

HEALTH CONTROL SEIZED BY WOMEN

National Park Board Members Announce They're Better Able Than Men

IS NEWLY FORMED GROUP

In organizing the Board of Health of National Park, N. J., the important officers were taken over by women, who announced that they felt that they are better able to handle the health affairs of National Park than men have shown themselves to be.

This is the first time women have held membership on the board, and it is their announced intention to show the men "what they can do." Three of the five members are women.

Mrs. Josephine Cleveland, elected president, succeeding Jacob Bentz, says she will give strict attention to health affairs and believes the women will make good.

Mrs. Alice Duer was made vice president. "There is no doubt," said Mrs. Duer, "that the women will do more and better work on the Board of Health than the men did last year. We intend to make many tours of National Park and see that the place is cleaned up."

The place of secretary was given to William Boers. Other members of the body are Mrs. George Lowder and Edward Binkley.

The board was appointed by the newly elected Mayor, Edward R. Allen. Dr. J. H. Underwood was named medical inspector.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Four Generations to Attend Anniversary at 5439 Haverford Avenue

Four generations will attend the golden wedding anniversary of James W. and Hannah M. Duley, tonight, at their home, 5439 Haverford avenue. There will be sixty guests.

Among the descendants who will attend the anniversary will be five children, ten grandchildren and three great-grandchildren: Bertha and William Dietrich, daughter and son-in-law, with their daughter, Edith, and her children, Edna and Dorothy, aged three years and six months, respectively; William and Anna Herr, son-in-law and daughter, with their children, William, Harold and Charles; Mark and Elsie Gransden, son-in-law and daughter, with their children, Elsie, George, Harry, Ralph and Roy; and Sarah and Cheney, son and daughter, both unmarried.

Mr. Duley is a foreman in the Baldwin Locomotive Works. He and his wife came to this city thirty years ago from West Chester, where he was for many years a butcher.

SELECT PLACE OF WORSHIP

Parish House Will Be Used by Members of Church Lost in Fire

The parish house of St. Barnabas' Protestant Episcopal Church, Third and Dauphin streets, has been selected as a place of worship by the board of trustees of the Norris Square Methodist Episcopal Church, Mascher street above Susquehanna avenue, which was destroyed by fire Saturday. The parish house will be used until a new church is built.

It also was announced today that a simultaneous offering will be taken up in almost 200 churches of the city on Sunday, February 5, to aid the rebuilding fund of the church.

MILADY'S HATS IN FIRE

Fay & Ess Store in Frankford Avenue Burned—Loss $2000

Feathers, plumes and finery for millady's hats were burned in a fire which damaged the millinery store of Fay & Ess, 4539 Frankford avenue, at midnight. The loss is $2000.

The building is a three-story structure and occupied by the millinery store only. The upper stories are vacant. The flames were fought for more than an hour before they were under control. The cause has not been determined.

28 YEARS ON POLICE FORCE

Lieutenant Seickel Receives Congratulations on Anniversary

Congratulations are showering in to-day on Lieutenant John S. Seickel, of the Third street and Fairmount avenue station, who is celebrating his twenty-eighth anniversary as a member of the Philadelphia Police Department.

Lieutenant Seickel has never been connected with any other district. He started in at the Seventh District as a patrolman and has been there ever since, gradually progressing through the ranks of house sergeant, street sergeant and finally was made lieutenant eleven years ago.

Lieutenant Seickel lives at 823 North Broad street. He was fifty-eight years old last August.

WIFE IN STEERAGE, CABIN FOR HIM; HE IS LEARNED

Sons of Moses Melamed, Latvia, Rabbinical Scholar, Scored by Immigration Officers for Permitting Extraordinary Arrangement

Moses Melamed is a "man of great learning," a teacher and a student of the Talmud's profundities. Therefore, he came to America from his native Latvia as a cabin passenger.

His wife, Rosa, who is not learned except in the duties of a wife and mother, the simple domestic arts of house and home, and as she says, "a cover in the steerage of the same ship," is the old rabbinical scholar and his wife will come to Philadelphia with him, in a passenger laundry owner, living at 2015 Moyamensing avenue.

