

SKATING ON ASBURY LAKE, OAK LANE. The cold weather added to the good work of Santa Claus. Henry White fed his dog candy, then the dog pulled him about the ice. William H. Leeds is jumping over Burton Will.

DIDN'T SAY IT WITH FLOWERS. An American "doughboy" of occupation forces on Rhine, bidding good-bye to German girl as he starts for United States.

CAN YOU RECALL THIS BIT OF OLD PHILADELPHIA?

WHO REMEMBERS THE TOP GALLANT HOTEL? It was located on the northeast corner of Broad street and Fairmount avenue. Jacob Schaffhauser was its owner and proprietor. It stood across the street from the Old Lincoln Market and was a famous rendezvous for farmers. The building was razed in 1889 for the erection of "The Park Theatre," a building now used by the Salvation Army. William Schaffhauser, of Thirty-first and Thompson streets, sent the photograph for our use. Have you a photograph of old Philadelphia? Send it to the Evening Public Ledger.

DOCTORS AND NURSES SPREAD CHEER TO CHILDREN PATIENTS. John Doyle is giving his toys the once-over on his bed, in the children's ward of the Jefferson Hospital. It's Dr. L. A. Hamilton, who took Santa's part. He's visiting Francis O'Hara.

LOTS OF TURKEY. Just a touch of the Yuletide seems when the West Philadelphia Christmas Committee served many Christmas meals.

KIDDIES ENTERTAINED. Helen and Charles Murphy among the many entertained at the Manufacturers' Club.

JUDGE PATTERSON AS SANTA. In his courtroom at City Hall, the children gathered as guests of the Prison Welfare Association. They fared well.

MADAME C. Y. CHEN, wife of Commander Chen, of Chinese Navy and member of Arms Conference C. N. P.

WINTER SPORTS IN HOLLAND. The kiddies are doing an egg-and-spoon race on skates. The object is to finish the race with the egg on the spoon and skate between the bottles without knocking any of them down.

COUNCILMAN WILLIAM W. ROPER talks on athletics for businessmen on Editorial Page.

COLONEL J. HOWELL CUMMINGS (left), president of the Stetson Company, giving Russell Patterson two shares of the company's stock as an appreciation of his services.

NEW JERSEY CHILDREN GET MANY GIFTS. Miss Anna Albrecht, of the Collingwood Unique Club, hard at work.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

DESIGNING DRESSES. Ovidio Falmerio, 437 North Simpson street, busy in the shop of M. De May & Co., 1840 North Thirteenth street. He is picking material for his next creation.

DOFFS HAT TO LAND OF PROHIBITION. "Passyfoot" Johnson arriving in New York, after a tour of Europe.

MISS ANNE STILLMAN back from school in Paris, for the Christmas holidays.

TESSIE KUCHARSKI, of New Brunswick, N. J., who was found murdered in a hotel room.

WILLIAM F. MURPHY, assistant cashier of the Bank of New America, where he has served thirty years. Mr. Murphy lives at 4647 Hazel avenue.