Duncan Says Burlington Probe Shows Illegal Dealings Exceed Estimates

RAIDS WALNUT ST. DRUGGIST

Harvey L. Dunean, acting prohibition enforcement officer here, said today he is convinced that the amount of liquor released through the Burlington Industrial Chemical Company will come to ten times his original estimate of 62,000

"I am contlying the investigation of the company." said Mr. Duncan. "S x agents from other cities are working on the case, and are not reporting at headquarters, because I do not wish their faces to become known.

"From the investigation I am con-vinced that the company did business in single and hundred-barrel lots. I know of one case where they released 100 barrels of alcohol on permits that were We found seven forged permits for deliveries in New Jersey using serial numbers that were used before in Penn-

Mr. Duncan said that fifty omnty barrels, found in a vaid on 1107-1100 Walnut street, were from the Canton Distillery, in Baltimore, and had been removed about December 9.

Frank Lord and other entercement agents raided the drug store of Raipi Schumaker, Forty-seventh and Wainu-streets, and seized 125 gallons of alcohol, twenty-five gallons of whisky and a barrel of sherry.
