by thousands.
