Athletics' Manager; John Shibe and Washington Chief Talk Details of Trade

THREE - CORNERED

John Shibe, business manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, and Connie Mack, manager, were in conference in Washington today with Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Club, over the details of a trade which, according to current reports, may send Roger Peckinpaugh to the Nationals and bring Joe Judge and "Bing" Miller to the Mackmen.
The trade in view was said to involve the transfer of Third Baseman Joe Dugan from the Athletics to Washington and his later exchange to Boston for the shortstop and captain of last rear's champion Yankees. What additional compensation Griffith is ready to offer Boston was not included in the reports, which for baseball gossip appeared to be unusually well substan

Harry Frazee, owner of the Red Sox in New York yesterday stated that he looked for the consummation of the deal by Thursday.

HARRY "MOOSE" McCORMICK. New York National League club and a familiar figure in the national pastime. may coach the University of Pennsylvania freshman baseball candidates this

For many years Penn has selected its baseball coach every year instead of signing up a coach for a period of years. Eddie McNichol, now coach-ing the basketball team, looked after the yearlings in 1920, and last year Bob Yates, a former Phillie pitcher, looked after them.

According to reports at the Univer-sity McCormick and Yutes are among the candidates for the post this year. Ernie Cozzens has also been mentioned candidate for the position Cormick was a star player at Bucknell University before playing major league During the last baseball season he played on an independent team in this vicinity.