At present they are being held at the immigration station at Ellis Island, New York, on a technicality, because the visa on their passport has run out.

Immigration officials berated Miller and his brother, Albert Alden, of Middleboro, Mass., at a special hearing yesterday arranged for the purpose of deciding on the motive for the extraordinary arrangement.

Both First Cabin Now

During the aged couple's sojourn at Ellis Island they will both be lodged in the "first cabin" quarters, by order of Immigration Commissioner Tolson of New York. The commissioner said to the sons.

"The immigration authorities are thus showing that they are more humane than you are. You have been your whole life in forcing her to come steerage and your father came first cabin."

Miller came back today.

28TH DIVISION IS HONORED BY FIRST U. S. RECOGNITION

Officers Jubilant as Word Comes of Unit's Win in Race

Officers of the Twenty-eighth Division received word today from Washington that the unit had been granted Federal recognition.

To be the first division recognized is an honor sought by National Guardsmen of virtually every State in the Union, and competition between Pennsylvania and New York was especially keen.

The Twenty-eighth Division has been recruited to about 1000 men more than its required peace-time strength, having 12,500 men.

The news created much rejoicing at division headquarters here in the armory at Thirty-second street and Lancaster street. The notice came from Major General George C. Rickards, chief of the Militia Bureau at Washington, and said recognition had been granted as of December 22.

Various sections of the Guard had been given Federal recognition prior to this, but it is now recognized as a complete division.

TWO PATROLMEN DISMISSED

Case of Third Officer Is Held Under Advisement by Board

Two policemen were dismissed and the case of another held under advisement today when the Civil Service Commission sat as a police trial board in City Hall.

Traffic Patrolman Frederick Gordon, who was accused of trying to persuade a girl to go with him to a house in Arch street and leaving his post, had his case held under advisement.

Patrolman George W. Williams, of the Germantown avenue and Leaning streets station, was dismissed for being drunk on duty. It was the fifth time he has been before the board on a similar charge.

Patrolman Thomas L. Murray, of the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station, who has been on the force twenty-three years, was also dismissed for the same offense.

IMMIGRANT DUMPING HIT

Head of P. O. S. of A. Also Decries War Debt Cancellation Talk

That the United States should not be made an international dumping ground for immigrants was the message brought to members of the Lions' Club by Gabriel H. Moyer, president of the National Patriotic Order Sons of America, in the Adelphi Hotel this afternoon.

Mr. Moyer decried the efforts of "propagandists" in Washington who would cancel the allied war debt. He said the money is needed here to pay the soldiers their bonus.

The speaker touched upon the prohibition laws, saying that many persons recently have shown a laxity toward certain statutes.

NOT CONSIDERING HOOVER

Weglein Denies Negotiations for 1926 Fair Head

Richard Weglein, president of Council, today said he had no intention at present of negotiating with Secretary of Commerce Hoover regarding the proposal made by Councilman Hall to make Mr. Hoover the director general of the Sesqui-Centennial to be held here in 1926.

Mr. Weglein declared he did not think it within the province of Council to select a director general, but favored a committee to be appointed by Mayor Moore for that purpose.

Mr. Weglein further asserted he thought it advisable to consult the leaders of the city, State and Nation before selecting a director general for the affair.

TRIED ROBBERY, GETS 2 YRS.

Man Attempted to Hold Up Park Guard on Wayne Avenue

Judge Patterson today sentenced John Moore to not less than two nor more than three years in the Eastern Penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to attempting to rob William Allan, a park guard.

Allan testified he was at Wayne avenue and Haines street, Germantown, December 28, when Moore appeared, held a revolver against his chest and demanded his valuables. Allan replied he didn't have anything when Moore threatened to begin shooting. Allan said he grabbed the gun and "drove my right to his jaw." Moore, he said, dropped to the pavement and then got up and ran. Allan chased him for two squares and arrested him. Later he found the revolver was not loaded.
