

FLAMES ROUT SICK WOMAN AND CHILD

Driven From Beds in Night-clothes as Dry Goods Store Burns

Six persons, among them a sick woman and a sick child, were forced out of their home in their night clothing, at 2 o'clock this morning, by a fire which burned the store of Jake Rosenfeld, at the northeast corner of Seventh and Porter streets...

Gwan-to-Bed Stories

The Dream Pa Goldfish Dreamed

ONCE upon a time, dear children, there was a family of goldfish who were very happy because they lived in an apartment where they could see everything and everybody could see them.

So conspicuous, in fact, was every movement, that when Ma Goldfish wanted to change her dress, she would have to blind behind the moss curtain that was hanging in the bowl.

AND then all the children jumped out of bed and looked at it. "Oh, look, Ma," cried they, "What a wonderful looking castle! How did we get it?"

And then all the children jumped out of bed and looked at it. "Oh, look, Ma," cried they, "What a wonderful looking castle! How did we get it?"

PHILHARMONIC'S SECOND CONCERT GREAT SUCCESS

Several Interesting Features at Concert at the Academy

There were several unusual features at the second concert of the Philharmonic Society at the Academy last evening.

Besides these unusual features, the Board of Directors of the Philharmonic Society presented Dr. Charles S. Hirsca, treasurer and the man who has done probably more than any other one person to advance the interests of the organization.

Mr. Penia was the sensation of the concert. He played the sparkling and beautiful concerto in D major of Haydn and did it with that same effortless artistry which he has always shown in his solo work.

Mr. Penia has a lovely soprano voice of excellent range and sufficient power to fill the Academy without effort.
